"Diabetes is fairly easy to detect," said Dr. Taubenhaus. "Complications affecting arteries, eyes and other vital organs, ill health and disability may be prevented by early detection and thorough treatment."

Dr. David Hurwitz, Chief of the Diabetes Clinics of the Department of Health and Hospitals, will be consultant for the new program.

COMMERCIALLY MINDED

From the TV schedule in the Vancouver, Wash., Columbian: "Between the commercials, segments of the movie Ask Any Girl will be shown."

And soon to rise a new New England Merchants Bank Tower and across the street a 40-story Boston Safe Deposit Company Tower.

Nor have we forgotten our elderly, as we put increased emphasis on constructing hundreds of more housing units for our valued senior citizens.

Travel just a few miles from here and you will see that our low- and middle-income groups have been remembered as tier upon tier of attractive duplex houses and handsome multiple dwelling units rise in Roxbury and the South End.

A Look Ahead

Our youngsters also can look forward to the most modern educational facilities as our newly created Public Facilities Department begins breaking ground for more schools to better serve the needs of our youth.

And don't forget an exciting new 400 million-dollar rejuvenation is under way in our downtown retail, business, entertainment, and financial district.

And speaking of downtown, it may interest you to know that in 1959 retail trade sales totaled 180 million dollars annually.

Last year's Boston department store sales receipts totaled 205 million dollars—another indication of the faith our shoppers have in finding the best in quality and quantity in our downtown stores.

And while we have been constructing buildings for business we have been building structures for your enjoyment also—new restaurants, new theaters, new hotels. A new aquarium is under way and perhaps in the not too distant future ground will be broken for an all-weather sports stadium.

Meanwhile, our Public Works Department has installed more street lights and resurfaced more streets than during any prior time in Boston's history.

Our Parks and Recreation Department also has been busy constructing tot lots, beautifying playgrounds, conducting public sailing projects, fishing derbies, directing activities at indoor and outdoor swimming pools, and staffing senior citizens centers.

The Boston Park League's Baseball program continues to be the best in the nation.

Not All Bouquets

I do not delude myself that this has been an administration which has been the recipient of only bouquets.

Along with the compliments came the inevitable complaints and criticism. Some were petty; others were not.

But this we had expected.

This we have accepted.

I am sure you are aware that medicine isn't always sweet tasting—that remaking a city is not always glamorous.

When we install new sewers, new water lines, new services it is not always done to the tune of applause.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 19.

General Order No. 20

I. JOHN F. DENEHY

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death, on May 7, 1967, of Fire Fighter John F. Denehy of Engine Company 32. Fire Fighter Denehy was appointed to the department on September 23, 1942.

The funeral was held from the John J. O'Connor Funeral Home, 740 Adams street, Dorchester, at 9 A.M., Wednesday, May 10, 1967, followed by a Requiem High Mass at St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester, at 10 A.M.

The chief of department made the customary detail to act as funeral escort, and members of Engine Company 32 were excused to attend the services.

II. RETIREMENT

The following retirement in accordance with the provisions of section 5 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, as amended, which will become effective at 8 A.M., June 1, 1967, is hereby announced:

Fire Captain Raymond W. Frazel of Engine Squad 29.

Fire Captain Frazel was appointed to the department on August 5, 1927, he was promoted to the grade of fire lieutenant on December 29, 1943, and to fire captain on February 2, 1949. He leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

III. RESIGNATION

The following resignation, which became effective at 8 A.M., Tuesday, May 16, 1967, is hereby announced:

Fire Fighter Charles F. O'Brien of Engine Company 33.

IV. TRANSFERS

Fire Fighter John J. Gaddis, from Ladder Company 19 to Ladder Company 4.

Fire Fighter William R. Carey, from Engine Company 41 to Engine Company 32.

Fire Fighter Manuel J. Gregorio, from Engine Company 28 to Engine Company 26.

V. HOUSE JOURNALS

Company commanders shall forward to Headquarters on Form 5A on or before May 24, 1967, a request for the number of House Journals which will be required for use at the patrol desks in their respective quarters for the year beginning June 1, 1967.

VI. HYDE PARK ALARM ASSIGNMENTS

Company commanders shall add the following signal numbers to running cards of the Hyde Park Alarm System in this department:

Signal 213, Kasanof's Bakery, 1246 Massachusetts avenue. (Sprinkler.) Apparatus to respond: Engine 21, Ladder 20, District 6. Nearest box is 7265.

Signal 238, M. Brown & Co., O Van Ness street. (Sprinkler.) Apparatus to respond: Engine 37, Ladder 26, District 5. Nearest box is 2342.

In General Order No. 18, dated May 5, 1967, Hyde Park Alarm System Signal 236 was listed as a sprinkler alarm as set forth in letter of Hyde Park Alarm System of May 2, 1967. This should be corrected to read "automatic fire alarm."

VII. HIGH COMMENDATION

At 1247 A.M., May 7, 1967, the department responded to Box 3335 (two alarms) for a fire in the dwelling house at 91 Rosseter street, Dorchester.

Upon arrival of Ladder Company 7 at the scene, Fire Lieutenant John J. Hurley of that company was informed that a woman was trapped on the second floor of the building. He went to the second floor with members of his company by way of the front stairs and groped his way from the front to the rear of the house where he found an unconscious woman on the floor of a bedroom. The woman's body was wedged between two beds and with great difficulty he removed the woman and brought her to the front section of the building where with the assistance of fire fighters from Ladder Company 7 she was removed to the street and placed in the police ambulance.

The rescue work was accomplished before ventilation could be executed or hose lines brought into operation and while the building was heavily charged with fire and smoke. Fire Lieutenant Hurley was taken to the Boston City Hospital where he was treated for burns to the face and ears.

Because Fire Lieutenant Hurley performed the rescue work under very difficult conditions and without any thought of his own safety, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly, and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

AMENDMENTS TO ORIGINAL AWARDS OF DAMAGES

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

That the amount of $1,850 is awarded to Edward J. and Shirley Milch for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of March 27, 1967, for the discontinuance of a portion of Ranley road, Hyde Park district, on the northwesterly side, from a point approximately 266 feet southwest of Greenfield road approximately 93 feet southwesterly.

That the amount of $270 is awarded to Robert F. and Abigail Smallcomb for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of February 11, 1966, for the widening and construction of Hawthorne street, West Roxbury district, at the southeasterly corner of Sycamore street.

HANDS OFF!

Y. A. Tittle of the New York football Giants told of a surprising thing that happened to him when he played his last game for the San Francisco Forty-Niners. The opposition on that day was the Giants, and Y. A. couldn't figure out how he was riddling the Giant defense with pass after pass. After the game he called one of the Giant linemen over and said, "What's the matter with you guys? You all getting soft?"

"Naw," grunted the burly bone-crusher. "They told us all before the game that you'd just been traded to us and not to lay a hand on you."

The United Fund Depends on You

IT'S THE VIEW POINT

At the time Sir Alec Douglas-Home became Prime Minister of Great Britain, nothing disturbed Lady Home's poise until she saw a taped newsreel of her husband.

"He looked simply appalling — all bones and hollows," she later told London reporter Celia Henderson. "I rushed upstairs to the bedroom where he was changing and asked, 'Are you all right? You look terrible downstairs.'"

—Elizabeth Clarkson Zwart in Des Moines Tribune

Tufts Honors Mayor Collins

Mayor John F. Collins was saluted as "practical visionary and realistic dreamer" in being awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at Tufts University commencement exercises on Sunday, June 4.

Praising his "arduous labors, ardent enthusiasm and artful leadership," Acting Tufts President Leonard C. Mead told the Mayor, "Tufts salutes you for making real the promise of something better for Boston."

In presenting Mayor Collins for the degree, Professor Seymour Simches outlined the Mayor's career — graduate of Suffolk University; Veteran of World War II; State Representative; State Senator; Boston City Councillor; Register of Probate for Suffolk County, and Mayor.

More than 1,200 students were awarded degrees during the ceremony at which MIT President Howard Johnson was speaker.

When millions of dollars are spent to strengthen the plant facilities at Boston City Hospital visitors cannot acclaim hidden wiring, new furniture, new paint, new construction. . . .

2,700 Days

Often we have had to tighten our belt, but we have always done whatever had to be done for the good of you and for the welfare of the future of Boston.

For more than 2,700 days, it has been our task to guide Boston safely through the most turbulent time in its history.

I had hoped that when the time arrived to speak with you tonight that Boston would be a city free of racial strife, free of the tensions that grip so many of our urban communities.

Unfortunately, that hope was not to be fulfilled.

Last weekend there occurred in Boston an unfortunate manifestation of disrespect for the rights of others.

It occurred when a group of demonstrators chained city workers in the Grove Hall Welfare Office and restrained the workers from leaving the building.

The situation has improved—but unhappily unrest has come to Boston. Let us remember, however, that only about 1,000 out of 75,000 Negroes were involved in the disturbance. Community leaders are working with us to maintain peace.

I now repeat what I have said every day, many times a day, since disorder broke out in Roxbury.

I am willing to meet with any responsible group in orderly fashion in my office at any time.

However, I am the Mayor of all of the people of Boston and I conduct city business at City Hall and this is where any and all meetings will be held.

I shall continue to be available at City Hall to meet with any responsible group at any time. However, I feel I must repeat again that disorderly protests will not and cannot be tolerated in Boston.

The Future

Boston's greatest natural resource always has been its people.

People of courage, good will and enterprise.

People of talent, imagination and persistence.

People of loyalty, fidelity, and constancy.

I am proud of Boston and proud of the people of Boston and whatever this city is, it is a city of people with whose safety, health, education, and welfare you entrusted to us eight years ago.

I intend to keep that trust.

Ours is an old city, but it is a great city, I pray our Boston shall not pass to those who care not for our city, but only for themselves.

Eight years ago you placed your trust in me.

I thanked you then as I thank you now for giving me not only your faith but your help.

May you always live in a Boston which can continue to hold its head high in surroundings of prosperity, good feeling, and good faith.

I pray also that when you review my stewardship it will be your judgment that I have served you well.

CITY COUNCIL

CITY OF BOSTON.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, April 24, 1967.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President HYNES in the chair, and all the members present.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY THE RIGHT REVEREND CHRISTOPHER P. GRIFFIN

In the name of the Father, and of Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Almighty and Eternal Father, we thank Thee for Thy protecting care of us at all times. We now invoke Thy blessing that with renewed strength and wisdom we may again turn to our high vocation of government and the duties before us in this City Council. We are servants of the people but let us never forget that it is Thy work in which we are engaged, and may it be the goal of all our aspirations and endeavors to be faithful stewards of Thy grace and obedient servants of Thy holy will. We cannot fail to detect an atmosphere of defiance almost anarchy, of disobedience, rejection and defiance of authority in our present day. Here in this chamber, with Thy divine favor and with Thy guidance may we continue to build a strong society of righteousness and justice, peace and good will.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
 Office of the Mayor, April 14, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication received from John F. Flaherty, Chairman of the Public Improvement Commission, advising of the discontinuance of Point road, Dorchester, and recommending the sale of the discontinued street, consisting of twenty-four thousand three hundred eighteen (24,318) square feet of land to the Boston Gas Company for the sum of $15,000, together with a proposed form of order authorizing this sale, and recommend the adoption of the same by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
 Public Improvement Commission,
 March 21, 1967.

Hon. John F. Collins,
 Mayor of Boston.

Gentlemen:

The Boston Gas Company has requested the Public Improvement Commission to discontinue Point road, Dorchester district, as a public highway, from Victory road approximately 588 feet westerly. The Boston Gas Company is the owner of all abutting property in Point road and desires to expand its present plant if the discontinuance is made.

A duly advertised public hearing was held September 27, 1966, and the Commission voted to prepare plans and order for said discontinuance. The present public highway is not used by the general public and the City of Boston would no longer bear maintenance costs when discontinued.

On March 14, 1967, the Public Improvement Commission passed an order for said discontinuance and it is recommended that the land be sold to the Boston Gas Company for $15,000.

Very truly yours,

JOHN F. FLAHERTY, Chairman,
 Public Improvement Commission.

Whereas, By an order of the Public Improvement Commission of the City of Boston passed March 14, 1967, Point road, Dorchester district, was discontinued as a public highway from Victory road approximately five hundred eighty-eight (588) feet westerly; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of twenty-four thousand three hundred eighteen (24,318) square feet of land being the discontinued area of Point road, no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, The Boston Gas Company is the owner of all the land abutting the discontinued area of Point road and desires to acquire the same for the purpose of expanding its plant and has offered the sum of fifteen thousand (15,000) dollars for the land; and

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has recommended that the land be sold to the Boston Gas Company for the sum of fifteen thousand (15,000) dollars; now therefore it is hereby Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to sell at private sale for a sum of not less than fifteen thousand (15,000) dollars and to deliver an instrument in writing to the Boston Gas Company conveying the following described parcel of land:

A certain parcel of land situated in the Dorchester district of the City of Boston, County of Suffolk, bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Victory road, forty-five (45) feet; southerly by the southerly line of Point road, as discontinued, four hundred two and 90-100 (402.90) feet; southeasterly by the southeasterly line of Point road, as discontinued, seventy and 19-100 (70.19) feet; southwesterly by General Casimir Pulaski Skyway, one hundred thirty-four and 56-100 (134.56) feet; northerly by the northerly line of Point road, as discontinued, five hundred eighty-eight and 68-100 (588.68) feet, containing twenty-four thousand three hundred eighteen (24,318) square feet of land, more or less.

(Attached hereto is the map.)

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON URBAN RENEWAL

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON URBAN RENEWAL RE: MODEL CITIES PROGRAM

Report of the Committee on Urban Renewal, Rehabilitation and Redevelopment on an application for a grant to plan a comprehensive City Demonstration Program accompanied by a proposed Council resolution which would approve the application, submitted to this Body by his Honor the Mayor for approval, and referred to your committee on April 10, 1967.

Your committee held public hearings on this matter on April 20 and April 21, 1967.

Anyone professing to be at all familiar with the city will agree that the area set forth in the application needs the kind of help promised by the demonstration cities program. The testimony at the hearings tended to affirm this need. The testimony also clearly established that the proposal has generated a strong community concern and reaction.

General agreement prevailed concerning the need and desire for the program. Witnesses from the community, however, expressed apprehension about how much participation they would be allowed in preparing and implementing a plan to improve their neighborhood. As these hearings progressed it became clear that residents will not be satisfied with words which promise meaningful citizen participation unless there is some guarantee that the promised participation will in fact come about, and will in fact be meaningful.

Your committee has examined the application and has found that as presented to us by the Mayor it is heavy in promise but critically weak when it comes to guaranteeing the desired citizen participation.

Section III N of the application entitled "Citizen Participation" devotes 15 promising pages to what "might be," while Section V A in 1½ crisp pages tells us in no uncertain terms what will be." Section V A puts all of the power where it always has been—in the hands of the Mayor.

Compare—as the commercials say—Sections III N and V A and you will know why the neighborhood people are distrustful.

If we are to quiet their distrust we must guarantee in Section V A what we promise in Section III N—meaningful participation.

Your committee suggests that we can give this guarantee—as much as any such thing can be guaranteed—by rewriting Section V A. This is what your committee proposes. A resolution approving the application has been prepared by your committee and is herewith submitted. The resolution's approval of the application, however, is conditioned on Section V A of the application, being rewritten so as to read as set forth in the resolution.

Briefly, the resolution as rewritten by your committee would change Section V A as submitted by the Mayor in the following ways:

FIRST: In Section 1, in place of an Administrator directly responsible to the Mayor the Model Neighborhood Department would be headed by an 11-member Model Neighborhood Board appointed by the Mayor, 6 of whom would be nominees of the residents of the neighborhood. This assures a community role in the decision making while still giving the Mayor 5 directly appointed members on the 11-man board.

SECOND: In Section 2, in order to encourage a maximum community role, private community organizations would be assured of participation.

THIRD: In Section 3, after the 9-month planning stage the application for execution funds would require the approval of the Model Neighborhood Board, the Mayor and the City Council instead of just the approval of the Administrator and Mayor. This would help guarantee that the Board and not the Administrator would run the program. It would also permit the City Council an opportunity to pass on the applications for execution funds which right, incidentally, the application as presented by the Mayor would do away with.

A more extended and intensive study of the application than time afforded would probably reveal other defects in the application. Notwithstanding this, I am convinced that by building in a guarantee of meaningful citizen participation, we will tend to eliminate them because any such defects can be recognized and corrected by the people in the course of the planning process.

The model city program is designed to bring about physical improvement of all of the facilities, services and amenities that contribute to make a neighborhood a satisfying living environment. Probably most important of these will be the provisions of housing, particularly for low and moderate income families.

The program will also concern itself with such things as access of model area residents to places of employment, shopping and other community facilities, and with the provision of high quality, easily accessible educational services to residents of all ages, whether in school or out, with particular focus on the educational needs of the poor and disadvantaged.

Manpower and economic development, especially the creation of job opportunities for area residents and the stimulation of commerce and industry in or near the area, will be an important component of the program.

The program also will be concerned with recreation and cultural development, crime reduction, and such things as health, public assistance and social service activities.

In short it is expected that the program will provide a wide variety of innovative approaches to improve the quality of urban living.

The chance for such improvement can only be increased if we allow the people affected most directly to share the burden of bringing about the improvement in the neighborhood just as they had to carry the burden of its neglect.

In closing, the committee would like to offer one word of caution in the hope of avoiding the over promise typical of the urban renewal and war on poverty programs.

As we authorize this application let us be aware that the resources presently available cannot create a model city or a model neighborhood. This program is not a panacea. The amount of help it offers is quite limited but it does offer help.

This program can allow us to try new approaches—hopefully some of them will work—but it cannot and will not do a great deal more.

In the absence of great quantities of other resources, the only resource that may prove to be adequate is citizen energy and enthusiasm. Let's give citizen participation a try from the beginning and see what happens.

In the hope of guaranteeing such citizen participation, after public hearings and consideration of the application prepared by his Honor the Mayor, as well as the testimony presented at the public hearings, your committee recommends the adoption of the resolution approving the application which accompanied the application as submitted by his Honor the Mayor in the following new draft:

RESOLUTION OF THE BOSTON CITY COUNCIL APPROVING REQUEST FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO PLAN AND DEVELOP A COMPREHENSIVE CITY DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM.

Whereas, The City of Boston is confronted with critical problems in dealing with a large area within its limits which is both blighted and deteriorating; and

Whereas, The City of Boston does not have adequate resources to deal effectively with all of the problems encountered in such area; and

Whereas, The City of Boston desires to plan, develop and carry out under the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act of 1966 (P.L. 89-754) a locally prepared and scheduled comprehensive City Demonstration Program for such area; and

Whereas, In accordance with such desire an application for a grant to prepare such a plan has been prepared and submitted by his Honor the Mayor to the City Council on April 10, 1967, with a letter requesting adoption of a resolution approving the filing of such application; and

Whereas, The city's application calls for the creation of a Model Neighborhood Department which will carry out the program on a consolidated and coordinated basis; and

Whereas, The City Council is determined that the residents of the Model Neighborhood Area be assured of effective participation in the activities of the Model Neighborhood Department throughout all phases of program planning and execution; now therefore be it hereby

Resolved, By the City Council of the City of Boston as follows:

1. The application as submitted by the Mayor be amended by the deletion of Part V A, entitled "Administrative Machinery for Planning Program Section A," and the substitution of the following new Part V A:

1. City Demonstration Agency That Will Receive Planning Grant:

Planning for the program will be undertaken by a Model Neighborhood Department headed by a Model Neighborhood Board, which will appoint a Model Neighborhood Administrator directly responsible to it. The Model Neighborhood Board shall be composed of 11 members appointed by the Mayor. Six of the members shall be as nominated by the Model Area residents in a manner which will guarantee, to the extent possible, effective and equitable representation of the people of all parts of the entire Model Neighborhood Area. The Model Neighborhood Board shall choose its own chairman. The Administrator will have authority to prepare plans for all programs to be funded with Model Neighborhood funds. The Administrator will be empowered to hire staff with Model Neighborhood funds, and with money from other sources that may be appropriated to the program. Staff will be either assigned to the department from other city agencies and departments or hired as may be required to carry out the planning program.

2. Agencies Performing Planning Activities:

All pertinent public and private agencies and departments will be involved in planning for the Model Area. These agencies and departments may include but shall not be limited to:

Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD)

Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA)

Building Department

Community Organizations

Fire Department

Health and Hospitals Department

Housing Authority

Housing Inspection Department

Library Department

Parks and Recreation Department

Police Department

Public Works Department

School Department

Traffic and Parking Department

Welfare Department

3. Administrative Machinery for Coordinating Activities:

The Model Neighborhood Administration will be responsible for the selection and supervision of planning contracts and for the supervision and evaluation of planning studies undertaken by other city departments or by private agencies, as decided by the Model Neighborhood Board. No application for federal execution funds under the program will be made without the approval of the Model Neighborhood Board, the Mayor, and the City Council.

2. Subject to the above amendments, the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and hereby is, authorized:

(a) To apply in the name and on behalf of the City of Boston to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development or other appropriate officials for federal financial assistance in the planning and development of a comprehensive city demonstration program;

(b) To provide all information and documentation required or requested by the Department of Housing and Urban Development concerning the preparation and content of such program;

(c) To act in the name and behalf of the City of Boston in connection with all matters pertaining to such application for financial assistance.

For the Committee,

PATRICK F. McDONOUGH, Chairman.

Coun. McDONOUGH moved that the committee's report be accepted, and if that motion carries, would make the further motion that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee, and finally, the third motion, the Council do then recess for the purpose of considering this matter in Executive Committee.

The report of the committee was accepted.

MINORITY REPORT OF COUNCILLOR PIEMONTE

Coun. PIEMONTE, member of the Committee on Urban Renewal, submitted the following minority report:

I am in agreement with the statements made in the majority report, that the application as presented to us by the Mayor is heavy on promises but critically weak when it comes to guaranteeing the desired citizens' participation, and I believe that we can best guarantee the desired citizens' participation by adding to the resolution which was offered by the firm of Foley, Hoag & Eliot, the law firm engaged by the Boston Redevelopment Authority, at the end thereof, the following provisions:

(iv) To recognize the 18-member Model City Council (to be directly elected by the residents of the Model City Area) as the official community representative of the Model City Area; (v) to delegate to the Model City Council the right to review and recommend amendments to proposals and related business concerning the Model City Program in Boston; (vi) to delegate to the Model City Council the right to approve, disapprove or approve in part such proposals; (vii) to assign at least $120,000 to the Model City Council to be used for planning, staffing and maximum community involvement during the planning period, with additional amounts possible if negotiated by the Model City Council and the Model City Administration.

3. The Boston City Council approves the application conditioned on the fulfillment of all above provisions.

So that we would substitute for the resolve submitted to the Council on April 10, 1967, and on which hearings were held on April 20 and 21, subsequent to an advertisement which appeared on April 18, 1967, two days before the hearing the following order:

Ordered, 1. That it be, and hereby is, determined: (a) that the City of Boston is confronted with critical problems in dealing with a large slum and blighted area within its limits; (b) that the City of Boston does not have adequate resources to deal effectively with such problems; and (c) that the City of Boston desires to plan, develop and carry out under the Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act of 1966 (P.L. 89-754) a locally prepared and scheduled comprehensive city demonstration program for such area; and

2. That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized: (i) to apply in the name and behalf of the City of Boston to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development or other appropriate official for federal financial assistance in the planning and development of such a comprehensive city demonstration program; (ii) to provide all information and documentation required or requested by the Department of Housing and Urban Development concerning the preparation and content of such program; and (iii) to act in the name and behalf of the City of Boston in connection with all matters pertaining to such application for financial assistance; (iv) to recognize the 18-member Model City Council (to be directly elected by residents of the Model City Area) as the official community representative of the Model City Area; (v) to delegate to the Model City Council the right to review and recommend amendments to proposals and related business concerning the Model City Program in Boston; (vi) to delegate to the Model City Council the right to approve, disapprove or approve in part such proposals; (vii) to assign at least $120,000 to the Model City Council to be used for planning, staffing and maximum community involvement during the planning period, with additional amounts possible if negotiated by the Model City Council and the Model City Administration.

3. The Boston City Council approves the application conditioned on the fulfillment of all above provisions.

MINORITY REPORT OF COUNCILLOR HINES

Coun. HINES, member of the Committee on Urban Renewal, submitted the following minority report:

This Model City program, sad to say, seems to have about it an air of hoax and deception. In fact, it seems to be—or could well become—a cruel joke on the residents of the area.

It is a financial or fiscal gimmick that in no way promises better police protection, proper repair of streets, improved maintenance of playgrounds, new schools or new home construction, the essential elements to a true model or improved neighborhood.

But I attack not so much the concept or ideal of the program as the deception already connected with implementation of this program as practiced by the present administration.

In one voice, they have told the people: support this program and we will listen to you.

In another voice, they say: we will close four of your police stations without consulting you.

What a cruel joke—what callous deception.

We thought in Roslindale-West Roxbury we had as close as you can get to model neighborhoods within major city limits. Citizen participation? Every elective officeholder, pastor, businessman, civic or religious organization opposed the closing of the local police station. One of those was my own 89-year-old pastor, patriarch and foremost active priest of the Archdiocese of Boston. Last night in the confines of his rectory, this saintly old man at gunpoint was robbed of $6,000. There isn't a hoodlum, robber or burglar in Boston who doesn't now know that he can ply his trade in our neighborhood because even when the police alert is given, it takes 15 or 20 minutes for a police vehicle to come from Hyde Park—and indeed, there are those police officers who say at certain hours there isn't a single police officer on duty.

And I warn the residents of this area that if that is the type of citizen participation they are going to get under this administration for a so-called model neighborhood, they are going to be in bad shape, indeed.

I might also point out to you that within days it was the off-beat story of the Boston "Globe", just a few days ago, a child fell from a window and was in such extreme agony the Newton Police Department was called and responded. One citizen wrote me a letter saying that he wasn't aware that kind of thing had happened in the City of Boston since the police strike of three or four decades ago.

Citizen participation and citizen planning? Ladies and gentlemen, I suggest to you unless there is going to be a change of administration, you are not going to get any citizen participation or planning in the operation of the departments that are set forth to come under this new model neighborhood council for consolidation.

Nonetheless, Mr. President, and this will bring my report to a close, the residents, clergy and civic organizations apparently believe that this model neighborhood program will give them a larger voice in city planning—and of course, it will lead to an increase from 2/3 to 80 percent of federal aid for certain projects. That is why I have said, it is simply a financial or fiscal gimmick. It in no way promises to make this area a model neighborhood, and in all frankness and in all honesty, the residents should know that.

Nonetheless, since it is their will as expressed at the hearing that they desire to embark on this program, I will vote for it.

Placed on file.

The question first came on the motion of Councillor McDonough that the committee's resolution and report be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. PIEMONTE moved to amend the motion to include, also, his minority report. The motion was carried.

Boston's Work-Training Program For Poor Largest Operated By Any U. S. City

The largest municipally operated program in the United States designed to make work experience and training available to hard-core, chronically unemployed parents of dependent children, is conducted by the Boston Welfare Department.

"On a per capita basis ours is the largest," said Welfare Commissioner Daniel I. Cronin, "and I believe it is the most successful conducted anywhere."

The program was initiated in Boston in July, 1965, under terms of Title V of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, through a grant from the federal government. Last July the Boston Welfare Department received $1.6 million for a continuance of the Title V program and for the coming fiscal year, a third $1 million-plus grant has been approved.

Title V of the Economic Opportunity Act, the federal anti-poverty war legislation, makes possible the coordination of supportive social services, income maintenance, and medical care in a family-centered approach to help the entire family of those most subject to economic, cultural, and educational deprivation.

"The need of such a program to assist severely deprived families to enter the mainstream of community life is manifest," said Commissioner Cronin. "We have been able to provide a wide range of vocational opportunities to the underprivileged.

"The progress we have made and the continued development of such a comprehensive program in the future has been and will be dependent upon a broad community effort.

"Since the inception of the program here the Boston Department of Public Welfare has had the cooperative support and superlative working relationships with key agencies actively involved in Boston's war on poverty.

"Mayor Collins has been unstinting in his work for the support of the program. Senators Kennedy and Brooke and Governor Volpe have given us every assistance. We have been heartened with the active cooperation of the State Department of Welfare and the State Division of Employment Security. We have had total cooperation from Action for Boston Community Development in correlating and coordinating a wide range of services offered by its Community Action Program. The Boston School Department has made possible the highly important educational achievements of the program.

"In addition we have had invaluable assistance from a wide range of public and nonprofit organizations throughout the city in the planning and execution of the many-faceted extensions of the over-all program. These have included areas of health, education, vocational training, and work experience and training."

A similar program for Grades I, II, and III will be held during the same period at the Christopher Gibson, Dorchester; George F. Hoar, South Boston; John Winthrop, Dorchester; Nathan Hale, Roxbury; Paul A. Dever, Dorchester, and Ralph W. Emerson, Roxbury.

The Remediation classes will be conducted in reading and mathematics, while the Enrichment courses will be in the areas of music, art, history, literature, and science. The classes will be small and there will be two sessions daily. Attendance is voluntary and the courses are free.

The School Department is also conducting a Junior High School Summer Remediation and Enrichment Program named "Aspire." This program will be held at the Clarence R. Edwards Junior High School, Charlestown, and the James P. Timilty Junior High School, Roxbury, from June 26 to August 11, 1967. Classes are daily from 9 A.M. to 12 noon. They are ungraded and pupils will be grouped in accordance with their needs. Upon successful completion of the course, participants will receive certificates of achievement.

BCH Honors Volunteers

Boston City Hospital honored its volunteers at a Volunteers Recognition Party on June 5.

Among the 170 volunteers feted, 100 who have devoted time at Boston City Hospital ranging from 100 to 15,000 hours of work will each receive framed certificates.

In addition, representatives of schools, colleges, and high schools in the Boston area will accept awards for the work their students have put in at the hospital.

Mrs. Alice Lyons, Assistant Deputy Commissioner for Volunteers, introduced Dr. Andrew P. Sackett, Commissioner of Health and Hospitals.

Also on hand were Dr. Leon R. Lezer, Deputy Commissioner for Hospital Services, and Dr. James V. Sacchetti, Deputy Commissioner for Planning, Research and Evaluation.

City Hospital's volunteers range in age from "Candy Strippers," age 14 through 16, to older volunteers in their 80s. They come from varied backgrounds and have wide-ranging interests, and their duties at the hospital are equally varied.

Some are skilled linguists, others "Just want to help in any way I can." Besides interpreting, volunteers help with simple patient care; some may visit and read to children patients; some prefer desk work and answering phones; others can be found working under supervision in the many laboratories scattered around the hospital, or helping in the Social Service Department.

Groups of students have been known to hold peaceful "clean-in" demonstrations at Boston City Hospital, spending a day vigorously scrubbing and waxing floors and washing walls.

Among the colleges honored were: Boston College, Boston University, Brandeis, Lesley College, Massachusetts Bay Community College, Harvard, MIT, Pine Manor, Radcliffe, Simmons, Tufts, Wheelock, Wellesley, State College at Boston, and Chamberlayne Junior College.

High schools honored were: Cardinal Cushing, St. Patrick's High, Boston College High, Girls' High, Msgr. Ryan High, and Jeremiah E. Burke.

Included in the long list of public and private agencies cited by Commissioner Cronin were:

Boston City Hospital, Beth Israel Hospital, University Hospital, Massachusetts General Hospital, the New England Medical Center, Boston University Medical School, through its South End Alcoholics program has aided in evaluation and diagnosis when alcohol has been a factor in a consideration of the problems of those being assisted.

In vocational training the department's work has been greatly enhanced through the cooperation of such nonprofit agencies as the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, the United South End Settlement, Garland Junior College, Lemuel Shattuck Hospital, Columbia Point Medical Center, Convalescent Services, Inc., West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital, the North Bennet Industrial School, Rindge Technical School, Cambridge, Fannie Farmer's Cooking School, Opportunities Industrialization Center, the Massachusetts Council for Public Schools, the Cardinal Cushing Spanish Speaking Center, International Institute, Hilltop Center, and many others.

Also making possible work experience and training have been the Boston Park Department, the Boston Public Works Department, and the Boston Public Library. The Boston Public Welfare Department itself, at its central office and through various units has followed a strong policy of making available training and work experience to those it seeks to assist out of poverty.

The Aid for Families with Dependent Children caseload of the Boston Public Welfare is currently around 11,000, which represents 34,000 children who are dependent on the educational and employment achievements of their parents for their own future as productive adults. These children represent 12 percent of all of Boston's children!

Police Work Praised

Boston Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara officially commended members of the department for their efforts during the riots in Roxbury.

In his special commendation, Commissioner McNamara said: "May I express personal appreciation and that of all the citizens of this community, for the high quality of police service and protection, provided by the members of the Boston Police Department in containing and quelling the civil disorder which erupted in Roxbury on Friday, June 2.

"The outstanding teamwork and devotion to duty displayed on this occasion is a tribute to the competence of our officers and the training they have received.

"The overwhelming majority of the residents of the Grove Hall district and the business people in the area, were imperiled in this wave of violence and were most appreciative of the quality of police protection provided.

"From the many messages I have received, it is apparent the community as a whole, recognizes that the Boston Police Force carried out its difficult duties during this period with admirable professional discipline and commendable restraint."

Hickey Heads GBREB

Andrew F. Hickey of Stoneham, a former Boston newsman, has been named executive vice-president of the Greater Boston Real Estate Board.

He succeeds Ray Hafford who retired June 2 after 22 years as executive head of the Board, the second largest in the nation.

Functioning as a private business association, the Greater Boston Board has within its structure the Brokers Institute, the Rental Housing Association, and the Building Owners and Managers Association.

It represents these groups in trade, legislative, and civic affairs.

Before assuming his new position, Mr. Hickey was managing director of the Building Owners group and served as director of public affairs for the Board and the Massachusetts Association of Real Estate Boards.

He was radio news supervisor for the Boston Herald Traveler and WHDH before joining the Board in 1961.

A native of Lawrence, Mr. Hickey began his news career with the Lawrence Eagle Tribune and has served as a reporter, writer, or editor for newspapers and radio stations in Boston, Worcester, and Providence.

School Construction Schedule

The Boston School Committee's "1966-1967 Plan Toward the Elimination of Racial Imbalance in the Public Schools" was approved by the State Board of Education on March 15, 1967. This gave the Public Facilities Department the green light to begin detailed planning for school construction.

A vital first step in this process was that of site selection. Of the fourteen items listed in Phase 1 of this plan, two were additions to present schools. In addition, sites for three more, the Humboldt Avenue and replacement for the William H. Kent Schools, both elementary, and the Madison Park High School had already been agreed upon. This left nine sites to be selected.

To date, firm site selections have been made by the Public Facilities Department—and agreed to by the Superintendent of the School Department—for three of these nine, as follows:

1. Replacement for the John Marshall School: Total Area, 4.4 Acres (Est.); Property Owners, 24; Family Units, 42 (Est.).

Fin. Com: Urges Favorable Council Action on Proposed New "Meter Maid" Legislation

The following communication was sent to the City Council by the Boston Finance Commission on June 12:

To the Members of the City Council.

There is currently before the Committee on Legislative Matters of your Honorable Body a subject in which the Finance Commission has had a continuing interest. This is an order, the purpose of which is to request the Massachusetts Legislature to approve a bill (H. 4150) expanding the tagging powers of female parking meter supervisors ("meter maids").

As a pioneer in urging the appointment of "meter maids" to enforce regulations relating to parked cars at meters, first proposed by the Finance Commission in a report issued on November 25, 1963, and as a witness to the success that has attended their efforts in that area, the Finance Commission is anxious to extend their effectiveness to include surveillance over all standing vehicles with respect to parking regulations.

The Commission is convinced that their effectiveness will be just as great in this expanded scope, which is a natural corollary of the present authority, as it has been in the area of parking meter surveillance. A Finance Commission report on January 5, 1967, presented data on the impressive increase in meter receipts during the past one and one-half years, a development in which "meter maids" played a prominent part.

The Commission is also impressed with the possibility of utilizing regular police officers who will be relieved from tagging assignments for more demanding tasks in the area of police protection. It is clear that the City needs all possible manpower in that wide area today.

Such expansion of scope for the "meter maids" should not be attended by any dramatic increase in numbers. The Finance Commission is interested primarily in the principle of adjusting the level of personnel to the job. In this case, the job is tagging cars and does not require the comprehensive police skill, authority or salary level of a regular police officer.

Ideally, these positions should eventually be in the classified Civil Service, with the attendant assurances of standards of qualifications, eligibility and tenure; and legislation should be sought to achieve that objective.

For the immediate present, however, the proposal to expand the scope of tagging is a first step, and that should be taken while the opportunity is at hand and the need is urgent.

The Finance Commission, therefore, respectfully recommends that the order be acted upon favorably and immediately so that action by the Legislature may be taken on House Bill 4150, which is a special law empowering parking meter supervisors in Boston to enforce regulations controlling the stopping and standing of vehicles generally rather than only at meters.

Foundation, and Robert Mehegan of the Public Works Department and secretary, Freedom Trail Commission, who represented Commissioner Flaherty.

The Freedom Trail has been a joint community service project of the Advertising Club of Greater Boston and the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce since 1958 when the Freedom Trail Committee was established with Berenson as chairman. The committee was succeeded in 1964 by the Freedom Trail Foundation, a nonprofit organization of public-spirited citizens.

Among the landmarks linked by the colorful guideline are the State House and Archives Museum, Park Street Church, Old Granary Burying Ground, King's Chapel, Old Corner Book Store, Old South Meeting House, Old State House, Faneuil Hall, and Paul Revere House.

The new Freedom Trail Exit, under the Visitors and Freedom Trail Information Center on the Boston Common, will now make it possible for many of the 700,000 annual visitors to easily find Boston's famous pathway of historic sites.

The Exit, which will be placed in the MBTA system route map, culminates the joint effort of the four groups represented at the ceremony. Participants included Gen. Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., general manager, MBTA; Bernard J. O'Keefe, president, Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce; James G. Kelso, executive vice-president, Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, and Friedmann.

Freedom Trail Stripe

A bright red stripe, a mile-and-a-half long, now blazes the Freedom Trail and will guide the thousands of summer visitors to the 15 famous historic sites on the route which are becoming less visible surrounded by the skyscrapers of the New Boston.

Public Works Commissioner John F. Flaherty directed the painting of the sidewalk marking which is 6 inches wide and extends from the Visitors and Freedom Trail Information Center on the Boston Common to the Old North Church.

Taking part in the ceremonies held on the Paul Revere Mall near the finish of the painting were Richard A. Berenson, commissioner of Freedom Trail; Robert F. Friedmann, president, Freedom Trail

IT'S IN THE CAN

Tin cans are the latest in gift packaging at one New York store. The colorful cans come in two sizes: the smaller, 4½ inches deep, is for ties, belts and jewelry; the larger 8½-inch can holds a sweater or shirt, lingerie, glass or silverware. After selecting a gift, the customer takes it to the canning counter. Once the gift is sealed in, nothing but the kitchen can opener can perform the undoing.

"What Happens Now with Welfare?" Bureau Asks

(The following digest was contained in Bureau Brief published by the Boston Municipal Research Bureau):

The 1967 "Cherry Sheets" are out. The cerise-colored state forms which list estimated reimbursements and distributions to be made to communities from the Local Aid Fund show that state aid this year will not prevent a sizeable jump in Boston's property tax rate.

More importantly, they show a golden opportunity muffed for holding down the size of the potential rate increase. During the course of the sales tax debate and even this year, pledges and promises were made for state assumption of local welfare costs and state takeover of welfare administration.

Issuance of the 1967 "Cherry Sheets" is going to make it more difficult to fulfill those pledges. It is no reason, however, to forget them. Positive action is still possible by the 1967 General Court.

What may be needed, should no positive action be taken, is a new approach. This would have the state assume greater responsibility for local welfare costs and administration without decreasing the level of state aid communities will experience in 1967.

Time Was Right

The large sum of $167.6 million will be sent to cities and towns this year on the basis of equalized valuations. This long discredited formula recognizes wealth as the measure of distribution—the richer a community, the more it gets. Moreover, the valuations used are out of date since they are based in large part on 1945 figures.

If ever the time was right for state assumption of local welfare costs, this was it since all communities would still have been allocated a larger amount of state aid than ever before.

If about $55 million of the total had been authorized just for state reimbursement of total local welfare costs, Boston would have had close to $9 million more in state aid added to its "Cherry Sheet." If state assumption became effective in mid-1967, the state aid figure for Boston would still have meant about $3 less on its tax rate.

More importantly, Boston would have been relieved of a financial burden not properly hers. All cities and towns would have been relieved of the penalty for having large numbers of old, poor, widowed, deserted, disabled and unemployed persons living within their borders. And state administration of welfare with its promise of expanded and improved services to recipients would have been closer to achievement.

Local Welfare Costs

Local welfare costs in Massachusetts amount to about 22 percent of total assistance payments and close to 30 percent of total administrative costs. In Boston, the city's own costs for welfare have grown sharply and welfare caseloads have risen steadily.

In 1967, its share of welfare expense will be at least $17.5 million. In 1966, its share totaled about $15.9 million; since 1960, the figures have run between $10.5 million and $15.7 million annually.

Caseloads for recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children will easily surpass 11,000 per month this year. General Relief cases which were down to a low of 1,476 per month in 1962 have more than doubled. And as Medicaid grows, there is no estimate of how high the numbers of cases will become.

The importance of welfare in the over-all cost picture of the city can be seen in the fact that the 1967 welfare budget showed the largest single increase in Boston's operating budget over 1966. Even though part of the $5.4 million increase is reimbursable, the increased welfare burden this year for Boston taxpayers will still be close to $2 million.

Still State Responsibility

Issuance of the 1967 "Cherry Sheets" should not foreclose the battle this year for state assumption of local welfare responsibility. Legislative proposals are still alive to accomplish the purpose. Efforts for passage should get top priority since they hold the best immediate hope for Boston's finances.

But since communities in 1967 will have felt the benefits of $167.6 million in state aid on an equalized valuation basis, practical considerations dictate preparation of alternative plans. Communities are likely to oppose rescinding the $167.6 million pie with some getting more and some less.

A contingent plan could be drawn for gradual state assumption of the total local welfare burden—a plan which would not give any community less state aid than it received in 1967. Once moneys in the Local Aid Fund available to go back on an equalized valuation basis exceeded $167.6 million, that excess should be authorized for extending state responsibility for welfare. Specifically, it could be used for additional reimbursement of local welfare costs. This could mean three years or more before total local costs were reimbursed. Moreover, the plan should recognize the inextricable relationship between welfare costs and administration by providing for complete state takeover when available funds covered complete local costs. Thus, the state would be getting in line with the national trend in welfare responsibility as well as stopping the distribution of more money on a discredited basis.

NYC Summer Jobs

The Neighborhood Youth Corps In-School Program will offer a summer project from July 3 to September 2, 1967, to all eligible students in Boston.

To participate, pupils must be sixteen through twenty-one years old, residents of the City of Boston, attending school, and in need of financial help.

Enrollees will be placed in various municipal and nonprofit agencies performing various duties, including clerical, recreational, landscaping, and tutorial. Any student meeting the above requirements should contact the Neighborhood Youth Corps, 11 Windsor street, Roxbury. Telephone 445-5710.

Poland Spring Trophies

John E. Hurley, past president of the Poland Spring Caddy Camp Alumni Association, presented Saul Feldman the Thomas J. Turley Memorial Trophy for permanent display in the new Poland Spring Country Club Pro shop recently.

Saul Feldman accepted, with the Turley award, the memorials to the former caddies, Walter W. Parmalee, Portland insurance executive; the Francis J. "Red" Regan Memorial to the former Maine golf pro; the James F. Leonard Plaque in honor of the former Boston newsman and editor of the City Record, and the Father Edmund Trayers,

O.M.I. trophy in memory of the late Boston priest-athlete. "All will be given a spot of honor in the new Clubhouse," Feldman said, "for this is where they belong to keep green the memory of these former caddies."

Maternal Care

A one-year $1.7 million grant from the Federal Children's Bureau to the State Department of Public Health will finance a project to improve clinical, social, and health-education services for "high risk" mothers. These are women who typically receive either inadequate care or no care at all.

Five hospitals are participating in the project which began April 1 and is being carried out under the general supervision of the Division of Medical Care Administration of the State Department of Public Health. The hospitals involved are Beth Israel Hospital, Boston Hospital for Women, Boston City Hospital, St. Margaret's Hospital, and St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

In addition to providing high quality maternal and infant care services to mothers in the participating hospitals, the project also hopes to seek out potential "high risk" mothers and bring these women in contact with the services available to them.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 26.

General Order No. 23

BOARD OF MERIT

The Board of Merit, consisting of the Chief of Department, the Chief of Staff, and the Deputy Fire Chiefs, has considered all meritorious acts referred to it for the year 1966. After careful consideration and study, the Board submitted the following recommendations which are hereby approved by the Fire Commissioner:

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER ANTHONY W. KANE, ENGINE COMPANY 2.

At 11:38 A.M., January 10, 1966, the department responded to an alarm from Box 7151 for a fire in a dwelling at 107 and 109 B street, South Boston.

Fire Fighter Anthony W. Kane of Engine Company 2, who lives in the vicinity, was at the scene of the fire before arrival of the apparatus when he was informed by citizens that a baby was trapped on the second floor. He climbed a ladder to the second floor window, placed there by an employee of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, and entered the kitchen of the second floor apartment. He was informed by a person in the kitchen that there was a baby in the bedroom off the hallway. Fire Fighter Kane crawled on his hands and knees along the hallway and entered the bedroom. After some difficulty he found an infant in a crib; he picked the baby up in his arms and made his way down the hallway through the kitchen and down the back stairs where he passed the baby to an employee of the Telephone Company.

Fire Fighter Kane performed this rescue work before the building could be ventilated and before hose lines could be brought into operation. Inasmuch as he was off duty at the time, he entered the building without wearing a gas mask and endured great physical punishment due to exposure to smoke, heat, and hot gases.

Because of the fact that Fire Fighter Kane performed the rescue work without thought of his own safety, and at great risk to his person, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 4 of 1966.

The Board recommends that Fire Fighter Anthony W. Kane of Engine Company 2 be awarded the Patrick J. Kennedy Medal of Honor.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER HOWARD F. CLINKSCALE, LADDER COMPANY 13.

At 12:36 A.M., January 13, 1966, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1663 for a fire in the dwelling house at 702 Massachusetts avenue, Boston.

Upon arrival of Ladder Company 13 at the fire, a man was seen at a third-floor window. The fire had extended up the stairs, and the building was heavily charged with heat and smoke at this time. As the aerial ladder was placed at the window, the man disappeared from view. Fire Fighter Howard F. Clinkscale of Ladder Company 13 ascended the ladder and entered the third floor where he found the man in a room. However, the man refused to leave, and as the heat and smoke were building up at the time, Fire Fighter Clinkscale was forced to carry the man to a window and assist in placing him on a ladder, where other members of the company took him to the street.

The rescue work was carried out while hose lines were being placed in operation, before the building had been completely ventilated and under difficult conditions caused by heat and smoke.

Because Fire Fighter Clinkscale performed the rescue work without regard for his own safety, at great risk, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 4 of 1966.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Howard F. Clinkscale of Ladder Company 13 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER WILLIAM D. SHEA, RESCUE COMPANY.

At 6:41 P.M., January 28, 1966, the department responded to Box 1471, five alarms, for an explosion and fire in the building at 15-19 Boylston street, Boston. The structure was an eleven-story, second-class building occupied as a coffee shop and cafe on the first floor and as a hotel on the upper floors.

Upon arrival of Deputy Chief John J. O'Mara, he observed that a severe explosion had occurred causing the front wall of the building at the first floor level and the sidewalk in front of the building to be blown out by the force of the explosion. Heavy smoke was pouring from the first floor and basement and the rear of the structure was involved in fire.

Several persons were lying on the sidewalk adjacent to the fire building awaiting ambulances for transportation to the hospital, and several persons were noted trapped in the basement and first floor of the building. The first floor of the cafe had collapsed into the basement in the center of the building. Immediately all efforts of the department were directed in the removing of these people from the building before the fire which was making up in the rear could advance to the front and engulf the trapped patrons of the cafe and hotel.

The Rescue Company was ordered to remove those trapped on the first floor via a ladder to bridge the gap between the pavement and the building over the opening left where the sidewalk formerly existed. Before a short ladder could be put into play a piece of plywood was found which was placed over the opening, and members of the Rescue Company assisted in the removal of those from the first floor. While performing this duty, they were informed of a woman trapped below in the basement about 30 feet in from the street. Fire Fighter William D. Shea and other members immediately went to the rear while other members sought a short ladder to lower to her. At this stage the fire was making rapid progress towards the front of the building, and without regard for his personal safety, Fire Fighter Shea jumped into the basement and lifted her up to other members of the Rescue Company who were on the first-floor level. They then assisted Shea up and out of the building. Both Fire Fighter Shea and the unidentified victim were removed to the Boston City Hospital by ambulance.

Undoubtedly Fire Fighter Shea's action saved the life of the woman as the building was heavily charged with fire, smoke, heat and gas at the time, and explosions were taking place during her removal from the building. Pieces of flaming wood and chunks of building materials were dropping down on the woman at the time Fire Fighter Shea reached her.

Inasmuch as Fire Fighter Shea performed the rescue work with total disregard for his own safety, and under very dangerous conditions, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 5 of 1966.

The Board recommends that Fire Fighter William D. Shea of the Rescue Company be awarded the John E. Fitzgerald Medal for Most Meritorious Act.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER GEORGE W. GIRVAN, ENGINE COMPANY 13.

At 3:09 A.M., February 13, 1966, the department responded to an alarm from Box 5124 (four alarms) for a fire in the house at 47 Gardner street, Brighton.

The fire had involved all floors before the arrival of the department. Evidently the building had been remodeled for use as a rooming house, and the entire interior had been so cut up that it was difficult to find one's way from section to section. The front stair well was fully involved in fire, cutting off any exit by that means. The rear fire escape was partially blocked by fire coming from a window in the rear. Due to ice and snow on the ground, difficulty was experienced in raising ladders.

Upon arrival of Engine Company 13, the officers and members were instructed to confine their duties to the search for and removal of any occupants who were trapped in the building. During this operation Fire Fighter George W. Girvan removed an unconscious man from a bed on the second floor and passed him to members on a ladder which had been raised to the window. Fire Fighter Girvan then proceeded to the third floor by way of an interior stairway to search for any other persons who had been trapped. In a bed on the third floor, he found another unconscious man whom he placed on his shoulders and carried to the street by way of a side stairs.

This rescue work was performed under conditions of severe heat, smoke and fire, and before adequate ventilation had been effected. Fire Fighter Girvan received second-degree burns of the face, ears, and head and was rendered unconscious at the scene of the fire. He received first aid at the fire and was later treated at the City Hospital for burns.

Because of the great personal risk he assumed without regard for his own personal safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 8 of 1966.

The Board recommends that Fire Fighter George W. Girvan of Engine Company 13 be awarded the Walter Scott Medal for Valor.

CASES OF FIRE FIGHTER LAWRENCE E. LACASSE, LADDER COMPANY 14; FIRE FIGHTER JOHN J. MCHUGH, LADDER COMPANY 11; FIRE FIGHTER WILLIAM F. ROACHE, LADDER COMPANY 14; FIRE FIGHTER TIMOTHY F. SULLIVAN, LADDER COMPANY 14.

At 3:09 A.M., February 13, 1966, the department responded to Box 5124 (four alarms) for a fire in the dwelling house at 47 Gardner street, Brighton. A delayed alarm and delayed notification to the Fire Department was the start of a serious fire in the three-story wooden frame rooming house located in a congested dwelling house area. About fifteen persons were trapped in the building by smoke and fire.

Upon arrival of Ladder Companies 11 and 14, many people were at windows and fire escapes pleading to be taken from the building. The house was set back from the street and a series of overhead wires impeded raising of aerial ladders. This condition necessitated raising of ground ladders to all windows that were not involved in fire.

Fire Fighter Lawrence E. LaCasse of Ladder Company 14 and Fire Fighter John J. McHugh of Ladder Company 11 ascended one of these ladders to the attic which at that time was partially involved in fire, and after searching through the attic came upon a man and a woman, both unconscious, who were wedged between a door and a wall. After separating the victims, Fire Fighter LaCasse carried the woman to a fire escape and passed her to other fire fighters. He then returned and assisted Fire Fighter McHugh who was carrying a very heavy man from the corridor of the attic to the stairway for removal to the street.

Fire Fighters William F. Roache and Timothy F. Sullivan of Ladder Company 14 went to the rear of the building where a ladder had been raised to a rear fire escape. There they saw a woman at a window of the upper floor outlined by the flames. They climbed the ladder, removed the woman from the window and carried her to the street where she was removed to the hospital. At this time the fire escape was partially enveloped in flames causing the area to become almost unbearable.

All these rescues were carried out under great difficulty caused by fire, smoke and heat, and the members mentioned performed this work without regard for their own personal safety.

The Fire Commissioner commended them highly in General Order No. 9 of 1966.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Lawrence E. LaCasse of Ladder Company 14 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter John J. McHugh of Ladder Company 11 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter William F. Roache of Ladder Company 14 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Timothy F. Sullivan of Ladder Company 14 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASES OF FIRE FIGHTER ELLIOTT J. MILLER OF ENGINE COMPANY 41; FIRE FIGHTER LEO G. BOWEN OF LADDER COMPANY 14; FIRE FIGHTER WILLIAM M. CALLAGHAN OF LADDER COMPANY 14.

At 5:48 A.M., March 12, 1966, the department responded to Box 5138, three alarms, for a fire in the dwelling house at 27 Glenville avenue, Brighton.

Upon arrival of Engine Company 41 and Ladder Company 14 at the scene, the building was involved in fire in the rear, and heavy smoke was issuing from the front of the structure. Engine 41 ran a line to the second floor and at that time was informed by a resident of the building who had been rescued previously over a ladder that a man was still in the second-floor apartment. Forceful entry was made into the apartment and a 2½-inch line was operated on the fire.

Fire Fighters Elliott J. Miller of Engine Company 41 and Leo G. Bowen and William M. Callaghan, both of Ladder Company 14, searched the apartment before ventilation had been effected and under conditions of extreme heat found a man and removed him to the street where he was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. The rescue work was performed by the foregoing fire fighters without thought of their own safety and under very difficult conditions.

The Fire Commissioner commended them highly in General Order No. 10 of 1966.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Elliott J. Miller of Engine Company 41 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Leo G. Bowen of Ladder Company 14 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter William M. Callaghan of Ladder Company 14 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF LIEUTENANT LEO J. McELANEY, LADDER COMPANY 26

At 3:52 A.M., May 24, 1966, the department responded to Box 2363 for a fire at 49 Worthington street, Roxbury.

Upon arrival at the scene with Engine Company 37 and Ladder Company 26, District Fire Chief William Kennealey of District 5 was notified that a man was trapped in an apartment on the fifth floor.

District Fire Chief Kennealey notified Fire Lieutenant Leo J. McElaney of Ladder Company 26 who immediately entered the building and proceeded to the fifth floor by the front stairs. He then crawled along the floor in the apartment and removed an unconscious man from the apartment which was heavily charged with smoke, heat, and fire. He brought the man to an elevator where he was removed to the street and taken to Boston City Hospital in a police ambulance.

Fire Lieutenant McElaney performed this rescue work without a gas mask and before hose lines could be brought into operation. It appears that by his prompt action the victim's life was saved. Fire Lieutenant McElaney required the use of oxygen after the rescue and upon return to quarters.

Because Fire Lieutenant McElaney performed the rescue work at great risk and without regard for his own personal safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 20 of 1966.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Lieutenant Leo J. McElaney be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER THEODORE M. BROWN, LADDER COMPANY 3.

At 9:42 P.M., October 22, 1966, the department responded to Box 1651 (three alarms) for a fire in the building at 1507 Washington street, Boston.

Upon arrival of Ladder Company 3, members were informed that a man was trapped on the second floor. At this time fire was issuing from the first and second floor windows, and the remainder of the building was heavily charged with heat, smoke and gases.

The members of Ladder Company 3 raised a 35-foot ladder to a front window of the second floor, and Fire Fighter Theodore M. Brown of that company ascended the ladder and entered the building through a window. After crawling and groping around in the intense heat and smoke, Fire Fighter

Brown found a partially conscious man on the floor. He carried the man to the window and with great difficulty carried him down the ladder to the street where the victim was taken to the Boston City Hospital. Fire Fighter Brown suffered burns of the left arm, and his face and hands were singed. He also suffered from exhaustion and was given first aid at the scene of the fire. This rescue work was performed before any effective ventilation had been made and while hose lines were being placed in operation.

Because of the fact that Fire Fighter Brown performed the foregoing rescue work with complete disregard for his own safety and was subjected to severe and painful punishment during this act, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 39 of 1966.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter Theodore M. Brown of Ladder Company 3 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER JOHN P. BYRNE OF LADDER COMPANY 26

At 4.01 P.M., December 3, 1966, the department responded to an alarm from Box 2335 for a fire in the dwelling house at 250 Ruggles street, Roxbury.

Upon arrival of Ladder Company 26 at the fire, they were informed by District Chief William Kennealey of District 5 that there was a child in an apartment on the fifth floor which was involved in fire.

Fire Fighter John P. Byrne of Ladder Company 26 climbed the stairs to the fifth floor which was involved in fire, heat and smoke. He searched the fifth floor apartment and found a child in a back bedroom. He carried the child down five flights of stairs and applied mouth to mouth resuscitation to the child in District 5's car while en route to the Beth Israel Hospital. Fire Fighter Byrne collapsed at the hospital and was treated for smoke and heat inhalation and overexertion.

The foregoing rescue work was performed without the aid of a gas mask and before a hose line could be brought to the fire floor.

Because of the fact that Fire Fighter Byrne performed the rescue work under very difficult conditions, without regard for his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 44 of 1966.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Fighter John P. Byrne of Ladder Company 26 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

CASE OF FIRE LIEUTENANT ELLIOTT J. MILLER OF ENGINE COMPANY 52

At 12.42 P.M., December 21, 1966, the department responded to an alarm from Box 3367 for a fire in the building at 136 Greenwood street, Dorchester. Upon arrival of the apparatus, fire was issuing from all first floor windows on the right side of the building.

Fire Lieutenant Elliott J. Miller of Engine Company 52 was informed by a neighbor that there were children trapped in a bedroom on the first floor. He entered the rear bedroom through a window, made a thorough search of this room and then crawled along a hallway to another bedroom which was heavily charged with smoke, heat and gases. Upon searching this second room he found two children clasped in each others arms under a bunk bed. He carried the children to the bedroom window and passed them to members of the department who were outside.

Fire Lieutenant Miller and a doctor, who was present at the scene, accompanied the children to the Carney Hospital in the station wagon of District 8 applying mouth to mouth resuscitation en route.

Fire Lieutenant Miller performed this rescue work before charged hose lines could be brought into operation and at great risk to himself.

Because of the extreme risk to which Fire Lieutenant Miller was exposed during the rescue operation, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 3 of 1967.

The Board recommends that the name of Fire Lieutenant Elliott J. Miller of Engine Company 52 be placed on the Roll of Merit for the rescue performed on March 12, 1966, as well as this rescue of December 21, 1966.

City Hall Mourns Vicky Keblinsky

Vicky Keblinsky was never issued one of those press cards the Boston police puts out every year to identify to all and sundry the members of the Fourth Estate. But she had her favorite chair in the third floor Press Room at City Hall and a favorite window commanding a view of School and Province streets while she waited for Husband Joe to finish an epic on his battered old typewriter or spell out on the phone a long list of unpronounceable names of visiting dignitaries.

Vicky didn't need a press card. She knew and was loved by every one in the wide circle in which her husband moved daily in the pursuit of City Hall news and politics generally.

Seems only yesterday to those who sat with her at the Mayor's annual Parker House luncheon for members of the City Council and School Committee, that she was sort of an honored guest.

In his brief address at that luncheon Mayor Collins singled her out for special mention. It didn't matter that she was not an official member of the press on hand or that she was not a member of either the Council or the School Committee. But she was Vicky.

Death came to Vicky on Saturday, May 27.

She died in her beloved Worcester, but her passing brought sadness to the legion of friends she'd made in Boston and particularly in the century-old building, they call Old City Hall.

Vicky was the former Veronica R. Kerulis, wife of Joe Keblinsky, veteran Globe City Hall reporter and columnist.

Representing Boston at a Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Casimir's Church, Worcester, May 31, were many from Boston. They included Deputy Mayor Arthur G. Coffey, representing Mayor Collins who was vacationing in Ireland; Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara, Deputy Superintendent William A. Bradley, Fire Commissioner William J. Fitzgerald and Fire Chief John J. Clougherty, BRA Director Edward J. Logue, and Police Superintendent William J. Taylor.

They joined a host of Worcester civic and business leaders and a large delegation of Joe Keblinsky's Boston newspaper colleagues. A delegation from the Globe was headed by Editor Thomas Winship.

Kenneth L. Bragg

Kenneth L. Bragg of 6 St. John street, Jamaica Plain, a budget analyst for the City of Boston, died suddenly June 10. He was a long-term municipal employee and was active almost to the time of his death.

Funeral services were held June 13 at Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

Mr. Bragg was the father of Mrs. Margaret S. Anglin, Mrs. Barbara L. Shine, and Kenneth C. Bragg. Interment was at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

media to encourage businesses to make summer jobs available to the thousands of out-of-school and out-of-work youth in the ghetto areas of the nation's cities.

A second focus of the campaign is directed toward individual citizens, asking them to volunteer their services and their recreational facilities to help provide wholesome recreation for children of Boston's slum areas.

United Community Services, which is supported by the Massachusetts Bay United Fund, was asked by the Vice-President to co-ordinate the local effort to reach Greater Boston citizens and business and help them respond to this serious need.

At the request of the Vice-President, the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has installed phones in a special Summer Youth Headquarters at 14 Somerset street. UCS Volunteers man the phones throughout the day to direct anyone calling to offer a job or to volunteer his services to the proper agency.

Newspapers, radio, and television stations will be carrying public service advertising advising prospective employers and volunteers to call their telephone information operator for the number of the Summer Youth Headquarters. Or persons may call directly to 742-3900, 3901, or 3902.

C. Raymond Chase, executive director of United Community Services, and John B. Dillencourt, executive director of the Massachusetts Bay United Fund, were among some 15 health and welfare leaders from around the country who participated in a recent meeting with the President's Council in Washington where this program was outlined and their support enlisted.

Mr. Chase emphasized the seriousness of the problem, noting that some 23 percent of the nonwhite youth in Boston will be unemployed this summer.

"The problem is most serious among the youth of the city's low-income areas and is especially critical in Negro neighborhoods.

For this reason we are concentrating entirely on finding jobs and expanded recreation programs for these areas," he stated.

The Massachusetts Division of Employment Security is working closely with this campaign and all job opportunities will be handled through their offices.

Also participating in the program are Action for Boston Community Development, Boston Redevelopment Authority, Boston Youth Activities Commission, Massachusetts Division of Employment Security, Massachusetts Commonwealth Service Corps, U. S. Department of Commerce, and the U. S. Department of Justice's Community Relations Service and all United Fund agencies working with youth in the City of Boston.

On the national level, in addition to public service advertising in national magazines and on network radio and television, Vice-President Humphrey has enlisted the aid of several national organizations.

He asked all camp directors to make space available in their camps for children from city slums. All mayors and local chambers of commerce were asked by the Vice-President to contact local businesses and ask them to hire city youth for summer jobs.

Persons wishing to offer summer jobs, wanting to help send a child to camp or to volunteer their time or facilities for recreation programs are urged to call the telephone information operator or call directly to 742-3900 in Boston.

2. Replacement for Christopher Gibson and Atherton Schools: Total Area, 6.9 Acres (Est.); Property Owners, 8; Family Units, 14 (Est.).

3. Replacement for Champlain, John G. Whittier, and Florence Nightingale Schools: Total Area, 5.0 Acres (Est.); Property Owners, 28; Family Units, 80 (Est.).

Sites for two of the remaining six are under active consideration. These are the replacement for the Jefferson and Charles Bulfinch Schools and the replacement for the Norcross, George F. Hoar, and Joshua Bates Schools.

Present plans call for initiation of land-taking activity about September or October of this year with ground breaking for the three schools listed above in March or April of 1968. Opening of these schools in the fall of 1969 appears at this time to be quite possible.

Relocation of the families which will be displaced by this construction will probably be handled by a special task force under contract to this department.

Mayor Orders 50 Street Areas Set Aside For Hot Weather "Fountain Sprays"

Mayor John F. Collins on June 16 announced comprehensive plans to bring to Boston's most crowded areas during hot days and nights of the summer ahead, a chance for youngsters to enjoy the cooling spray of hydrants made fountains—to romp with gay abandon on streets barred to traffic, for their benefit.

Joining under a directive from the Mayor to provide facilities and to help take the punishment of soaring temperature out of the areas will be the city's Police, Fire, Park, and Public Works Departments. Those departments will work closely with Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD), the Boston Housing Authority, and the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

Under the Mayor's plan, to be coordinated by Director Salvatore J. Messina of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Improvement, 50 streets in crowded sections of Roxbury, Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, South Boston, South End, East Boston, Charlestown, and the North End as well as other areas, will be closed to all traffic on days in which thermometer readings reach as high as 80 degrees.

A total of 90 hydrants on these streets will be open during the day and evening to provide cool, clear water sprays. To designate the street areas set aside for the purpose, wooden horses will be placed at either end. They won't be ordinary wooden horses. They will be gaily decorated with the brightest of paint—they'll indicate to motorists—"This is a play area, it's for the kids."

Everyone May Join

And while the Mayor's idea is focused on the children he knows that adults will be benefited as well.

"There's nothing like the voices of children at play," Mayor Collins said. "The older folks can just sit and watch if they wish—or if they are so disposed they can join the youngsters in the fun."

The Mayor has made clear to the heads of the municipal departments involved of his intense interest in the plan and in its all-out supplementation.

"I am grateful to ABCD Executive Director George Bennett and Manpower Director Thomas Flood for their unstinting cooperation and the part they have played in planning the coordination of the over-all program, through the Area Planning Action Councils."

The Mayor plans to keep in touch closely with the program throughout the summer, not alone through regular reports from Director Messina but through personal observation.

Mayor Urges Regional Waste Disposal Plan

(Statement of the Hon. John F. Collins, Mayor of Boston, before the Metropolitan Affairs Committee):

After eight years of service as Mayor of Boston, I am happy to report that we are nearing a solution to the refuse disposal problem which has plagued the City of Boston. The problem is a serious one which is costing an enormous amount of money each year. In the past six years, in fact, the cost of disposing of the city's solid wastes has risen 500 percent. Briefly, the situation is this: two thirds of the city's wastes are disposed of at the South Bay incinerator which is operating at only 56 percent of its designed capacity and which produces 10 to 15 percent residue which itself must be carted away and disposed of. Some 25 percent of the city's solid wastes are accommodated at the Gardner Street dump on the banks of the Charles River. This dump is old and has nearly reached the end of its useful service. A private dump in Saugus serves the East Boston area at a cost which is already high and steadily rising.

The refuse disposal situation in Boston is costly, inefficient, and, until now, without a satisfactory future. However, the Metropolitan Area Planning Council has recently released the findings and recommendations of its 1½-year-long solid waste disposal study. This program offers the necessary direction for solving the problem which Boston shares with most of the other 78 cities and towns in the metropolitan area. The Metropolitan Area Planning Council plan recommends that a solid waste district be established and that the Metropolitan District Commission be authorized to design, construct, and operate a regional system of waste disposal facilities in cooperation with an Advisory Board composed of chief executives of the participating communities.

The program would provide relief to the City of Boston and other municipalities by making possible the construction of an efficient system of well-placed and well-designed incinerators and sanitary landfill and other types of facilities. This system would be available to any metropolitan community that wishes to use it and help pay its cost.

Only through the construction of intelligently planned large regional facilities can this problem that threatens the appearance and health of our environment be adequately solved. We cannot afford to continue paying for second- and third-class facilities. We cannot afford to rely on piecemeal community-by-community solutions. We cannot afford to further delay the necessary capital improvement and development program for solid waste disposal. We can only afford action today that brings about the process of governmental organization, financing, planning, designing, construction, and operation. By way of comment, let me say that I would hope that the agency which is designated to carry out this program will be constantly vigilant in discovering and accepting the fruits of our technology which may be applied to this particular problem. I have said this before, and I repeat it here because it is so important to any program which attempts to cope with the mounting solid waste problem.

At the present time there is before the Metropolitan Affairs Committee of the General Court a piece of legislation (House Bill 4907) which would establish a solid waste district and implement the program I have just mentioned. During the past fifteen years there have been other proposals intended to cope with this or that aspect of the solid waste problem, but H 4907 represents a comprehensive regional approach to solving the problem in a sensible, economical, and realistic way. We in the metropolitan area now have within our grasp an opportunity to deal with a common problem in a reasonable manner. Therefore, I cannot be too strong in my support for the measure now under consideration. I would urge you, in your wisdom, to take favorable action on this very important piece of legislation.

Honorary Degrees

Dr. Leon J. Taubenhaus, Department of Health and Hospitals' Deputy Commissioner for Community Health Services, and House Speaker John F. X. Davoren, were presented honorary degrees at the recent commencement exercises of the Massachusetts College of Optometry.

Fountain Sprays . . .

The program, it is anticipated, will get under way July 5 and continue for eight weeks.

Through the Area Planning Action Council set up by ABCD as the fundamental community basis of its organization, young folks will be assigned to leading roles as play directors and for bringing into the over-all program opportunities for diversified trips from the areas both for the children and adults.

NYC To Help

Also assisting in the over-all program will be the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Wherever possible plans call for the establishment of off-street tot lots and play areas.

While in some instances regular street lighting will be adequate it is the hope of planners that the Boston Edison Company can provide greater illumination for the summer.

Between 1,000 and 1,400 boys and girls 14 and 15 years old will be enrolled in this summer's special ABCD summer work program. Many of these will participate in the open street area programs.

It's tough to play hopscotch, jack taws, and stick ball on a summer night when you risk your life if you step off the curbing into swift-moving traffic. It's tougher still to face nothing to do on a broiling hot night except to go to bed and try to sleep in a room where "not a breath of fresh air" enters.

That's what Mayor Collins had in mind when he drew the preliminary plans for those closed streets.

Hawaii to Lead March

Hawaii, the 50th state, will be the first department in the 49th American Legion National Convention's mammoth parade August 28 over Boston's Back Bay and downtown streets.

The Aloha Department earned the pole position by posting the highest rate of increase in membership over its average for the past four years, the determining factor in the selection of the order of march for the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

The Hawaiian Legionnaires will follow the nearly hour-long participation by the military services and the foreign departments of the Legion, Canada, France, Italy, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, and the Philippines.

Gerhard D. Bleicken, senior executive vice-president of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, has been designated to head the advisory group.

The Congress of Cities Convention is expected to bring more than 3,000 visitors to the city, with municipal officials in attendance from the 50 states and U. S. territories.

Ralph Coates Elected

Ralph W. Coates, administrative assistant in Boston City Hospital's Department of Radiology, was voted president-elect of the American Society of Radiologic Technologists.

Mr. Coates was elected by delegates convened for the society's annual meeting in St. Louis. He will take up office as president from 1968-69.

The Society's 15,000 members, all certified radiologic technicians who may work in any of the three phases of the use of ionizing radiation, are from 50 states and numerous foreign countries.

Winning Crusaders

Boston's unofficial Musical Ambassadors, the Boston Crusaders Drum and Bugle Corps, brought home recently, new laurels to the All-American City in the form of the 1967 Shriners' International Junior Drum and Bugle Corps Championship. The Championship held in the Canadian National Exhibition Stadium in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, on Sunday, June 18, 1967, saw the Hub unit defeat seven of the best junior corps in the United States and Canada by a comfortable point score.

Entered in this tourney were such stellar units as the Chicago Cavaliers, current American Legion National Champions, the Toronto Optimists, current Canadian National Junior Champions, the Garfield Cadets, of Garfield, N. J., many times American Legion Junior Champions, and the Racine Kilties of Racine, Wis., 1964 V.F.W. Junior National Champions.

For their efforts the Crusaders were accorded a huge ovation from the sellout throng and were awarded the Shriners' International Championship flag and from the Canadian Government the flag symbolic of the celebration of Canada's confederation.

Currently the World Champions and CYO National Champions the Crusaders will make a second appearance for the North American Invitational Championship on Sunday, September 3, in Toronto.

Rutgers Speaker

Mrs. Jeannette Bramberg, Boston Public Welfare Department Social Work Supervisor assigned to the Roxbury Crossing district office, spoke at an institute at Rutgers University Graduate School of Social Work on June 5 and 6. The focus of the institute concerned ways in which social workers in health, education, and welfare settings can collaborate to improve services. One of the other speakers was Mrs. Ruth Cowin, Harvard School of Public Health, with whom Mrs. Bramberg collaborated in the Bromley-Heath Child Health Program.

State Gives Approval for Fenway Renewal Start

Clearance recently by the state of the Fenway urban renewal program opened the way for an early start on the multimillion dollar project.

The project had previously received approval of the city and federal governments. However, since a state public hearing on April 10, the Boston Redevelopment Authority was held up pending state action.

State approval of the 507-acre development came almost simultaneously with an announcement by Northeastern University of plans to erect a $6 million 14-story research center on its Huntington Avenue campus.

Described by Boston Renewal Chief Edward J. Logue as "one of the most exciting areas in the city," the Fenway section includes the Back Bay Fens parkland and Boston's greatest concentration of cultural, educational, and medical institutions.

The 507.3-acre project embraces most of the area from the Prudential Center west to Brookline town line, and from Newbury street and Park Drive south to the mainline of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

Within its boundaries is The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and the area in which the church plans to build a new center for its expanding worldwide activities and to promote a major new residential and commercial development.

The project also takes in the neighborhoods to the south and east of the Back Bay Fens and the many institutions around its periphery and along Huntington avenue.

Key elements in the over-all Fenway project include:

Construction of some 4,000 new apartments—mostly of the moderate-rental type but with some private, low-income housing for the elderly.

Rehabilitation or conservation of more than 80 percent of the existing residential structures.

Provision of about 200,000 square feet of new retail and other commercial space.

Better street lighting.

Restoration and beautification of the Back Bay Fens.

More public open spaces.

Improved traffic-flow patterns through street widenings, realignments, and some closings.

Additional off-street parking.

Plans for the orderly expansion of various institutions presently within the area.

First approved by the Boston Redevelopment Authority in November, 1965, the Fenway project cleared the City Council late the following month, and gained federal acceptance in February.

Carrying out the project will involve the relocation of some 800 families, 400 single persons, and 137 businesses, some of which already have shifted to new quarters.

The new library and educational-research center planned by Northeastern University is to be the first of three high-rise structures the school intends to build over the next 10 years, according to Dr. Asa Knowles, Northeastern president.

Many of the other 57 cultural, educational, and medical institutions within the Fenway Project plan major improvements or expansion to their property.

He leaves his wife, Catherine (Lavin); two daughters, Susan and Judith, and a son, James, all of Washington; two other sons, Kevin of Salina, Kansas, and John of Westwood; two sisters, Mrs. Anne Baronie of Boston and Mrs. Mary Kirke of Revere, and two brothers, Charles of Arlington and Patrick of Charlestown.

BRA Progress Reports

At a recent meeting the Boston Redevelopment Authority reported on progress in the Washington Park, South End, Government Center, and Fenway projects.

WASHINGTON PARK, ROXBURY—Development Director Edward J. Logue, in a status report on the proposed Dudley Square Civic Center, said final architectural designs for the courthouse, library, and police station should be completed in three months.

No construction, however, anticipated until the spring of 1968, he reported.

It also was disclosed that the delayed Washington Street Shopping Center, near the proposed Washington Park Boulevard extension, may be soon revived.

A new group indicating interest in developing the parcel includes Joel B. Wilder, Irving Levy, Theodore W. Berenson, Arthur Schactman, and Albert L. Manley, who have incorporated as "Washington Plaza Associates."

It was disclosed that the development would have a 15,000-square foot A & P Supermarket as a major tenant. A 7,200 square-foot area would be divided into smaller stores.

SOUTH END—The BRA authorized landtakings of 85 properties in June.

The Board also examined architectural proposals from Franklin Institute for a $5 million school and dormitory complex along Tremont Street near the toll road extension and across from the 500-unit Castle Square private housing development.

The plans were shown by Samuel Mintz of the architectural firm of Pard, Inc. School officials anticipated a summer, 1969 construction target date.

GOVERNMENT CENTER—The Board approved preliminary architectural designs for rehabilitation of the Sears Crescent. The designs show ground floor space for shops and small restaurants with permanent awning fronts and large glassed areas.

A "pub" will be located in the basement while upper floors will have office space.

The Board hired the new City Hall architects, Kallmann and McKinnell, to prepare architectural drawings for Pemberton Square Plaza area.

The Board also approved final architectural plans for a three-story Jewish Family and Children's Service Center building to be built on Chardon street. A September 1 construction date is anticipated.

FENWAY—Launched the first action in the recently approved Fenway project with approval of a $200,000, two-year contract with the Universal Engineering Corporation for engineering services and studies on sewers, water, parks, playgrounds, streets, lighting, traffic controls, and police and fire systems.

Food Stamp Program

The Senate Agriculture Committee has recommended a three-year extension and expansion of the Federal Food Stamp Program. The panel approved outlays of $200 million in 1967-68, $225 million the following year, and $250 million the year after. A companion bill in the House of Representatives Agriculture Committee sets a requirement that the states or local agencies pay 20 percent of the cost starting with fiscal 1970.

The Senate bill would also require funding of the future food stamp costs from the treasury. In the past, customs receipts from agricultural imports had been diverted to meet part of the costs.

BULLFIGHTERS' FRIEND

In Spain many streets and monuments are named "Dr. Fleming," for the discoverer of penicillin is beloved throughout the country. Thanks to the doctor's drug, bullfighters who might have died of wounds received from bull horns live to fight another day.

IT'S IN THE CAN

Tin cans are the latest in gift packaging at one New York store. The colorful cans come in two sizes: the smaller, 4½ inches deep, is for ties, belts and jewelry; the larger 8½-inch can holds a sweater or shirt, lingerie, glass or silverware. After selecting a gift, the customer takes it to the canning counter. Once the gift is sealed in, nothing but the kitchen can opener can perform the undoing.

BRA and B.U. Medical School to Join in Plan to Ease Relocation Burdens

Another dimension will be added to urban renewal when a new program to "determine the effects of mental health services during relocation" begins at Boston University Medical Center this summer.

In a joint statement made by Boston Redevelopment Authority Administrator, Edward J. Logue, Medical Center Director, Dr. Lewis H. Rohrbaugh, and Dr. Bernard Bandler, Director of Psychiatry, Boston University Medical Center, it was disclosed that the National Institute of Mental Health has awarded a four-year study grant of $557,846. This is the first such program in the country and, according to the announcement, will have wide application to other relocation programs throughout the country.

Mr. Logue, Development Administrator of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, said, "This is another example of the Redevelopment Authority's efforts to humanize the renewal program. The Family Relocation Department, under the direction of Walter L. Smart, has tremendously increased services to families in an effort to assist all families to make a good adjustment in their new housing. This study will assist the Redevelopment Authority and other agencies in developing a more precise method and approach and should increase the effectiveness of the relocation program."

The three principal agencies involved are the Boston Redevelopment Authority; Boston University Medical Center, Division of Psychiatry; and United South End Settlements, through the South End Family Relocation Program.

Family relocation resulting from urban renewal has become a significant activity throughout the country. In the South End, where the Medical Center and the Redevelopment Authority will operate this new program, relocation will affect at least 3,500 families and single individuals. Previous relocation efforts in Boston and elsewhere have indicated that the relocation process uncovers many families characterized by economic, social, emotional, and physical problems. These problems impede relocation despite the variety of available supportive services. This program is designed to give highly intensive services to such people in the expectation that such an approach will encourage them to make significant improvements.

Many people now living in areas slated for urban renewal have had little or no mental health assistance from mental health agencies, due in part to a lack of knowledge of the existence of these agencies. Most agencies require that those in need come to them, but many individuals are not able to, due to lack of time or knowledge of their programs.

Too often these families are considered "unmotivated," although it has been adequately demonstrated

Ford Foundation Awards

The Ford Foundation has awarded a $375,000 grant to Northeastern University to establish a research professorship in cooperative education.

The nation's first endowed chair in cooperative education, the professorship will be filled on a long-term basis by a scholar from the social sciences who is able to approach the field from an objective viewpoint and act as teacher, research director, consultant, and curriculum advisor.

Northeastern President Asa S. Knowles announced that "a search will begin promptly to discover and attract to this important position a very distinguished scholar. It is anticipated that the first appointment to the new endowed professorship will be effective not earlier than January 1, 1968."

President Knowles said the Ford grant will be matched by Northeastern and the income from this total endowment of the professorship will cover the annual salary, secretarial services, and travel for the appointee.

As the leading institution in cooperative education, Northeastern has been cooperating with the Fund for the Advancement of Education of the Ford Foundation as advisor to aspiring cooperative education programs elsewhere.

The purpose of the Foundation's matching assistance in establishing the chair is to strengthen and make that with "outreach" approaches they can establish a relationship of trust, and can become involved in problem-solving and be helped.

A recent study conducted in the South End by the Medical Center Division of Psychiatry on multi-problem families has shown that even those families whose problems might have been considered insoluble can be reached and helped through a comprehensive and intensive mental health program.

The new program is aimed at finding out whether the introduction of mental health services during relocation can affect the social functioning of the individuals and families. A selected sample of the relocation caseload will be offered a comprehensive and well-coordinated pattern of innovative mental health services as an addition to existing available help.

Dr. Bandler, Chief of Psychiatry at Boston University Medical Center and the program's director, said, "relocation imposes a crisis situation on many individuals and families involved in it. For some people relocation means an uprooting, a loss of familiar neighborhood, friends, stores, schools, churches, helping agencies, and other supports which help to maintain and stabilize their lives. Even the most well adapted families experience stress and problems in relocation. But for those who have problems in coping with their present environment, relocation, without adequate assistance, can pose overwhelming problems."

Dr. Bandler will be assisted by two codirectors: Charles W. Liddell, Executive Director of United South End Settlements; and Walter L. Smart, Director of Family Relocation for the Redevelopment Authority. Dr. Ira Goldberg will be Program Administrator.

Cooperating with him will be David Liederman, Director of Relocation of the South End Family Relocation Program. The professional staff will include Dr. Marc A. Fried, Director, Institute of Human Sciences, Boston College, who will consult on evaluation, and Mrs.

Louise Bandler, Professor, Simmons School of Social Work, consultant on social services. Dr. Ralph Notman of Boston University Medical Center will serve as consultant.

Congratulatory telegrams were received from Senators Edward M. Kennedy and Edward W. Brooke.

Senator Kennedy: This major grant to the Boston University Medical Center, the Boston Redevelopment Authority, and the United South End Settlements should make a significant contribution to our ability to aid relocated families throughout the nation in adjusting to the difficulties of relocation. I am proud that federal funds will make possible this pioneer program in Boston, and that Boston University Medical Center will bring its considerable resources to the study.

Senator Brooke: The effects of relocation on families across the country have for some time merited the attention of those of us concerned with the problems of our cities. The important federally funded study to be conducted by Boston University Medical Center, the Boston Redevelopment Authority, and the United South End Settlements should point the way to improved methods of easing the transition for these families.

Welfare Rule Eased

The Boston Welfare Department has been authorized by the State Department of Public Welfare to implement immediately a "client's declaration of eligibility" plan and to suspend the conventional methods of eligibility verification on all categories of public assistance.

Essentially, this means that the client is now the principal source of information in connection with the establishment of eligibility and that any referral to a collateral source, such as writing to a bank, employer, etc., is no longer done without the client's specific permission.

Now it is no longer necessary, unless there is reason to believe that the data is not accurate, for a social worker to secure birth and marriage records or verification of unemployment to prove an applicant's eligibility for a welfare program.

Boston Welfare Director Daniel I. Cronin says that the "client's declaration method should greatly relieve the activity in the Intake units throughout his department, and should virtually eliminate the extra administrative steps that were involved in the older method. More importantly, it should help speed public assistance to the person in need."

The Boston Welfare Department announced that the office hours at the Grove Hall district unit are now 8.30 A.M. to 5.30 P.M.

The workday has been extended the extra hour in order to make the department's professional services more available to the residents of the area.

more permanent this advisory capacity, President Knowles said.

Northeastern's advisory role was formally established in 1965 when its Center for Cooperative Education was founded under a three-year, $142,900 grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education. The Center, which is currently counselling about 45 colleges on the establishment or improvement of co-op systems, is directed by Roy L. Wooldridge, who is also vice-president for cooperative education at Northeastern University.

Since 1965, Northeastern University has been counselling six institutions which had received grants from the Fund to establish co-op programs. The Center also provides consulting services to institutions that are not financed by the Fund and consults with institutions that have established co-op programs.

In addition, the Center has provided a variety of services to various organizations, agencies and individuals in response to specific requests.

There are a number of different types of co-op systems, but all are based on the alternation of periods of study and paid work, with the work usually related to the student's academic interests.

The system began as a small experiment at the University of Cincinnati in 1906. Today, 100 colleges and universities offer cooperative education in one or more of their curricula. Among them, they enroll 50,000 students actively on co-op and 15,000 freshmen who will go on co-op in their sophomore year. The co-op students work for 3,500 employers across the nation and abroad and earn about $90 million annually.

Northeastern is the largest co-op institution in the world, with 7,200 students on co-op out of about 12,000 fulltime undergraduates.

Northeastern University students take five years to earn their bachelor's degrees; after a traditional freshman year they begin alternating periods of work and study, and are in school or on the job for four full calendar years.

By graduation they have the equivalent of two years of work experience, usually in jobs related to their academic majors.

Interest in cooperative education is growing, as witnessed by the Ford Foundation's financial support of the system, and by the fact that President Johnson has recommended an amendment of the federal College Work-Study Program which would allow federal support of cooperative education projects.

Vacation Hazards

"The summer vacation season has arrived bringing with it the special hazards of summer driving," Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin said.

"More than one million school children have left their classrooms for outdoor play. Nearly 100,000 more automobiles and drivers are operating on our streets this summer than last year. Thousands of additional motorcycles are on the road this summer. Hundreds of thousands of out-of-state visitors will be traveling on our highways," said the Registrar.

"All of this adds up to one thing: the potential for death and disaster on Massachusetts highways is the highest in its history. The 1967 death and accident rate is already much worse than the same period in 1966. We are going to have an all-time record for carnage unless the drivers, themselves, come to their senses and drive cautiously, sensibly, courteously, and soberly."

The Registrar said that the universal use of seat belts and the equally universal abstention from liquor at the wheel could cause a startling cutback in deaths and accidents—perhaps as much as a two-thirds reduction.

"In the vernacular," said the Registrar, "it all boils down to using the right type of 'belts'."

School Book Suit

The City of Boston has filed a $1 million damage suit against 21 publishers and three wholesalers of children's school books.

The claim, filed in United States District Court, charges the publishers and wholesalers with violating antitrust laws by conspiring to fix prices on textbooks and other volumes produced for elementary and secondary schools.

The suit said the publishers enforced their uniform prices on wholesalers under "threats or reprisals or loss of sources of supply." The city said the action forced it to buy inferior books at inflated prices for its libraries and schools.

Title V Shows Results

A report from the Massachusetts Department of Welfare shows that the federally financed Title V Work Training Program is saving $80,000 monthly in state-local public assistance costs. Commissioner Robert F. Ott says that of the more than 5,000 persons who have been enrolled in the program over half have made "successful progress."

The report shows that of the 2,738 men and women "no longer in the program," about 1,473 have made tangible gains: Six hundred and eighteen have found employment immediately following completion of training; seventy have entered advanced vocational instruction, and another one hundred and twenty-five were hired by sponsoring agencies before completing training.

In 18 Massachusetts cities, some 2,410 persons are presently receiving training in the program which is funded with $11,330,000 from the Office of Economic Opportunity. The Commonwealth ranks sixth in the nation in the number of trainees assigned to Title V.

West End Branch, Too

Geraldine Herrick, BPL's North End Branch Librarian, has assumed responsibility of the soon-to-be reopened West End Branch of the Boston Public Library. In announcing her appointment for the joint administration of both branches, library officials directed attention to the development of stronger units of service in the branch libraries.

Mrs. Herrick has been the branch librarian at the North End Branch since 1953. She has guided its activity in difficult working conditions imposed by an old, two-story building through a transition to much more effective, modern service in a well-designed, functional new building.

Prior to the opening of the new West End Branch, Mrs. Herrick will be in constant communication with architects and library officials regarding the interior design and layout for the new building. She will also be responsible for the selection of a well-rounded book collection to service readers.

MODERN ART

A Boston mother was pleased but puzzled with the Christmas card her son brought home from kindergarten. It showed a scraggly looking tree with presents dangling from it, and in the center something that looked strangely like a bullet. Explained the youngster, "It's not a Christmas tree—it's a cart-ridge in a pear tree."

Breuer Named By Public Facilities Board

Marcel Breuer of New York, noted architect, will design the 5,000-pupil central high school at Roxbury's Madison Park.

The Public Facilities Commission voted 3 to 0 to hire Mr. Breuer on recommendation of Director Malcolm Dudley, who had met twice with Mr. Breuer in the past six weeks.

Mr. Dudley said he expected the facility would cost "between $15 and $20 million." Construction is not expected to begin until late 1968.

A former professor at the Harvard School of Design and a graduate of Walter Gropius' Bauhaus School in Germany in the 1920's, Mr. Breuer designed the new Whitney Museum of American Art in New York.

His design for a Franklin Delano Roosevelt Memorial in Washington is awaiting approval by Congress.

Madison Park, a 36-acre site chosen last year by the School Committee, is an abandoned, litter-strewn lot. The proposed Southwest Expressway and the Inner Belt will abut the site, which will contain some low-income housing.

Superintendent of Schools William H. Obrenberger voted to engage Mr. Breuer, along with fellow Commissioners William Fisher and Arthur Coffey. The new central school is expected to draw pupils from all parts of the city, relieving overcrowding in some district high schools and preventing further racial imbalance.

The general plan calls for six co-educational houses of 600 pupils each, with self-contained library and eating facilities. A central complex will serve all students for administration and athletics, with more buildings added gradually to raise capacity to about 5,000.

Preliminary plans have been approved by the Mayor and City Council and submitted to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington for study and funding.

Mayor Collins Welcomes National Convention of NAACP

On June 27, Mayor Collins issued the following statement in connection with the coming National Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People:

"Today it has been my pleasure to receive an official invitation to participate in the 58th National Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which will be held in Boston from July 10 to 15, 1967. The Sheraton-Boston Hotel will serve as the Convention Headquarters.

"This organization, founded in 1909, is supported nationally by approximately one-half million members of all races and religions.

"The NAACP has been one of the major organizations in this country whose efforts in the area of civil rights have brought many long-denied constitutional guarantees to many fellow Americans. Through its belief in the great democratic principles on which our government was founded and by means of pursuing every legal means available, it has helped to chart the course to perfecting our great nation.

"More than 5,000 delegates and their families are expected to attend this five-day meeting; and many, no doubt, will extend their trip to vacation throughout New England.

"On behalf of the City of Boston, its residents, and its business and civic leadership, I wish to express our appreciation to the National Office of the NAACP for honoring our city by selecting it as the 1967 Convention site.

"I hope that all of those who attend the Convention will visit our many points of historical interest and that they will learn to know and love our New Boston as we do.

Police General Order

The following General Order issued by Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara was sent to all bureaus, divisions, and districts of the Boston Police Department on June 27:

"I have been officially and personally disturbed by the recent press releases from the office of the Attorney General stating that the decision to nol pros the charges against one of the persons arrested in the recent Grove Hall disturbances, and to reduce the charges against twelve others, was made with the understanding that officials of the Boston Police Department had agreed that the available evidence was insufficient to support these complaints.

For the record, may I state unequivocally that at no time did I, or any other Boston police official, agree that this decision by the Attorney General not to prosecute would have our approval, concurrence, or endorsement in any way.

"As every Boston police officer is understandably concerned, I have this day notified the Attorney General in writing of the official position of the Police Department in this matter in order that there can be no further misunderstanding."

K. of C. Developer

The Boston Redevelopment Authority has been asked to designate the Massachusetts Knights of Columbus as developer for some 300 housing units to be built adjacent to the North End as part of the water front renewal area.

The organization would be awarded a 234,000 square-foot parcel, bounded generally by Mercantile street, Atlantic avenue, Lewis street, Fulton street, Tunnel street, and the Fitzgerald Expressway.

Development Administrator Edward J. Logue made the recommendation from 23 possible developers. The K. of C. would hire famed architect John Carl Warnicke, who is the designer of the Kennedy grave site in Washington.

Stiff Fines Sought

The Boston Law Department has recommended that the City Council increase fines on persons who interfered with firemen and their equipment.

Corporation Counsel James J. Sullivan said the fine could be increased from $20 to $50, but that is the maximum for violation of city ordinances.

He noted, however, that under criminal law anyone who damages a fire alarm system or fire equipment could be punished by up to seven years in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Attorneys said the cash amount of the claims will not be known until an inventory is completed.

Filing the claims were Eileen's Fashion Store, Harry's Five to $1, Jacob Brothers Green Key Shop, Spinalle's Sandwich Shop, and Glazer Hardware Company.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Recessed Meeting

Wednesday, April 26, 1967.

Recessed meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President HYNES in the chair, and all the members present.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

RESOLUTION FOR COMPREHENSIVE MODEL CITY PROGRAM

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 26, 1967.

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen:

You as members of the City Council and I as Mayor are elected on a city-wide basis to serve all of the people of Boston. Our service takes many different forms and in recent years, with such programs as Urban renewal, has involved dealing in part with specific geographic areas of the city. This administration, with the continuing support of a clear majority of the Boston City Council, has followed a policy of close and continuing consultation with the people in the various communities proposed for urban renewal, code enforcement and other programs.

With the single exception of the North Harvard Project, we have followed a policy of not proceeding unless we have the consent of the community. Our experience in the North Harvard Project has reinforced this policy and indicated a need for a change in our approach to that project. In the specific cases of the Parker Hill area and the St. Botolph Street section of the Back Bay where sufficient community support was lacking, we eliminated these areas from consideration for the urban renewal program. In the other neighborhood renewal projects—Washington Park, South End, South Cove and Fenway—the neighborhood support was overwhelming. The reason for this was that the community had been thoroughly consulted. Even in the clearance project proposed for the Madison Park area, after some initial misunderstandings, community support became loud and clear.

To the best of my knowledge, there is not another city in America that can point to a record of achievement that will match this in the way of community consultation.

In the new and seriously under-funded Poverty Program, we in Boston have been involved with the direct representatives of the poor to a degree that will match any other community in the country. The principal of community participation and involvement has been respected here.

In the Model Neighborhood Program we have the most comprehensive effort at improving a deteriorated area that the federal government has yet espoused. We have no assurances at this time that the funds to carry the program will be available. All that we know is that we have a chance in competition with other cities for a share in the meager planning funds that have been made available.

At this early stage, even before we have any assurances of receiving planning funds, I am entirely unwilling to make a commitment to a specific mechanism for community participation. There are differences within the proposed Model Neighborhood as to what mechanism should be used and there are differences as to who represents the community. Indeed, at the present time, there is no formal organization or entity in existence to which powers could be accorded. It would be a serious mistake in judgment to attempt at this time to anticipate a delegation of powers to an organization which does not exist. Furthermore, this administration will require the usual assurances of financial responsibility and proper fiscal controls, from whatever organization coming into existence as a result of the proposed elections or any other device the community may choose, before public funds are expended by it or in its behalf.

Beyond that, the opportunity of the Model Neighborhood Program is to create additional opportunities for employment and service in the community, and here is where I think the community organizations and community development corporations can have a critical and perhaps even inspiring role.

To attempt to shut off the debate on the form of participation with a mechanical solution of the kind recommended in Councillor McDonough's report to the City Council, which does not have the support it should have from the community, is a serious mistake. A resolution containing that kind of condition is a resolution which I cannot support and will not transmit to Washington.

I pledge to you and the people in the community that we in this administration will speak to develop and improve our means of consultation with this community and we will explore every possible way of doing this. Let it be quite clear, however, that the ultimate control of and responsibility for this program must rest with the properly elected officials of the City of Boston, which officials are the only persons responsible, in turn, to all the people of Boston.

All of us in Boston can benefit from this program because this area not only needs improvement for the sake of the people who live there, it needs improvement for the sake of all of the people in Boston.

I urge that you not permit the city to miss this opportunity.

I hope you will endorse the attached resolution which is directly in line with the federal suggestion, which I believe is the wisest course to follow.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOSTON CITY COUNCIL APPROVING REQUEST FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO PLAN AND DEVELOP A COMPREHENSIVE CITY DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM.

Whereas, The City of Boston desires to undertake a comprehensive program to rebuild or revitalize large slum and blighted areas and generally improve living conditions for the people who live in such areas; and

OPPOSITION TO CERTAIN BILLS ESTABLISHING A SPECIFIC FORM OF MODEL CITIES AGENCY

Whereas, The City of Boston is filing an application for federal grant under the Model Neighborhood Program; and

Whereas, A Model Neighborhood Agency must be created to administer and run the program; and

Whereas, The City Council is committed to giving the 62,500 people of Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, and Roxbury, who live in Boston's proposed Model Neighborhood Area, a major role in creating the Model Neighborhood Agency; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council will not approve the creation of a Model Neighborhood Agency until such agency is endorsed and supported by the people who live in the proposed Model City Neighborhood; now therefore be it Resolved, That the Boston City Council is opposed to the passage of S 220 and H 2368 which would authorize the establishment of a specific form of a Model Cities Agency and sets forth the powers and duties thereof; and be it further

Director Cronin Tells Mayor's Committee Work of Boston Welfare Department

(Following is the testimony of Welfare Director Daniel I. Cronin before the committee appointed by Mayor Collins to study local welfare conditions):

I am pleased to be here to have this opportunity to present, on behalf of the department and of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare for whom I work, some brief testimony in regard to the issues which your committee has under review. When the Fact-Finding Committee was announced by Mayor Collins, the Welfare Department indicated that we welcomed an inquiry by your committee and would cooperate in every possible way to assist you in a better understanding of the Welfare Department activities in the Roxbury Crossing-Grove Hall areas and to share with you some of the department's efforts and goals in trying to improve welfare services both in Roxbury and in the city as a whole.

My remarks will center principally around the category of family assistance known as Aid to Families with Dependent Children. However, to give an overview of the total department program, the committee should know that we have approximately 1,000 employees, and that we will expend this year, $76 million on public assistance and medical payments. Excluded from this total are the cost of administration and the special $1½ million federal grant under which family heads receive training and work experience under Title V of the Economic Opportunity Act. In the field of the aging, the department provides assistance under the Old Age Assistance and Medical Assistance programs to some 20,000 persons representing more than one fifth, in fact almost one fourth of all elderly persons who reside in Boston. Under the program of Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled, 4,200 disabled persons receive assistance, and under the category of General Relief, some 3,000 cases, including 400 families, receive assistance. Under the program of Medicaid, which has been enacted within the past ten months, we are presently extending the comprehensive medical benefits available to public assistance clients to many thousands of children from the families of low-wage earners.

In the category of AFDC the department presently is serving 10,900 families. Included in these families are some 33,000 children. The caseload today represents a 100 percent growth in the past six years. Three points should be noted here:

1. The flight to the suburbs of the economically advantaged families and the tendency of the less advantaged families to remain in the core city.

2. The liberalization of the program to provide assistance, not only to those families which were traditionally eligible due to the absence, death, or illness of the wage earner, but to the intact family where the father is temporarily unemployed.

3. Liberalizations of the program, e.g., income exemptions which enable families to continue on assistance after teenage youngsters and mothers receive employment; extension of the program to include families in which a child under 21 years of age is still attending school or college; and recognition of eligibility during periods of temporary illness of the wage earner.

Massachusetts' level of assistance on the program of AFDC is second only to that of New York among the fifty states and is a tribute to the generosity of our citizenry and to the liberal approach which has been taken in funding this program by both our state Legislature and municipal governments.

I wish to be clear that there is, indeed, further room for improvement and to make clear where the philosophy of the department and its Board of Overseers stands in regard to this subject. In regard to the AFDC families, those of us who administer the program would prefer a national system which guarantees to low-income families a decent income level with considerably fewer eligibility and investigatory steps involved in such a process. One of the very valid efforts of the Mothers for Adequate Welfare during this month of June in Boston and other cities throughout the country is to bring more attention on the national level to the need for a national children's allowance system or a guaranteed income method which would supersede the present public assistance approach. A year ago the Board of Overseers petitioned the State Department of Public Welfare to determine whether or not the AFDC program could be extended to the families of low-

Urban Training Center

Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) has received a $293,163 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity to develop a comprehensive training program designed to serve the needs of Boston's anti-poverty program.

The program will set up an Urban Training Center which will train needy people as poverty workers and community organizers. The Center's services will be available to all residents living within a 30-mile radius of Boston.

The goals of the Urban Training Center will be to improve the achievement of anti-poverty employees through training, to train volunteers to perform their duties more effectively, and to train neighborhood leaders.

Head Start Opens

Boston's Head Start Program will officially begin July 3 and continue through August 25. It will serve 900 children and classes will be held in Child Development Centers located in 37 public schools and one private facility. There will be fifteen pupils assigned to each class.

To be eligible for Head Start, a child must be four years and ten months of age and scheduled to enter kindergarten or the first grade for the first time in September. Economically, the Office of Economic Opportunity has set the following income guidelines for 90 percent of the Head Start enrollees: $2,000 for a two-person family plus $500 for each additional dependent.

Police Wives Elect

The Boston Police Wives Association elected a new slate of officers for the ensuing year at a meeting at the Boston Police Post, VFW, on Morton street, Mattapan.

Elected president was Mary T. Santry of Dorchester; Bernadette Foley, vice-president; Virginia Canning, treasurer; Joanne Stanley, recording secretary; Joan Walsh, corresponding secretary; and Grace Ellard, financial secretary.

Haymarket MBTA Exits

Exit and entrance stairways to Haymarket MBTA Station will be closed because of construction of the Boston Redevelopment Authority's Government Center garage.

Green Line street cars will still operate through the station but access and egress will be through the Union street entrance, which is near Haymarket square.

Construction of the garage will take approximately a year and a half.

ABCD Gets New Grant

Approval of an $808,864 federal grant to Action for Boston Community Development for the continued operation of eight neighborhood employment centers in Boston's South End has been announced.

The grant, issued by the Office of Economic Opportunity, will help finance programs in job testing, counselling and placement services, job development and supporting services.

Pru Concerts

The big brass band and pink lemonade return to Boston with the opening of the Summer Concert Series in Prudential Center on Wednesday, July 12.

The Pru Center concerts will spotlight the 30-piece "New Gazebo Band" under the direction of Bandmaster Walter Smith, long-time conductor of the favorite Jenney band concerts in Merrymount Park in Quincy.

The Summer Band Concerts starting at 7.30 Wednesday nights through the summer months will feature ninety minutes of the stirring marches of Sousa and Goldman, the old bandstand favorites of Strauss and Herbert, and pink lemonade.

The twilight concerts are being sponsored by the Pru to reestablish the tradition of summer evening band music once heard on every New England village green. They will be free to the public.

Alma Heldt Retires

Logan Hotel Top-Off

The 10-story tower addition to Logan International Hotel was topped off recently in ceremonies attended by more than 50 business and civic leaders.

A helicopter hoisted three 8-foot letters, the initials of the Boston-based Hotel Corporation of America, to the top of the structure.

Roger P. Sonnabend, president of H.C.A.; Edward J. King, executive director of the Massachusetts Port Authority; Robert Golbach, vice-president of H.C.A. motor hotel division, and James Kelly, general manager of the Logan International Hotel, helped attach the giant letters to the building.

Following the topping off ceremonies a luncheon was held in the hotel for guests.

The new construction is the first of a three-step expansion program to increase the facilities of the hotel and its rooms to 600 by 1972.

In the first phase, a fifth floor was built on the old four-story hotel. Then a 10-story tower with 114 rooms was constructed. Finally, existing cocktail lounges, the lobby and dining room were redecorated at a cost of $1.7 million.

Plans call for the second stage to begin this year. This includes another twin tower, new function and dining facilities and a new lobby.

The third phase calls for two 10-story tower buildings providing 160 rooms to be constructed in 1971-72.

IT'S IN THE CAN

Tin cans are the latest in gift packaging at one New York store. The colorful cans come in two sizes: the smaller, 4½ inches deep, is for ties, belts and jewelry; the larger 8½-inch can holds a sweater or shirt, lingerie, glass or silverware. After selecting a gift, the customer takes it to the canning counter. Once the gift is sealed in, nothing but the kitchen can opener can perform the undoing.

Welfare . . .

wage earners. Federal legislation is needed to accomplish this. One of our greatest problems, yet unsolved, is to provide supplementation to large families when the father's wages are below minimum welfare budget levels. Many men who have been trained under Welfare Department training programs move out into the community at wages below the amount available to them in AFDC under the welfare training program. A typical case, which came to our attention during the week, was that of a man with five children whose income under AFDC, including special training allowance, amounted to $105 a week over the past six months while he has been trained as an office worker through experience gained on the job and through special schooling. This gentleman, now that he is trained to accept employment, cannot find a job with a salary of more than $75 a week. This amount is totally inadequate for a family of seven persons.

Since AFDC funds cannot be used to supplement the wages of a fully employed man it is most essential that action be taken in this state to provide state funding for General Relief and the establishment of standards of assistance which will assure supplementation of wages in cases like that just mentioned. Mayor Collins and the Board of Overseers have filed legislation each year requesting an increase in the state aid formula. At the present time Mayor Collins, the Board of Overseers, and this speaker as an individual are all clearly on record in supporting Senate 804 which would assure appropriate state financing and the extension of the relief standards available to AFDC families to the program of General Relief under which wage supplements could be permitted.

To relate to the specific issues of the past month, let me say the following: Over the past 20 months the department had made every effort to work cooperatively with various recipient groups throughout the city known as the Mothers for Adequate Welfare. Several of our present programs and policies were initiated or accelerated following requests from the Mothers for Adequate Welfare. Examples are the surplus food distribution program which was mounted 20 months ago; a plan under which the total budgeted need of the family when the husband is separated is paid to the recipient and contributions made by an absent husband are turned over to Welfare by the court; and the development of a recipient handbook, soon to be released, which outlines the more essential rights and benefits of the program. It is important to understand that the Welfare Department recognizes the right of recipients to organize and its own responsibility to cooperate and respond in every way to the requests and recommendations of the Mothers for Adequate Welfare or other recipient groups. In this regard it is worth noting that the department developed about a year ago a community relations unit consisting of a Social Work Supervisor and a trained Social Worker whose principal assignments are to work with the Mothers for Adequate Welfare groups throughout the city.

At the present time we have indicated to the mothers' representatives that their cooperation is welcomed in three areas that are currently before us:

1. Development of neighborhood suboffices of our main welfare centers.

2. Exploration and understanding of the food stamp bonus program which will supersede the surplus commodity program on September 1.

3. Serving on a committee which has been working in an effort to improve the quality of furniture, appliances, and other household items which must be given in many cases, with the end in view of eliminating the traditional use of second-hand and refurbished equipment.

Another arrangement which the mothers recently talked about related to a Grievance Committee. You will be interested to know that

Horse's Right of Way

Motor vehicle operators are reminded by Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin that an existing law requires that they STOP when driving toward a horse or other draft animal and remain stationary to allow the animal to pass. When traveling in the same direction as the animal, drivers must use reasonable caution in passing.

Section 14 of the motor vehicle laws, rules and regulations also provides that a driver shall IMMEDIATELY STOP his vehicle and the motor propelling it—no matter in which direction he is heading—when approaching a horse or other draft animal being led, ridden, or driven, IF the animal appears to be frightened or if the person in charge of the animal signals to do so.

"While collisions between motor vehicles and these animals are extremely rare, serious accidents to their riders may be caused if an animal bolts when frightened or startled by an automobile."

The Registrar suggested that motor vehicle drivers use a great deal of caution and common sense when in areas near bridle paths or whenever they observe such animals.

SKYSCRAPER SECRET

"I've been watching a couple of skyscrapers go up in my neighborhood," writes Robert Sylvester. "The guys stick steel beams together and pin them with some rivets. Now I know what holds those new buildings together—the wall-to-wall carpeting."

ODD-FIXING?

When columnist Charles McHarry mentioned that men and women use different techniques for striking matches, Ernest A. Safford wrote: "Actually, a man strikes a match toward himself and a woman strikes it away from herself. Don't just take my word for this. Watch a thousand people light a match and you'll see. And may I suggest you watch in the proportion of nine women to one man. Your research will be more enjoyable this way."

Welfare . . .

the Board of Overseers at its last meeting developed a preliminary plan under which a grievance procedure may be developed on which representatives of clients could serve. Details of this procedure are yet to be announced and are to be reviewed with both state and federal officials.

I think it is very important for the committee to know that in several of the areas where there appeared to be differences between the requests of the Mothers for Adequate Welfare and the department administration, clarification and light may now shine because we will adopt in Massachusetts as of July 1, 1967 (which is just two days from now), a totally changed system of eligibility investigation which substantially changes the approach of welfare departments towards their clients and reemphasizes the basic human dignity and the basic rights of the clients. This new system which has been developed by both federal and state welfare agencies assures that all activity of the social worker in acting upon applications or requests for assistance will be carried on in a manner which will enable each recipient to maintain his personal dignity and integrity, respects his constitutional rights and affords him protection under chapter 6 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and any other additional rights created by law.

While these approaches have always been in effect, the new system establishes the applicant or recipient as the primary source of information concerning his eligibility and provides that resort to any other sources of information which may be necessary to establish eligibility will not be made without prior consultation or communication with the client. Essentially the new system eliminates a substantial amount of routinized and detailed investigatory steps which have been traditional in the program, releases the social worker from unnecessary paper work and will enable her, the social worker, to direct her energies more fully to providing services to the families and children and helping in the total process of improving family life and restoring families to a condition of self-support. All public assistance clients are being informed of this clarification of their rights under the AFDC program and training meetings are being developed with the welfare staff to assure total understanding of the new philosophy and system.

As I have previously indicated, both to this committee and to the community, the Welfare Department and I, as the Director, have no rancor toward the Mothers for Adequate Welfare or their various advisors as the result of the happenings of the past four weeks. Our sole purpose as Social Workers and Public Welfare Administrators is to serve our clients, and particularly to develop, on behalf of the many thousands of children on AFDC the highest quality of service and the optimum opportunities for growth and development to successful adulthood.

The Social Workers assigned to family casework in the City of Boston, particularly the Social Workers at Grove Hall, are a highly competent, well trained group of dedicated public servants. Their performance, particularly in the past month, their calmness, courage and cooperation in every possible way are most heartening.

Specifically, in the Grove Hall area, we have accelerated our efforts to decentralize into satellite offices some of the services that are offered in that building. Eight months ago a field office was established in the Roslindale area which enabled us to relocate from the Grove Hall building some 18 personnel and some 1,500 cases, for the most part Old Age Assistance cases, to these new quarters. Tomorrow we are opening a satellite office at the Franklin Field Housing Project to enable us to serve some 1,100 elderly and disabled clients from that section of the area through a new office.

The department is currently negotiating for office space in the area of Dudley Street, Washington Park, and the North Dorchester-South Dorchester line in order to further develop neighborhood offices which will serve family caseloads. Mayor Collins has given total support to this effort and has directed the department to move toward immediate opening of these neighborhood centers. These centers will make it possible to provide a wider range of services to families and to work more closely with the many community agencies that have developed in the Roxbury-North Dorchester area.

A final point on which I want to make brief comment relates to personnel. The department is currently in the process of adding more than 100 staff persons in order to meet the caseload-staff requirements which have been established by federal and state agencies. Many of this staff have already been hired and preliminary trained. At Grove Hall the personnel now on hand is sufficient to bring caseloads completely in line with the recommended standard of a Social Worker for each 60 family cases, and a Social Worker for each 180 OAA or other adult cases in which service needs do not occur.

I honestly believe that the City of Boston Welfare Department, with total cooperation from the State Welfare Department and the multiple governmental and nongovernmental social agencies with which we work, is able to deliver the highest quality of public social work services that can be achieved in any urban community in this country. That is why we are here!

PRETTY BUT COSTLY

If you're looking for a girl to marry, steer clear of Dolcedo on the Italian Riviera. Should you take one of the village girls away, you'll have to pay the local marriage tax—from two to 20 dollars depending upon your auto or other signs of wealth. As Mayor Angelo Benza says: "It's a good old custom. After all, our girls are beautiful and make good wives. Strangers are lucky to get them."

Proceeds of the tax are always given to the local bachelors—to pay for a consolation party.

"Play Block" Program

Summer "Play Blocks," located in all parts of Boston but focused principally in the city's more congested areas, will war on the summer's heat not only with cooling on-the-spot showers but with plenty of music and plenty of play.

At the direction of the Mayor, Mr. Messina completed plans for the opening of the city-wide "Play Block" program, July 5. The program will be continued through the rest of the summer every time an 80- or 80-plus day or night shows on the thermometer.

What's a "Play Block"? It's one of the street sections in the city-wide program which will be cordoned off this summer on orders of Mayor Collins to provide showers and play spaces for those who won't be able to go to the beaches everyday it gets hot. Cooperating in making the program a success are the Police, Fire, Parks, Public Works Department and the BRA.

Fire hydrants on the designated areas will be turned on and provide through special attachments cooling sprays shooting to 50 feet up and down the street. Each designated block—there'll be 50 or more—will be shut off to traffic by gaily painted wooden horses. The blocks will be "policed" before use by men from the Public Works Department to make sure they are clean—free of stones, glass, or debris.

Police cars will be equipped with wrenches to open the hydrants on hot days and they will close them down at night.

"The 'Play Blocks,' of course, have been intended principally for the children," observed Mayor Collins, "but we want and urge the adults to participate if they so desire. In fact we invite whole neighborhoods to join in the fun."

In the areas served by Action for Boston Community Development's (ABCD) Area Planning Action Council will assign paid neighborhood aides to help in planning games and generally supervising the fun.

The special nozzle attachments for the "Play Blocks" were designed by members of the Boston Fire Department and produced in the department's shop.

Special Committee Chosen by Mayor Collins Reports on Welfare Study

(Following is the complete report of the committee appointed by Mayor Collins to make a study of the Boston Welfare Department. The committee was made up of Attorney Henry M. Leen, chairman; Attorney Douglas Cochrane, John J. Costa of the Boston office of the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department; Mrs. Katharine E. Driscoll, President Charles I. Schottland of the Florence Heller School of Social Work, Brandeis University; President Kenneth I. Guscott of the Boston Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Attorney Archie Williams. Lionel Lindsay, an eighth member of the committee was unable to participate in the group's deliberations):

DEAR MAYOR COLLINS:

The committee appointed by you on June 9, 1967, to ascertain facts concerning the welfare dispute centered around the Grove Hall welfare office in Roxbury, and welfare conditions, hereby renders its report.

1. Committee Activities. All members of the committee except one have participated in the proceedings and concur in this report. Mr. Lindsay has been away from the city during this period and accordingly has been unable to participate.

Pursuant to your charge to the committee, the committee held a number of meetings, including meetings with representatives of Mothers for Adequate Welfare (MAW); with Daniel Cronin, Director of the Boston Department of Public Welfare; and with Robert Ott, Commissioner, State Department of Social Welfare; visited offices of the Welfare Department; examined the state manual relating to public assistance; reviewed considerable documentation submitted by the various parties involved; and examined a number of background reports. In addition to information obtained as noted, several members of the committee have had extensive experience in the public welfare field, while others have considerable knowledge of the specific problems which the committee explored.

A public hearing was held on Thursday, June 29, 1967, at Faneuil Hall.

At the outset the committee determined that within the time available it would not be feasible to attempt a study of welfare conditions throughout the Commonwealth, or indeed throughout the City of Boston. Accordingly, the committee has concentrated on the particular problems involved in the Grove Hall dispute and in the events leading up to and following the evening of June 2, 1967, which resulted in violence in various parts of the Roxbury neighborhood.

The committee further decided not to attempt to make any special study of the violence that occurred on the evening of June 2, 1967, and over the following weekend; except as such incidents appeared to bear

Grove Hall Change

Negotiations are under way for two decentralized family units at the Grove Hall district office of the Public Welfare Department, one to be located in Jamaica Plain, the other in the Shopping Mall at Washington Park. The unit in Jamaica Plain will be located in the same building as the Youth Occupation Center operated by the Massachusetts Division of Employment Security. The unit at Washington Park will be located next door to a branch office of the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission which will serve the Roxbury-North Dorchester area. Both of these locations follow out the department's announced plan of relating satellite offices to other community-based social welfare services.

Medicaid Speaker

Principal Social Work Supervisor Walter Weir at the Hancock Street Public Welfare Department district office represented the department at a meeting at the Columbia Point Health Center, July 10. He addressed the Columbia Point branch of the Mothers for Adequate Welfare on the subject of Medicaid.

Notables To Celebrate Harvard Law Birthday

The Chief Justice of the United States and the President of the American Bar Association will join thousands of judges, lawyers, and scholars from all parts of the country next fall in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Harvard Law School.

From Great Britain, Viscount Radcliffe, former Lord of Appeal in Ordinary for the United Kingdom, will come to join in the two days of discussion and jubilee on Friday and Saturday, September 22 and 23.

Associate Justice William J. Brennan of the U. S. Supreme Court and Judge Henry J. Friendly of the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York will join lawyers and scholars in a full day's discussion of "The Challenge to the Legal Profession."

Deans and professors from all the major law schools will be present.

The sesquicentennial celebration will cap more than 20 creative years of growth under Dean Erwin N. Griswold. During that time, Harvard Law School—long known as a training ground of distinguished jurists, legislators and government executives, legal scholars, leaders of the bar, and corporation presidents—opened its doors to women students (1950) and sharply increased its interchange with lawyers and legal scholars of other lands. The famous "case method" of instruction was supplemented with seminars, and special instruction in legal case-writings for first-year students; and a variety of new legal fields were covered to keep pace with developments in American society.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and President Earl F. Morris of the American Bar Association will address the sesquicentennial banquet on Saturday (September 23). The toastmaster will be Paul A. Freund, constitutional authority and historian of the Supreme Court, who is Loeb University Professor at Harvard.

Because of the numbers of lawyers and legal scholars planning to attend, the banquet will be held in the Commonwealth Armory in Boston.

Food Stamp Program

The federal government has drastically revamped its Food Stamp Program in an effort to reach more people. The changes instituted by the Department of Agriculture which are now in effect in the State of Mississippi and will extend eventually throughout the country, include the following:

A reduction of more than one half in the cost of food stamps, a reduction in the required minimum purchase of families from $2 a person to 50 cents a person and an increase of trained federal workers to handle the increased distribution efforts and to recruit, hire, and train "program aides" who will work with the poor on nutrition, food buying, and preparation of food.

Presently, the Boston Public Welfare Department is operating a Surplus Food Program throughout Boston but this is scheduled to be replaced in the future by a Stamp Program.

directly on the welfare dispute and except as persons interviewed volunteered information. This course was followed because the committee did not feel competent to make findings on such matters and because there are now pending a number of court actions, both civil and criminal, arising out of those incidents.

2. The Boston Welfare Department. The specific incidents culminating in the sit-in where the doors of the Grove Hall office were chained and locked should be considered in the light of the over-all situation in the Welfare Department.

Public assistance is a residual program caring for persons, primarily those who are too old, or too disabled to work, or where there is no breadwinner in the family. A relatively small number of cases have breadwinners in the family who at the moment are unemployed. Public assistance caseloads, therefore, represent the "poorest of the poor" in our society, and the recipients of public assistance frequently present serious problems involving medical care, vocational rehabilitation, and a variety of other problems and services which make the tasks of public welfare extremely complex and difficult.

Your committee in considering the problems of the Boston Welfare Department were cognizant of the huge task facing the department. The average monthly expenditure for some 34,580 cases is well over $6,000,000 for Old Age Assistance, Medicaid, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Disability Assistance, and General Relief. Of this amount, Aid to Families with Dependent Children accounts for almost 40 percent of the total. The Grove Hall area handles from the Grove Hall office approximately 8,000 of these cases, or slightly more than 21 percent of the total caseload carried by the Boston Welfare Department.

In common with welfare programs in many cities, the Boston Department has been operating under extreme difficulty. Within a few months the department had to arrange for many elderly persons on Old Age Assistance to receive Medicare. Between 20,000 and 30,000 children, and various middle-age and elderly persons became eligible for Medicaid. A simplified higher family budget system was instituted. Previous practices were modified or abandoned such as the issuance of emergency checks following failure of husbands to make payments to the court—in this case, the full budgeted needs are paid by the Welfare Department. A limited program to decentralize the larger neighborhood offices has been proceeding. The work-training program has involved 3,000 participants over the last 22 months. Cooperation with OEO and Neighborhood Action Centers has occupied considerable time of the department administration and staff.

In the midst of all of these changes and on-going activities, there has been an unusually large turnover of social workers. For example, in a recent period of 3½ years, 107 workers were assigned to Grove Hall of whom 54 resigned. Facilities and space are quite inadequate. It has been very difficult to obtain and retain appropriate clerical staff. For example, recently in requisitioning for clerical staff, the department was able to hire from a Civil Service list of upwards of 400 names, a total of only 12 clerk-typists, and one half of these were middle-aged persons over the age of 50.

We recite the above specifics as a background for the few recommendations which will follow later. It should be remembered that with the exception of General Assistance which is one of the small programs, the other major programs, namely, Old Age Assistance, Medicaid, Disability Assistance, and Aid to Families with Dependent Children, are programs operated by the City of Boston under laws, rules, and regulations

Mayor's Comment on Welfare Group Study

I have received a report from a special fact-finding committee headed by Mr. Henry Leen. This committee was appointed by me on June 9 to investigate welfare conditions in Boston.

I want to thank each of those who served on the committee for their long and arduous labors and I know each resident joins in my appreciation.

It would appear from a brief perusal of this report that it is extremely well written and quite informative. I hope each resident will take time to read this report and that each newspaper will print it in full.

As I said, I have read the report quickly, but there is one thing I noted which I cannot accept. This is the recommendation that the City of Boston should provide in the category of General Relief the same standards that are used in federal programs.

Each year that I have been Mayor I have filed measures with the Legislature seeking an increase in the totally inadequate 20 percent formula that applies to General Relief. No action has been taken on these bills.

It is a goal of our welfare program to supplement the wages of low income families, who, in fact, live below the standards of persons on welfare. It is imperative that the state share the burden, for the city simply cannot do this alone.

The fact that Boston favors the state administering local welfare programs—while some other communities do not—should not be used by the state as a convenient vehicle to escape paying either program or administrative costs. The state is not assuming its fair share of responsibility for the welfare program. A tacit commitment to assume welfare costs when the sales tax was enacted has not been fulfilled.

Meanwhile, Boston taxpayers this year will pay $17 million for welfare costs on their real estate bills.

established by the State of Massachusetts. The funds expended by the City of Boston are reimbursed to the city from federal and state funds under a formula fixed by state law.* Under federal statute, where a local community operates these federally supported programs, there must be a state agency with power to establish rules, regulations, and proceedings which are binding upon the local communities.

3. Specific Incidents. The recent incident followed a series of previous incidents and conferences between recipients and the Welfare Department. On May 23, for example, a small group of MAWs occupied the Grove Hall office, and met with Mr. Cronin. At that time, no written demands were presented. This incident, the first of those leading to the June 2 disorders, culminated 15 months of various kinds of activities, and resulted in the department employing 2 persons on its Community Relation staff to work with MAWs and other groups. During this period, the Welfare Department attempted to make contacts on a city-wide and biracial basis to discuss the various problems involved.

On May 25, the Mothers at Grove Hall occupied the building in the middle of the day, and distributed two items—one was a circular announcing a nationwide demonstration on June 30. The Mothers brought sleeping bags with them, but met with Mr. Cronin, and left.

On Wednesday, May 31, word was received by the department that the Mothers were planning a sleep-in in the next day or two. On Thursday, June 1, students distributed fliers outside of three offices, and in the afternoon the MAWs came to the Roxbury office on Blue Hill avenue. On that night, the Mothers planned a sleep-in. Boston city authorities decided to permit the sleep-in and nine Mothers, two youngsters, three students, and one other adult stayed overnight.

On Friday, June 2, while the office was still in full operation, at approximately 4.30 P.M., the doors to the building were chained. Some time after 7 P.M., the police took about twenty-five people out of the building.

4. MAW's Demands. The charge made to this committee was to "ascertain all facts concerning the welfare dispute and welfare conditions." Therefore, the committee has reviewed the demands made by the MAWs, which were presented to Mr. Daniel Cronin and to Miss Doris Burke on June 7, 1967, in relation to the welfare conditions in the City of Boston. Following are the verbatim demands of the MAWs and the committee's comments in response:

(1) Payments of Benefits; Eligibility

MAW's Demand

"The Boston Welfare Department must issue an order to the effect that the standard established by the U. S. Constitution be invoked in allegations against a recipient, namely, innocent until proven guilty. Further that the accused has a right of confrontation with the accuser. No check may be cut off before this process has been activated and completed."

Comments

There is no constitutional requirement applicable to the payment of welfare benefits that the recipient must be treated as "innocent until proven guilty" nor is there any legal requirement that the "accused" has a right of confrontation.

The matter of cutting off checks or holding up benefit payments has been under study by both the State and City Welfare Departments and prior to the dispute steps had been taken to put into effect on July 1, 1967, a revised system which eliminates most, if not all, of the burdensome former requirements that recipients provide verification of standards of eligibility, such as birth certificates, marriage certificates, evidence of court proceedings against a spouse, and the like.

Further amendments to the policy manual promulgated by the State Welfare Department and put into effect in June, 1967, as a result of decisions reached prior to and unrelated to the Grove Hall disturbance are intended to, and we think do, provide reasonable assurance that arbitrary action will not be taken to cut off relief unless the recipient is informed and given an opportunity to refute any evidence received by welfare officials of lack of eligibility.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare and the Boston City Welfare Department have issued policies effective July 1, 1967, that require the agency to rely upon the client as the primary source of information about his eligibility, and that applicants or recipients will be notified in writing that assistance has been authorized in a stated amount, or that it has been denied or terminated for a specific reason.

The policy as stated in the State manual is a positive step toward cooperative planning between client and agency which would enhance the social service objectives of the welfare program.

A simple issuance of policy is only a short step in the right direction, and the Boston City Welfare Department must make many administrative changes to insure that all staff within the agency are knowledgeable of the policy, and that practice by individual staff be evaluated constantly to achieve high standards of performance.

The committee should like to make you aware of the dangers of losing federal financial participation in the Boston welfare program if these policies are not carried out to the fullest.

(2) Police

MAW's Demand

"All police, including plainclothesmen, must be removed immediately."

* This reimbursement is partial; Boston's share runs between 20 and 30 percent, and for the year 1967 amounts to $17,000,000.

Welfare . . .

Comments

Approximately two years ago the City of Boston adopted the policy of having a uniformed policeman at the welfare office at Grove Hall. This resulted from complaints by social workers of theft and followed a number of assaults by recipients against social workers. Mr. Cronin testified that in his opinion the presence of a uniformed policeman had slight, if any, effect to reduce these incidents. In the opinion of the committee, these incidents were caused more by the overcrowded conditions and deficiencies in administration that have existed at Grove Hall than by the presence or absence of a uniformed policeman.

The presence of police in welfare offices is contrary to federal and state policies. Your committee does not believe that the continued presence of police is necessary or called for unless there is some unusual disturbance or incident. We believe that the welfare, police and city officials can develop procedures to insure the safety of all persons involved through methods other than the placement of police in the office on a full-time or permanent basis. Trust that people will follow law and order is basic to our democratic society, and this includes people who need to avail themselves of governmental services.

(3) Availability of Workers

MAW's Demand

"Each social worker must be available each morning to see his or her client. If the social worker is out sick, the client will have immediate access to the supervisor. No more 'workers on duty' who don't have the power to make decisions."

Comments

Apparently peculiar to Grove Hall was a procedure unknown to Mr. Cronin until recently, whereby a social worker was available to talk to clients only one day a week, where on other days calls would be handled by the "worker of the day" who had no familiarity with the problems of the client and so was required to ask for all of the information previously furnished to the social worker in charge of the case if any action was to be taken. Furthermore, social workers in Grove Hall, and apparently in other city welfare offices, do not have authority themselves to grant requests or to make adjustments in payments. These matters in each case have to be referred to a supervisor with consequent delay.

Although Mr. Cronin has agreed with the MAWs in their demand, it should be pointed out that federal policy, since 1963, requires that the agency provide for the development of a program and the provision of welfare services for dependent children that takes into account the home conditions and the specific needs of each child. Specifically, the federal and state policy requires that (1) a study of each child be made to determine those children who are or are likely to become in need of protection and those with other specified needs or problems; (2) that the agency provide leadership directed toward assuring that preventive health measures, educational opportunities and other community resources that are generally available to other children are equally available to dependent children, and (3) that the agency define the nature of home conditions that may be detrimental to the welfare of children. These policies are binding upon the Boston City Welfare Department, and visiting clients in their own homes is the best way to secure the facts of social and environmental conditions necessary to carry out the policies.

The committee should like to add that services must be extended to the people, and visiting in the home—the core of family life—is the ideal setting to provide services with dignity.

We believe that other administrative methods stated in our recommendations would help toward this end.

(4) Dignified Treatment

MAW's Demand

"Besides sending a directive to the department staff reemphasizing the right of clients to dignified treatment and respect, the department must issue a statement to each recipient stating that they have the right to dignified and respectful treatment and the rights of every citizen in the country. This directive must state recipients have the right to belong to any group that they choose."

Comments

There is no disagreement in principle that clients are entitled to dignified treatment. To the extent that this has been a problem at Grove Hall, it represents a departure from established policy. Undoubtedly it has arisen in part from overcrowded and inadequate facilities at Grove Hall to handle the work load.

For example, one of the MAW leaders was very candid in stating that she knew of no instances of undignified treatment at the Hancock Street office in Roxbury which she goes to.

The concept underlying the fourth demand "the right to dignified treatment and respect" is basic to all of the demands made by the MAWs. The concept is translated into the laws of our democratic society, and is reinforced in federal and state policy. Therefore, your committee agrees that a directive be issued to this effect to all staff and clients alike.

We do not believe that a simple issuance of a directive will accomplish the desired goals. We should like to add that expanded and intensified in-service training programs, expanded educational leave programs, and definitive standards of evaluation of performance by all staff are necessary methods in achieving the goals of "dignified treatment and respect."

Our recommendations to you are more specific in the steps that can be taken immediately.

(5) Appeals

MAW's Demand

"The appeal system must be speeded up in the following way: (1) 48 hours for an appeal date to be set after receiving complaints; (2) an appeal to be held in two weeks of the complaint; (3) a decision on the hearing within 48 hours after the hearing and communicated to the parties involved.

Welfare . . .

"A Welfare Grievance Committee must be set up, made up of 50 percent plus 1 of recipients and the rest to be social workers. This committee will review grievances against social workers and supervisors, plus treatment of clients; and have the power to reprimand them."

Comments

A client or applicant who is dissatisfied with the action of the Boston Welfare Department has the right to appeal to the State of Massachusetts under the state law and under federal requirements. In Massachusetts this appeals process can take up to 180 days, which creates a hardship on the applicant or recipient.

Commissioner Ott of the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare has assured the committee that he will take all necessary administrative action to speed up this process. Your committee agrees with the planned course of action, but we continue to have some concern over the extraordinary number of appeals held in the State of Massachusetts. There were approximately 2,100 appeals made last year. With such a large number of appeals it would seem that an evaluation of these appeals should be made to see where policy can be clarified and strengthened, and staff training can be strengthened in understanding and interpreting policies.

Although an appeal by a client or recipient cannot be withdrawn unless the client requests withdrawal, it would seem feasible that the Boston Welfare Department could set up a system whereby its own staff could review a complaint or appeal. Many actions might be solved in this way at the district office level.

The second part of this demand relates to a Grievance Committee set up with a majority of recipients with the rest of the committee composed of agency staff. Your committee feels that although the demand suggests that such a committee have administrative authority, the real intent of the MAW's demand is to provide a mechanism whereby clients may participate in a procedure whereby their complaints are aired.

We recommend that an Advisory Committee be appointed in all districts comprised of representatives of all categories of assistance. It is our belief that client involvement will be beneficial to all concerned. It is not legally possible to have a "Grievance Committee" or any other informal group, empowered with final authority to make decisions with respect to public money in the administration of welfare. However, it would be possible, and the committee recommends that it be done, to have advisory committees, composed largely of welfare recipients, and individuals knowledgeable and representative of their problems, to consider administrative problems in particular welfare offices, to review particular cases as they arise, and to make suggestions. The district director of a particular office could be instructed to give serious attention to these recommendations and we believe that such a procedure properly used would to a great degree meet the desire of recipients to have a voice and part in the administration of the program. We do not believe it desirable to have such a committee authorized to make recommendations as to reprimands or other disciplinary measures against particular social workers. Staff should be assigned to such committees to enable them to operate.

(6) Representation on Committees and Boards

MAW's Demand

"Local and state policy making committees, and state appeals boards will be made up of 50 percent plus 1 recipient with full member power."

Comments

Representation of recipients on local and state policy making committees and state appeals boards is not within the power of Mr. Cronin or Mr. Ott. The committee believes that such representation is desirable and urges that future appointments to these boards be designed to produce this result. We make no recommendation as to the percentage of such representation. It believes that if the recipients are brought into the administration of the program much benefit can result and some of the present difficulties avoided.

(7) Permitted Savings

MAW's Demand

"Families shall be able to save as much as they can for the education of children, and each dollar will be matched by the welfare department."

Comments

The Massachusetts and the Boston Welfare Departments' policies provide for higher educational needs for high school graduates and high school juniors entering their senior year. Full or part-time summer earnings are to be disregarded as family income, and a savings account is to be established. The child will remain in the assistance grant.

The Massachusetts and the Boston Welfare Departments also provide for the exclusion of any earned income to children under 14 as family income, and that $50 per month of any net earned income of a child under 18 shall be disregarded up to a total of $150 per month for all children in a family.

We feel that the steps taken are positive actions toward reduction of the poverty cycle. We recommend that the Welfare Department explore the possible sources of funds to assist in furthering the education of recipients through the use of such special funds as may be presently available or through the use of regular assistance fund sources. Such funds might be used for a variety of scholarships and educational efforts including higher education, vocational guidance, special training and related activities.

(8) Permitted Savings

MAW's Demand

"Recipients should be allowed to earn and retain $85 plus 70 percent of the surplus without budget deductions."

Comments

This demand would require federal and state legislation.

Recommendations

Your committee would like to make a series of recommendations that could be undertaken to improve welfare conditions.

A. Our first and overriding recommendation would be to have the Boston Welfare Department undergo a comprehensive administrative and fiscal survey by an outside agency. The purpose of the survey would be to recommend ways of bringing about greater administrative effectiveness and efficiency with emphasis on:

(a) Simplification of procedures and consolidation of forms.

(b) Utilization of machine operations to the maximum degree possible.

(c) Improvement of fiscal and statistical methods.

(d) Clarifying the roles of clerical staff, social casework staff, and supervisory staff for more efficient distribution of work.

This service can be purchased from private organizations and comparable studies are also made from time to time without charge by the Bureau of Family Services of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

B. We recommend that the Boston Welfare Department meet its formula for qualified training staff, in order to provide training for supervisory staff, caseworker staff, and clerical staff. The focus of the training should be aimed at policy interpretation, understanding and working with minority groups, and strengthening the agency's expectations for all staff.

We are heartened by the steps the Boston Welfare Department has taken to send five staff members to graduate schools of social work in the fall of 1967, but we would recommend that more staff be sent to schools. The agency will receive from federal funds 75 cents out of every dollar that it spends on its education leave program, which would be a good investment for the City of Boston.

C. We recommend that the personnel section of the Boston Welfare Department be strengthened by increased staff in order that recruiting programs, systems and standards of evaluation and performance be strengthened to the maximum extent possible.

The pattern of recruiting personnel for the Boston Welfare Department over many years, hampered as it has been by Civil Service requirements, low pay and seniority requirements, has produced many competent persons, but has not been conducive to recruiting the personnel necessary to meet modern welfare requirements. This will take considerable time to remedy and is a subject which should receive intensive attention promptly, totally apart from the enactment of S 804. Your committee feels that the present situation in the State of Massachusetts does not lend itself to the fullest implementation of the objectives of the federal program. It believes that the best answer for a state such as Massachusetts is state administration already embodied in a bill (S 804) in the state Legislature. This would relieve the cities of a substantial financial burden, and place the responsibility where federal law places it, namely, in the state. Since the state has the complete power and authority if it desires to "crack down" on the cities for all regulations, policies, and procedures, there is little merit in continuing the present outmoded system of administration through 350 cities.

D. We recommend that the Boston Welfare Department expand its staff:

(a) To include a minimum of two field supervisors who would carry on a supervisory function with the district offices.

(b) To maintain caseloads at the minimum level required in the state staffing formula.

(c) To meet the minimum requirements of the state standards of one clerical worker for every three professional social workers, and that social services staff must not engage in stenographic or clerical functions.

(d) To develop a public family service program along the lines proposed by the National Study Service in its report on public welfare in Massachusetts which would include such services as: homemaker services, group work services, education in home management and child care, volunteer services, housing advice, day care, foster care of adults, home meal services, legal services: staffing the department with consultants and specialists qualified by education and experience to direct such services. Some of these services may be available through other governmental or private sources, but the need for such services is so great that it does not seem likely that it can be met by obtaining service from other agencies. Operation of these services by the department is paid for to the extent of 75 cents out of every $1 from federal funds while purchase of service attracts no federal matching.

E. We recommend the Boston Welfare Department increase its general relief standards to equal the standards set up in the AFDC program. We believe that clients in need should be treated as uniformly as possible in the provisions for financial assistance.

The Boston Welfare Department should supplement the needs of families where parents are employed but their income is inadequate to meet family needs up to the assistance standards. We would recommend that the trust fund moneys be used to the extent legally permitted to set up an educational program for assistance recipients rather than supplement inadequate income of a small number of families.

Welfare . . .

F. We recommend that medical bill processing be done by machines. Social worker time in approving medical bills can better be spent with clients.

G. The Boston Welfare Department should delegate authority for authorizing assistance, revising grants, and closing cases without supervisory approval to all social workers who have completed orientation with at least six months' experience.

H. As previously recommended, advisory committees should be set up in each district office.

I. We recommend that the agency establish clear-cut criteria in its policies for the inclusion of special need items such as household furnishings: stove, refrigerator, beds, etc., in order that each case worker can apply the policy on a more uniform basis, and that the client can be aware of his rights to these items of need.

The Boston Welfare Department has been taking many steps to improve its method of operation, but we believe that these steps will modernize and upgrade the department to meet the needs of the present and the future.

One demand not noted in the written demands of MAW which the MAW group made was that the director, Daniel Cronin, be discharged. Your committee finds no evidence to substantiate this suggested action. Mr. Cronin has been on the job only a few months. He was appointed in September, 1966, having been with the department for twelve years. During this period, he obtained a national reputation as a leader of the liberal bloc of local public welfare administrators. He is 55 years of age, has a LLB degree from Boston College, has had local and state experience in almost every aspect of public welfare. He has been a state hearing officer, the director of state field operations, and head of the Policies and Procedures section in the state. He has served on the faculty for special lectures of several universities, and has been a consultant to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Your committee believes that he is well qualified to put into effect the recommendations outlined herein and, given the proper assistance, will bring his talents with enthusiasm to the job.

It is the hope of the committee that these brief comments and recommendations can be the basis for improving the program in Boston so that the city's resources may be devoted to assisting persons out of their distress and to economic and sound independence insofar as possible. Although many aged, blind, disabled and disadvantaged public assistance recipients will continue the need of assistance, our emphasis must be geared to promoting affirmative efforts to assist recipients in their efforts to achieve maximum self-sufficiency.

We should perhaps add one observation to put the foregoing recommendations and comments in proper perspective in relation to the incidents leading up to the disturbance of June 2, 1967, and the events that followed. It was apparent to us that Mr. Cronin and other representatives of the Boston Welfare Department had been negotiating in good faith with MAW representatives with respect to all of the demands (which might more appropriately have been termed "requests") that fell within the power of the department to meet, and that steps had been instituted, in some instances long before any demand by the MAWs, to put into effect improved procedures responsive to the questions presented. This accounts for the fact that as of this writing steps have been taken by the department (in cooperation with the State Department of Welfare when needed) in response to Items 1, 3, and 5. Item 2 is a matter to be decided by yourself and the Police Department, and there was no disagreement in principle about Item 4. The other requests appeared to Mr. Cronin to require action by other authority and involved important questions on which precipitate action would have been impossible or unwise or both. We think it would be unfortunate if the impression were created that the violence that took place on the evening of June 2 and thereafter led to the changes that have been made by the department. In the opinion of the committee this is not the fact.

We do, however, believe that further improvements can be made and it is to that end that this report and the recommendations contained herein are respectfully submitted.

Model City Nominations

Nominations closed on July 5 for Boston's 18-member Model City Neighborhood Board. The election will be held on August 1 and the regular polling places in the area will be used for voting.

The Neighborhood Board will represent the citizens of the Model City Community in the planning and control of the renewal operation. The 18 people on the Board will be drawn, three each, from the six districts in the 2,000 acre Model Neighborhood area, which comprises parts of Roxbury, Dorchester, and Jamaica Plain.

After they are elected, the Board will have nine months and at least $35,000 to plan a Model City Program, which will be a comprehensive attack on developing and improving the area.

PRETTY BUT COSTLY

If you're looking for a girl to marry, steer clear of Dolcedo on the Italian Riviera. Should you take one of the village girls away, you'll have to pay the local marriage tax—from two to 20 dollars depending upon your auto or other signs of wealth. As Mayor Angelo Benza says: "It's a good old custom. After all, our girls are beautiful and make good wives. Strangers are lucky to get them."

Proceeds of the tax are always given to the local bachelors—to pay for a consolation party.

LOW WATER

British engineers feared they would have to replan completely the Dungeness nuclear power station in Kent, after studying a special model showing the flow of rivers and estuaries in the area. Then they discovered the reason for the puzzling variations in the model's water level. An office cleaner had been filling her bucket from it each day.

Roxbury Work-Study Program Under Way

The fourth summer of the Roxbury Work-Study Project is under way. The target? Homes in need of paint and repair in the residential areas bounded by Seaver street, Columbus avenue, Washington street, Humboldt avenue, and the new Washington Park Boulevard. Labor will be provided by 130 college and high school students who will spend the summer scraping, painting, and repairing in the Washington Park Urban Renewal Area.

Cosponsored by the Boston Redevelopment Authority and Freedom House, Inc., the nine-week Roxbury Work-Study Project is a self-help program designed to aid residents in improving their property. Labor is provided free of charge. The homeowner buys only the paint, available at a special discount.

This year's project is the most ambitious yet. Last year thirty-eight houses were given a new coat of paint. Now the number of students painting has been increased to 130 and sixty Washington Park homes are scheduled to be covered by the professionally supervised crews.

The Roxbury Work-Study Project has grown—both in achievements and scope—since 1964 when students first joined residents in a painting and clean-up campaign. The emphasis has consistently been on housing rehabilitation. The Boston Redevelopment Authority worked closely with Freedom House, Inc., a community organization, to insure success of the program. The object of RWSP has been to help preserve the neighborhood. And the fever is catching. One paint job stimulates others. Last year, when the last house was painted by RWSP students, six other homes had been painted independently by their owners.

This summer emphasis of the RWSP will be on the improvement of the neighborhood and its homes. In other years students also supervised recreational and tutorial programs. But with the Washington Park Urban Renewal program drawing to a close, it was necessary to concentrate on rehabilitation over other programs.

Student workers come from Boston area communities and colleges. Many are from Roxbury. The 105 college students are housed free by Northeastern University. They receive a small stipend from which their weekly board is deducted. The 25 high school students live at home and commute to Washington Park. There are also 14 volunteers in the group from the New England Federation of Temple Youth.

Two special federal aid programs are giving an extra push to neighborhood improvement in Washington Park. Under section 115 of the National Housing Act, occupants who meet certain eligibility requirements may receive grants of up to $1,500 to make necessary repairs. Loans are available under section 312 for rehabilitation costs. They are repayable at 3 percent interest over a twenty-year period. It is possible to receive money in a package deal from both programs.

The Roxbury community has given the Roxbury Work-Study Project its seal of approval. Last year grateful homeowners established a scholarship fund for the students in the project and threw a block party for them at the end of the summer. Mrs. Amanda Houston, Chairman of the Area 12 Association, reflected the enthusiasm for the project last year in saying, "We are being treated to the greatest scene this neighborhood has ever witnessed. As we look out of our windows, we feel we are watching a play with our neighborhood the set and our children the actors, co-starring with the Roxbury Work-Study Project students. The plot is simple and touching: it is a love story."

READY-MADE SCREAMS

"Screams" are on sale in Brisbane, Australia. They come in a handy plastic case resembling a flashlight and cost about four dollars. When a woman is frightened and clutches the case, it emits a spine-chilling scream—enough to scare away the most determined of attackers.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Monday, May 8, 1967.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, at 2 P.M., President HYNES in the chair, and all the members present.

Capt. T. Raymond Sullivan, chaplain at the Pleiku Air Base, Republic of Vietnam, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY CAPT. T. RAYMOND SULLIVAN

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Almighty God, we prayerfully bow in acknowledgment of Thy infinite sovereignty over nations and over men. At this perilous moment in history, when so many nations are shaky or already in shambles, the great Republic of the United States of America, my own government, seems to be the solitary hope of men. To our generation the awesome responsibility has been intrusted to continue to safeguard the cherished heritage of men and nations.

The slave-world moves in darkness toward eventual havoc and impending horror and the free-world in the shadows, uncertain and irresolute sickens with impending ordeal. Without God, inevitably and surely we must fail. Man has been found wanting as the measure of all things. Without divine help there is no hope of peace.

Make us, O Lord, instruments of Thy justice, instruments of Thy mercy, and instruments of Thy peace—a peace that is real and lasting, full and final, a peace that shall mean the secure freedom from offending nations, a peace that shall mean restraint of reckless ambitions, of ruthless might and unscrupulous injustice.

So much depends on us for the presentation of peace. We depend on Thee, our Lord. Help us, we pray. Lead us. Guide us. Bless us. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

EXTENDING POWERS AND DUTIES OF "METER MAIDS"

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

Among the petitions filed last December for consideration by the General Court at its current session is a petition by the Commissioner of Traffic and Parking to extend the jurisdiction of the parking meter supervisors ("meter maids") in Boston so as to apply not only to parking meter violations as now but to parking violations generally. The success of the current meter maid program, I submit, merits this enlargement in their powers and duties. Under the recent Home Rule Amendment to the Constitution of Massachusetts, however, the petition must be approved by your Honorable Body before consideration by the General Court is even possible. I therefore urge early adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the petition of Thomas F. Carty as Commissioner of Traffic and Parking of the City of Boston to the General Court accompanied by a bill (1967 House No. 4150) for a special law empowering parking meter supervisors in Boston to enforce regulations controlling the stopping and standing of vehicles generally (rather than only at meters as now), be, and the same hereby is, approved.

Referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION OF LAND OF MASSACHUSETTS PORT AUTHORITY

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 25, 1967.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to the motion passed by your Honorable Body on March 27, I have considered a review by the United States Supreme Court of the validity under the Constitution of the United States of the statutory provision exempting from taxation land of the Massachusetts Port Authority upon which business is conducted for private profit.

It has long been settled that the jurisdiction of the United States Supreme Court can only be invoked by a party having a private, as distinguished from an official, interest in the litigation. Smith v. Indiana, 191 U. S. 138, 148-149. Williams v. Baltimore, 289 U. S. 36, 40. Compare Assessors of Haverhill v. New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., 332 Mass. 357, 362. It has thus come to be recognized that the procedure for testing the constitutional validity of a tax exemption statute is a ten taxpayers' suit under G. L., c. 40, s. 53. Cabot v. Assessors of Boston, 335 Mass. 53 (appeal dismissed for want of a substantial federal question—354 U. S. 907). It is my opinion, therefore, that if the United States Supreme Court is to review the constitutional validity of the statutory provision in question, an appropriate petition must be initiated and prosecuted in due season by ten or more taxable inhabitants of Boston, and not by the city or its officials.

Respectfully,

JAMES J. SULLIVAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file.

MINORITY REPORT OF COUNCILLOR FOLEY

RE: APPROPRIATION FOR WASHINGTON PARK
URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT

The Washington Park Urban Renewal Area is the purest example of urban renewal as practiced by the present Development Administrator, Edward J. Logue. This project was supported unanimously in all places, the City Council, the citizenry in the area, and all supervising agencies. It is a project area which was carefully carved out so as to make possible the best showing for urban renewal rather than to do the most for Boston. In spite of all this and millions of dollars over budget, it is at least four years late in completion.

At this point, some thought should be given to a serious independent analysis of the Washington Park Project Area effort. Boston has embarked on a massive, long term, urban renewal program larger than that of any other city, and it has committed its resources to it. This project area was carefully selected, not because it was the worst and most difficult area of the city but because it was almost the best area of the city which could be delineated and still qualify for urban renewal assistance.

It is a middle-class area. Nevertheless, the renewal effort here will be completed at the earliest four years after it was scheduled for completion, and will be many millions of dollars in excess budgetwise of that which was originally projected.

We were told, for example, that the Court House in this area would cost the city $2,000,000 to build, 40 percent of which would be credited against the project cost. In the outcome, the Court House will cost nearer $3,000,000 to build than $2,000,000, and 18 percent will be credited against the project cost. A mistake of this magnitude, of course, would be fatal to anyone except Edward J. Logue (and perhaps Paul Goebbels).

This project carried on without opposition anywhere in an area carefully selected to make the best showing indicates urban renewal on a massive scale is too expensive and too slow ever genuinely to come at Boston's problem. We need to shift over to other programs but we are geared up for massive renewal and we have created a bureaucracy to administer only massive renewal. The very least that should be expected here is a hard-nose analysis of the renewal process by independent professionals who could then tell us if this is the best medicine for Boston. Obviously, we are to get no such analysis as long as Edward J. Logue can prevent it, and that appears to be for a period somewhat on the order of another eight months.

WILLIAM J. FOLEY, JR.,
Member, Committee on Urban Renewal.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS

Whereas, The laws pertaining to the issuance of entertainment licenses are vague and the authority is divided relative to the issuance of said licenses; and

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the adoption of a resolution which would regulate the hours of entertainment in the City of Boston for all types of entertainment and a reasonable hour of 1 A.M. should be the hour at which all entertainment should be stopped by law; and further

COPY OF CERTAIN NEWSPAPER ARTICLE TO DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, AND OTHERS

Coun. PIEMONTE offered the following:

Whereas, The availability of adequate housing is an essential requisite of urban renewal programs; and

Whereas, The Workable Program of any city's urban renewal program is concerned with available adequate housing; and

BOSTON PROBLEM—JUST NOT ENOUGH ADEQUATE HOUSING

By WILLIAM BUCHANAN

For the past few weeks the "Globe" has published stories and pictures depicting the conditions under which some families live in our city.

Decaying houses, building code violations, health nuisances, rodents, and rents sometimes as high at $87 a month for these dreadful Dachau-like flats—a story a day could be published about families in almost identical situations.

White, negro, four children or 10, separated from a husband, happily married, on aid to dependent children or living on paid weekly wages—the problem they all have in common is housing.

"Plainly and simply there just isn't enough good housing," says Mrs. Sadelle R. Sacks, director of Fair Housing, Inc., of Roxbury.

The housing situation is more critical in areas where there is a high percentage of non-whites because the housing in areas where they can normally move is quickly deteriorating.

Mrs. Sacks, who has worked in the housing field for some years, explained the discouraging two-way street that affects landlord-tenant relationships and to a great degree has brought about the now critical housing shortage for these low-income families:

"Landlords who obtain these houses in poor conditions have often had a bad experience with a tenant. The only way they can make money on such housing is to collect as high a rent as possible and spend no money on repairs. A family, desperate for housing, moves in and while they might be willing to care for the property, quickly lose interest when they see that the landlord has none," she said.

Mrs. Sacks said that Fair Housing's record of working with both landlords and tenants, to make more and better housing available, has been a good one.

"We treat those in need of housing as people and with dignity and in the great majority of cases they have responded," Mrs. Sacks said. "In many cases landlords are now supplying us with apartment availabilities," she added.

Mrs. Sacks is a realistic woman and knows there are racial overtones when someone says, "Yes, I remember when that was such a nice street, and now look at it."

"What they really remember is that street 20 or 30 years ago and not 10 years ago when the neighborhood was already starting to slip and when it was still essentially a white area," Mrs. Sacks noted.

There are many problems in housing that are not always visible to the casual observer.

Garbage receptacles that once served a house with two families are now inadequate because in the same house there are now four or six families.

Slum housing rents seldom vary from more than a few dollars because the landlord knows what the going rate is for those who can find no housing elsewhere.

Rents on such housing are always figured on three-fourths occupancy because one family is always moving out. They either can't afford the rent or were fortunate enough to move into better quarters.

Fair Housing, Inc., which rents space from Freedom House at 14 Crawford street, Roxbury, went into operation in 1962 to assist Negro families moving into previously all-white neighborhoods in suburbia.

Fair Housing moved into the area of assisting low-income families to find decent housing simply because no other agency was working in this specific field.

"Last month we had 214 families in need of housing," Mrs. Sacks said, "there were 720 children and 263 adults involved."

STAFF OF EIGHT

Five years ago there were three regular members of the Fair Housing staff. Today, as the organization operates through personal contributions, there is a staff of eight assisting Mrs. Sacks.

The staff includes, Mrs. Norma Wales, Judith Kowitz, Helena Nulty, Euryne Wright, Della Tyer, Judy Cook, Berdel Underwood and John Van DeCarr.

"Urban renewal can never succeed in a total sense unless the system which allows someone to make money on poor housing is destroyed," Mrs. Sacks said.

Each day Fair Housing gets more and more requests from families desperate for housing without rodents, with plumbing that doesn't leak, with furnaces that work, and for rooms where the plaster doesn't fall from the ceiling.

"But we simply can't keep up with the growing number of pleas," Mrs. Sacks said.

In fact, the housing situation in parts of Roxbury now is so severe that some of these desperate tenants may soon be urged to stay where they are while vigorous attempts are made to force the landlords to make improvements necessary to maintain a fair standard of lawful and sanitary housing.

Model City Neighborhood Council Elections Scheduled For August 1

Elections will be held on August 1 in a 200-acre area of Roxbury-North Dorchester and part of Jamaica Plain in the Model Cities Program, financed by the Federal Housing and Urban Development Department.

Eligible voters will choose an 18-member Model City Neighborhood Community Conference.

The Neighborhood Board, according to a City Council resolution, "shall have the right to review and recommend amendments to planning proposals submitted by the Administrator and to initiate planning proposals."

The Board, notes the resolution, "shall have the right to approve, disapprove, or approve in part the planning proposal of the Model Neighborhood Administrator, any disagreement between the Administrator and the Model Neighborhood Board to be resolved by the Administrator, the Board's designee, and a third person chosen by these two."

The Administrator will be named by the Mayor.

The Board also will be allocated funds for staffing and other needs.

The Model Cities area surrounds the Washington Park, Roxbury, urban renewal project.

The election machinery already has been set in motion by a Neighborhood Committee headed by Thomas Atkins, civil rights leader.

A total of 24 candidates from the six designated areas have been qualified to run for 18 spots. Each candidate collected 100 or more valid signatures earlier this month.

Eligible are those on the police list as of January 1. The registered voter list is not being used in order to assure a broader voter participation.

Candidates

The elections, as far as possible, will be held at polling places where residents usually vote. Polls will be open from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M.

The city's Election Department is making available voting machines and election administration advice.

Boston to Compete in N. Y. Youth Games

Mayor John F. Collins has announced that Boston will participate in the first United States Youth Games to be held in New York City, August 17-20, with youngsters from 12 cities from across the nation taking part.

The 12 cities entering teams in the games, which will be totally supported by private funds, are Atlanta, Baltimore, Cleveland, Detroit, New Orleans, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Juan, San Francisco, Washington, D. C., New York, and Boston.

The games, two years in the planning, will be the highlight of the summer recreation program in each of the cities and will be staged in a different city each summer in the future.

Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 will compete in track and field, basketball and bowling in this year's games. Each city is expected to enter an 82-member team.

The sponsors of the games are American Machine and Foundry Company, Old London Foods, Inc., and the Mayor's office of each of the competing cities. American Airlines will serve as transportation consultant for the youth games.

Mayor Collins said:

"We feel that this event, bringing together youngsters from different parts of the country for fully supervised sports competition and for exposure to each other, is a unique and important contribution to the national sports scene.

"I believe that the private companies supporting the event, AMF, Old London Foods, H. P. Hood, and Randy Boatshu, have made a major contribution to the youngsters of our city and the eleven other participating cities and have demonstrated the active role that corporations can and should play throughout our country."

The teams of youngsters, each staying in a different midtown hotel, will arrive in New York, August 17, attend a welcoming party, compete for two days, sight-see, be guests of honor at an awards breakfast, and then return home August 20.

The bowling championships will be held on the morning of August 19 at a midtown bowling center; the track and field championship will be held at Randell's Island on the afternoon of August 19; the basketball championship on the night of August 19 at either the Singer Bowl at Flushing Meadows or Madison Square Garden.

Boston's Track Team will be qualified at the annual playground Olympics. The Boston Parks and Recreation Department will coordinate these activities.

3; Ward 13, Precincts 3 and 14. (Roxbury and North Dorchester.)

Area 6—Daniel Richardson, James Diggo, Halzka Kolowski (no contest), Ward 14, Precincts 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9. (North Dorchester.)

In Ward 11, Area 2, Precincts 1 and 2, voting will be at Academy Homes, 58 Weaver court.

In Area 3, Ward 8, Precincts 3, 4, and 5, voting will be at the Dearborn School, Ambrose street.

Ward 12, Area 5, Precincts 6 and 10, voting will be at Boston Technical School, Townsend street.

For all other areas, the voting places will follow the regular city election polling.

The public is invited to meet candidates at "Candidates' Night" scheduled in each district, on July 24, at 8 P.M.

Meanwhile, Boston is awaiting word from HUD on whether or not its planning application for model cities, totaling $240,000, will be approved. About 193 cities are competing for the limited planning funds and only about 70 cities are expected to be chosen.

Boston's chances of participation have been considered by city officials as being very good. Word from HUD is expected early next month. The city then will undergo about a nine-month planning period with the Neighborhood Board participating. Looked for will be innovative social service programs, new housing, recreational and community facilities, and medical, health, employment, and training programs.

CBD Renewal

BRA Administrator Edward J. Logue announced on July 14 that the first step is being taken to obtain approval of the proposed $400 million Central Business District renewal project. On July 27, at 10 A.M., in Faneuil Hall, the Boston Redevelopment Authority will conduct a hearing on the proposals for the CBD plan, Mr. Logue said.

The proposals, Mr. Logue announced, will cover the acquisition of property, the relocation of business occupants, the major street and utility improvements for the area and the new development proposals. One of the most outstanding and exciting proposals included in the plan is the closing of Washington street through the main shopping district for conversion to an attractively landscaped mall.

The CBD plan has received the endorsement of the Committee for the Central Business District, which was formed by downtown businessmen to work with the Authority in the preparation of a plan.

The CBD project will require a federal grant of $77 million. The city's contribution to the cost for carrying out this project will be $24 million, which will be provided entirely through improvements to the area such as new streets, new utilities, underground truck service tunnels, malls, etc.

Mr. Logue said that federal funds at this time are severely limited, but he expects that the federal government will agree to finance the project in stages over an 8-to 10-year period.

After the Redevelopment Authority takes action on the plan, it will be submitted to Mayor Collins and the City Council.

Biggest Bean Supper

The world's largest baked bean supper—a financial boost to Boston's Freedom Trail Foundation and a salute to the American Legion's 49th National Convention—will be held on Boston Common Wednesday evening, August 30, as a public service project of the Boston Rotary Club.

H. Austin Starr, Jr., General Chairman, told a press luncheon that 25,000 persons will be served simultaneously at 5.45 P.M. at tables covering 7½ acres of ground on the Charles Street side of the Common.

Ten thousand of the participants will be American Legionnaires attending their national convention in Boston August 25-31.

Funds raised by the event will benefit the Freedom Trail Foundation and will be used to help preserve, maintain, and promote such historic sites as the Paul Revere House, Old North Church, Faneuil Hall, and the Old State House.

The seemingly impossible task was done on a smaller scale by Boston Rotary once before—on Boston Common during the Boston Jubilee of 1950.

All 25,000 persons will be served in about 45 minutes by using a 500-unit system. Each of the 50 units of 500 will have a supervisor, five assistant supervisors, and 25 waitresses.

Governor John A. Volpe and Boston's Mayor John F. Collins are Honorary Chairmen of the event.

Upward Bound

Action for Boston Community Development has been awarded a grant of $125,429 from the Office of Economic Opportunity to start a new Upward Bound project at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Upward Bound project will enroll 80 high school youngsters from areas in and around Boston in a seven-week residential program this summer, with tutoring and counseling continuing throughout the year.

ABCD had an Upward Bound program last year as well. A delegate agency has been assigned to supervise the program, and MIT has been named the institution for the residential portion of the program. Bridge Fund, Inc., a private, nonprofit group of citizens, will oversee the project.

The academic phase at MIT will concentrate on language arts, social studies, and electives in algebra, debating, foreign languages, natural science, Negro history and art.

Upward Bound students and their parents will be invited to attend weekly lectures planned by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

MIT will arrange for liaison as well as a physical education coordinator and guest lecturers.

State Lines Offer No Haven for Bad Drivers

The National Driver Register Service, a clearinghouse of information on driver licensing maintained in the Federal Highway Administration in Washington, D.C., is helping Massachusetts rid the highways of undesirable drivers.

State Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin cited the case of a recent applicant for a license who failed to declare his previous convictions and revocations in other states. The customary search for information concerning this license applicant through the NDRS revealed numerous serious violations in five states involving liquor and operating while under suspension or revocation. The applicant was subsequently prosecuted in court, pleaded guilty, and fined for making false statements on his license application.

As provided by the Highway Safety Act of 1966, all states furnish the Register Service with information on persons who have been denied licenses, or whose licenses have been suspended or revoked for any reason. The Register receives information from the states on magnetic tape at a rate of 1,700 names daily. These are stored in a data file and searched by electronic computer upon request of the states at a rate of 50,000 searches daily. The computer currently has a pool of two million names of serious offenders and can detect an identification even if there are variations in names and dates of birth.

Established in 1961, the Register has conducted over 32,000,000 searches resulting in 200,000 identifications of persons warranting further investigation.

Grants such as this, made possible by the people of Greater Boston, insure accelerated research programs backed by a system of communication whereby March of Dimes centers across the nation share medical advance almost instantly.

A phone operator asked a customer, "Do you have the Area Code?" "No," came the sniffing reply. "Just a bad case of hay fever."

Grant to BCH Library

The Medical Library at Boston City Hospital has become one of the first hospital libraries in the country to be awarded a Medical Library Resource Grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

A grant of $4,892 was awarded to the library by the Public Health Service's National Library of Medicine, and will extend until May, 1968.

"The funds will be used in the expansion of library resources, to purchase new books and equipment for the library, which is the central facility for the entire hospital staff," said James G. Walsh, Program Director for the grant.

Established with the founding of Boston City Hospital in 1864, the library now has a collection of journals, textbooks, and pamphlets totaling over 14,000 volumes. They include many first editions written by Boston City Hospital doctors and visiting physicians from the Boston area.

Older Workers Grant

The John F. Kennedy Family Service Center in Charlestown has been awarded a $250,000 federal grant from the Department of Labor to continue its demonstration employment program for older workers. The Kennedy Center was one of seven organizations in the nation selected by the Labor Department to seek solutions to the serious problems of the older worker.

Joseph Vilimas, Jr., executive director of the Center, reports that in the past fourteen months 316 men and women out of 479 applicants over the age of 45 have been successfully placed by his Charlestown program. He also noted that professional and white collar men were found to have unusually difficult problems in seeking reentry into the labor market due to age, premature retirement, restrictive pension and insurance plans, and seniority problems.

Welfare Suboffice

A new suboffice of the Grove Hall Welfare Department district has been opened at the Franklin Field Housing Project—address 170 Westview street, Dorchester—telephone numbers are 288-1222 and 1223.

This office will service adult cases within the area bounded by Wales street, Harvard street to Cummins Highway (Roslindale office line) to Mattapan square. The social worker areas involved are Areas 9 through 14.

The social work supervisor assigned to the new office is Mr. Julius Rommel.

Sample Survey

The U. S. Census Bureau will make a sample survey about the number of children under 14 years of age and the number of owner-occupied and rented households in the Metropolitan Boston area, Director James W. Turbitt of the Census Regional Office in Boston has announced.

Also questions about employment and unemployment will be asked for the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The information will help population experts to determine national population trends and will provide important economic data about U. S. households.

Anna Leach

Mrs. Anna (Flynn) Leach, 63, of 17 McDonough Way, South Boston, wife of retired Boston Police Detective Sergeant John A. Leach, died at her home.

Mrs. Leach was a member of St. Monica's Parish, South Boston, and its sodality.

She also leaves two daughters, Mrs. Leo McCann of North Quincy and Mrs. John Tirrell of Millis; a brother, John Flynn of Dorchester; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Vincent of West Lynn and Mrs. Evelyn Murray of Quincy, and eight grandchildren.

Late Closing Law

The new law which permits drinking of liquor in public places in Massachusetts between midnight Saturday and 1 A.M. Sunday goes into effect at the end of August, but whether bars in specific areas will remain open or not is up to local option.

According to ABC Chairman Quintin Cristy, there's a "home rule" provision in the new law, which allows the local licensing authority to rule on whether or not bars in the area of the authority's jurisdiction may remain open after midnight Saturdays.

Any such ruling, however, would be a blanket rule allowing all bars to remain open in a given area. Mr. Cristy said. In Suffolk County, where weekday drinking now may be until 2 A.M., each place of business has to obtain specific permission for the extended hours.

Welfare Staff Expanded

In late June, the Boston Welfare Department received approval from Mayor Collins to increase its staff quota to meet the new mandatory federal-state requirements relating to caseloads.

In essence these requirements are that social workers carrying service cases (e.g. AFDC cases) must have no more than 60 cases; and social workers carrying nonservice cases (e.g. OAA) must not have in excess of 180 cases.

The department is now adding additional personnel to be able to fill the following new positions:

5 Principal Social Work Supervisors.

8 Social Work Supervisors.

64 Social Workers.

32 Senior Clerks.

50 Clerk-Typists.

Hard Core Job Aid

Boston is among 19 cities recently selected by the U. S. Labor Department as a site for a new federal program to help the hard-core unemployed.

According to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the new program will concentrate on the people with the biggest problems. It will seek out those who need employment assistance rather than waiting for them to apply for aid. Each person enrolled will receive a two-week orientation program, with individual coaching, referral to jobs, "the most suitable training program" or school, or all three. The coaches will follow up the progress of each enrollee even after they take a job to insure that they become self-sufficient.

No starting date for the program has been given but the program, when in operation, will work closely with state and local agency programs.

PRETTY BUT COSTLY

If you're looking for a girl to marry, steer clear of Dolcedo on the Italian Riviera. Should you take one of the village girls away, you'll have to pay the local marriage tax—from two to 20 dollars depending upon your auto or other signs of wealth. As Mayor Angelo Benza says: "It's a good old custom. After all, our girls are beautiful and make good wives. Strangers are lucky to get them."

Proceeds of the tax are always given to the local bachelors—to pay for a consolation party.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Monday, May 15, 1967.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., Senior Member Craven in the chair. Absent, Councillor Hynes.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Almighty God our Father, grant that our hearts are ever filled with gratitude for the innumerable material and spiritual blessings that have come to our city and its people through Thy divine providence. We accept also the trials and the tribulations, comparatively few in number, short in duration, merciful in design, teaching us always to keep faith in Thee. May all our acts here in this high office strengthen the unity and stability of our nation and our municipality. Bless us as servants of the common good and worthy followers of the noble men and women who have served in this very same office before our day who by their loyalty and devotion established and bequeathed to our great city its glorious traditions.

Gratefully we include in this public prayer the citizens of our city daily enduring the fatigue, the frustration, and the danger of armed conflict in honorable submission to the laws, the decisions, requirements of our national government.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

To the City Council.

I submit herewith an order for an additional appropriation of $30,000 together with a letter from the Clerk of the Municipal Court, Roxbury District, explaining the reasons therefor.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Municipal Court of the Roxbury District,
April 26, 1967.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention: Mr. Henry T. Brennan.

Your Honor:

I find it necessary at this time to request an additional appropriation of $30,000 for Item 10, Personal Services, in the budget for this year. Twenty thousand dollars of this for Permanent Employees and $10,000 for Temporary Employees.

The necessity of the additional appropriation at the present time is due to the need for permanent employees in this court and is operating with a case load unequal in the history of this court. Along with this increase the administrative work of the office has naturally increased.

I sincerely trust you realize the necessity for the additional appropriation at this time in order that I may continue to conduct the administrative duties of the court in an efficient manner and in accordance with the statutory requirement and the mandate of the judiciary.

Very truly yours,

KEESLER H. MONTGOMERY,
Clerk of Court.

Ordered, That the sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) be, and hereby is, appropriated to the Municipal Court, Roxbury District, said sum to be raised by taxation on the estates of the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore or hereinafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and interest thereon apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for:

MUNICIPAL COURT, ROXBURY DISTRICT 4-12-25

11. Temporary Employees.....$10,000

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

TRANSFER OF CERTAIN LANDS IN CAMPUS HIGH SCHOOL URBAN RE- NEWAL AREA

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor.

Hon. Barry Hynes, President,
Boston City Council.

Re: House Bill 4164.

Dear Mr. Hynes:

H-4164 was introduced by Representative Franklin Holgate for the purpose of securing authorization from the Legislature for the conveyance by the City of Boston to the Boston Redevelopment Authority of two parcels of land in the Campus High School early land acquisition area.

One of the parcels contains the old Cabot Street Bathhouse; the other parcel is a piece of land given the city for park purposes by the archdiocese. Since there is a possibility that one or both of the parcels could be considered park land, legislative authorization was sought. However, I understand that the General Court believes that the land may not be park land and therefore believes that the bill is subject to the recent "home rule" amendment to the constitution. As a home rule measure, the Legislature can act only at the request of the Mayor and City Council.

Since the Council already has approved the BRA's acquisition program for the Campus High School urban renewal area, including the acquisition of these two parcels, I believe that a petition by the Council to the General Court will be, in effect, merely confirmatory of its previous action.

Therefore I recommend approval by the Council of the attached draft order, petitioning the General Court to pass House Bill 4164. Since the Legislative Committee on Local Affairs ends its hearings on Monday, it is essential that the petition be forwarded on that day.

A suggested form of Council order is attached.

Sincerely,
JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the City Council hereby petitions the General Court to adopt House No. 4164, "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Convey the Land and Building known as the Cabot Street Municipal Building and Certain Vacant Land on Cabot Street in the Roxbury District of said City to the Boston Redevelopment Authority for Urban Renewal or Land Assembly and Redevelopment Project Purposes."

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION OF $645,000 FROM PARKING METER RECEIPTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith a communication from the City Auditor with reference to a recommendation that six hundred and forty-five thousand dollars ($645,000) be appropriated from parking meter receipts for the redemption of debt issued for the construction of off-street parking facilities. In view of the fact that the Legislature has authorized such an appropriation for this purpose, I concur with the recommendation of the City Auditor and submit herewith an order appropriating this amount for the redemption of parking facility debt.

I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, May 22, 1967.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

Chapter 92 of the Acts of 1953 authorizes cities and towns having parking meters to apply the receipts from said meters to the payment of any debt incurred for the acquisition of off-street parking areas and facilities.

Since 1947, the city has issued twelve million eight hundred fifty thousand dollars ($12,850,000) in bonds, and has used the proceeds to establish parking areas and facilities. According to the records of the Auditing Department, six hundred and forty-five thousand dollars ($645,000) must be provided in the current year to meet principal maturities and one hundred ninety-eight thousand nine hundred twenty-five dollars ($198,925) to meet interest requirements on these bonds. It is estimated that six hundred and forty-five thousand dollars ($645,000) of parking meter receipts will be available to meet these requirements and the balance to be raised in the tax levy.

In view of the authority granted by the Legislature, I recommend that an order be submitted to the City Council to appropriate from parking meter receipts the sum of six hundred and forty-five thousand dollars ($645,000) to provide for the principal maturities on these bonds in 1967.

Respectfully,

JOHN T. LEONARD,
City Auditor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of chapter 92 of the Acts of 1953, the sum herein set forth be, and hereby is, appropriated from parking meter receipts for the purpose specified:

City Loans, Redemption of $645,000

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed is a self-explanatory communication from the Traffic and Parking Department requesting a fifty thousand dollar ($50,000) appropriation for the installation of additional traffic signal posts in connection with the construction of streets and the redesign of intersections.

I recommend the adoption of the order submitted herewith appropriating fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) from the appropriation "Sales of City Property."

Respectfully,
JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic and Parking Department,
May 18, 1967.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

This department is continuously confronted with the necessity of installing additional traffic signal posts in connection with the reconstruction of streets and the redesign of intersections. Payments to the Boston Edison Company for necessary service connections and other related work are also required.

All of the above has been paid from the appropriation "Automatic Traffic Control Signals in Various Sections of the City." These funds have been replenished from time to time with the consent of the Mayor and the City Council by transfers from available sources. In recent years these transfers have been accomplished from moneys obtained from "Sales of City Property."

In order to provide sufficient funds for the necessary changes in our traffic signals as described above, in addition to making provisions for the installation of some completely new signals, I respectfully request that at least the sum of $50,000 be provided in the appropriation "Automatic Traffic Control Signals in Various Sections of the City."

Respectfully yours,
THOMAS F. CARTY, Commissioner.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 63 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) be, and the same hereby is, appropriated from the special account "Sales of City Property," to be expended under the direction of the Traffic and Parking Department, for the installation of automatic traffic control signals in various sections of the city.

APPROPRIATION OF $510,500 FOR PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 22, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith a letter from the Director of Public Facilities requesting additional funds in the amount of $511,500.

You are aware that this department, although in its infancy, has been charged, through the acceptance of chapter 642 of the Acts of 1966, not only with the Capital Planning program of the city but also with all necessary alterations and repairs of structures in existence.

The magnitude of the program for this department has required, of necessity, that a professional staff of substantial size be procured and the work load normally undertaken by the individual city departments be processed through this agency.

I therefore respectfully request your Honorable Body to consider favorably the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Facilities Department,
May 17, 1967.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Re 1967 Supplemental Budget, Budget Unit No. 1-01 88

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the amended City Charter, and section 24 of chapter 3 of the revised City Ordinances, I submit this supplemental budget totaling $536,500 as per requests and requirements of the above-named budget unit through December 31, 1967.

I hereby certify that the figures given on the accompanying schedules are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief and that the budget requests for 1967 are the lowest estimates consistent with economical management.

MALCOLM E. DUDLEY, Director.

WILLIAM DOHERTY, Budget Officer,

(See page 161 for table)

COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN PERSONS IN ASSESSING DEPARTMENT

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 5, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

The Commissioner of Assessing has brought to my attention that when the Compensation Plan for the Officers and Employees of Suffolk County was revised in 1963, there was no conforming amendment of the third and fourth paragraphs of section 5 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1961, which fix, by reference to the County Compensation Plan, the salaries of the deputy and assistant assessors and the ex officio members of the Board of Review in the Assessing Department. Hence those paragraphs make reference to grades that are now obsolete. To rectify the situation, I recommend passage of the ordinance transmitted herewith.

Section 2 of the accompanying ordinance deals with the deputy and assistant assessors making the changes which should have been made in 1963. Section 1 of the accompanying ordinance concerns the ex officio members of the Board of Review, to wit, a Deputy Assessor from the Real Estate Appraisal Division of the Assessing Department (who automatically serves as Chairman of the board) and a Research Assessor from the Statistical Research Division of that department. For their regular service they receive respectively $11,804 and $10,727.16. The accompanying ordinance would provide $1,305 additional for the Deputy Assessor and $1,122.30 additional for the Research Assessor for service on the Board of Review.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

TRANSFER OF FUNDS TO PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 5, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I am forwarding herewith a communication from the Director of Public Facilities requesting $170,000 for alterations and repairs to police facilities.

It has been brought to my attention that funds were appropriated in the Health and Insurance Program to reimburse the Commonwealth for retirees who indicated that they wished to participate in this benefit resulting from the acceptance of legislation in late 1966 by the City.

It has now been determined that the required funds for this program are also an assessment on the so-called "Cherry Sheet" which has been released only this past week.

Consequently, I am requesting that this appropriation for police facilities be allowed with the transfer of the specific funds from the account Hospital and Insurance Plan (1-01-98) to the Public Facilities Department (1-01-88).

Your approval of this order is respectfully requested.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Facilities Department.

Hon. John F. Collins,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

The Public Facilities Department has been in receipt of requests from the Police Commissioner for certain major alteration and badly needed repair work on several police facilities. Appropriations to cover this work were originally included in the 1967 Capital Budget submitted in February, but the covering orders had to be withdrawn because of the situation of the debt limit.

This department has investigated these projects and has determined that work at Police Headquarters and the District 6 Station House, South Boston, is urgently required and should be performed this year if at all possible.

At the Headquarters an estimated $70,000 will be needed for installation of a new roof and water-proofing of the exterior. Effects of time and weather over the forty years since construction of this building have resulted in extensive leakages which have damaged interior plaster and should be corrected before more expensive repairs are required. Many temporary repairs to the roof over the past 10 years have been required; it is most important to prevent leakages into the top floor and to protect the costly and essential radio and recording equipment located there in connection with the Communication Center.

No modernization has been carried out at District 6 since 1915 when the building was constructed. The heating system is unreliable; one of the two boilers is inoperative and unworthy of repair. The roofing and plumbing systems are in ill repair. The most urgent problem over-all is the need for alterations to accommodate the Tactical Patrol Force now in Station 1. This station is scheduled to close next year when the new Government Center Station, now in construction, will open. The necessary alterations and repairs to presently unutilized space at Station 6 which will be made available to the Tactical Patrol Force, must be begun this year to match this timetable.
The essential work on this building this year will cost an estimated $100,000.

Consequently, it is hoped that it will be possible at this time to make available a total of $170,000 to enable initiation of these projects at an early date.

Very truly yours,

MALCOLM E. DUDLEY, Director.

Ordered, That the sum of money specified herein be, and hereby is, appropriated to the Public Facilities Department for alterations and repairs to police facilities; and further

Ordered, That to meet said appropriation the sum of $170,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated by transfer from the account Hospital and Insurance Plan (1-01-98) to the Public Facilities Department 1-01-88.

From the appropriation for Hospital and Insurance Plan, 1-01-98, $170,000, to the appropriation for Public Facilities Department,
1-01-88, $170,000.

Referred to Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

PAY INCREASES FOR 10,000 CITY EMPLOYEES ANNOUNCED BY MAYOR

Mayor John F. Collins announced that the city has reached collective bargaining agreements with two AFL-CIO unions providing substantial pay increases for 10,000 city employees over a two-year period.

The agreements are the largest in scope in the city's history and affect more employees than any municipal labor agreement in New England.

Key factors of the agreement include the following:

Upward revision of the pay scales four steps over two years. This represents an immediate increase in an employee's pay check ranging from $4 at the minimum salary of the lowest pay grade to $24 at the maximum salary of the highest pay grade, and a total dollar increase at the end of the second year of the agreement ranging from $11.50 to $40.

Michael Botelho, Regional Director of the American Federation of City, County and Municipal Employees, was high in his praise of Mayor Collins. He said "Mayor Collins is a man of courage and conviction whom the Labor Movement in Boston will always love."

Matthew McGrath, International Representative of the United City, County and State Employees Union, said "Mayor Collins has done more for the City of Boston employees than any other mayor of this city."

The agreements, effective July 5, 1967, and expiring July 1, 1969, are subject to the appropriation of funds necessary to implement the agreements in each fiscal year covered by the agreements and are subject to the ratification of the city's Mayor after January, 1968.

The agreements are expected to cost $1.85 million for the balance of 1967.

The Mayor stated: "The pay increase and the streamlining of the step-rate system will enable the City to compete effectively with the Commonwealth and with other municipalities in attracting and retaining qualified public servants."

The agreements cover 7,000 nonprofessional employees represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, and 2,000 employees represented by Local 285, United City, County and State Employees Union, affiliated with Building Service Employees International Union.

Approximately 1,000 professional and executive employees, although not represented in bargaining by either union, will be extended the pay benefits of the agreements by virtue of their inclusion in the City Compensation Plan.

The agreements represent three months of hard bargaining between the city, represented by Special Assistant Corporation Counsel Allan W.

Home Improvement Office in Charlestown

A Home Improvement Center, designed to assist homeowners in rehabilitating their property, will be dedicated August 1 by the Boston Redevelopment Authority at 29 Main street, Charlestown.

The Center is believed to be the first instance in the United States where a redevelopment authority and a public utility—Boston Gas Company, which provides gas and electric service to Charlestown—have joined forces in an area renewal program, according to BRA Administrator Edward J. Logue.

Mayor Collins and Mr. Logue will participate in the 2 p.m. ceremonies to which all residents of Charlestown have been invited.

Along with the invitation, the gas company is mailing an eight-page illustrated brochure to residents in an effort to familiarize them with home improvement services and activities of the center.

BRA personnel operating out of the Center will provide assistance on home construction, design and financing. Within the Center residents can see displays of model kitchens, bathrooms, utility services, and roof and exterior house improvements.

The gas company has leased space in the building to handle applications for utility services and bill payments, and its personnel will assist BRA planners and Charlestown residents in updating utility wiring, piping, and equipment.

Drachman, and the Negotiating Committees of each union. The Negotiating Committee for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees was headed by Mr. Michael Botelho, New England Regional Director; Joseph M. Benavita, Director, and the presidents of District Council No. 45 and its affiliated Locals. The Negotiating Committee for Local 285, United City, County and State Employees Union was headed by Thomas J. Kennedy, president, and his counsel, Attorney Robert Manning.

Not covered by the pay increases are:

(a) Employees currently represented in bargaining by other unions under existing collective bargaining contracts.

(b) Nonprofessional employees in the Library and Welfare Departments, and certain other employees with whom collective bargaining is still under way.

(c) Certain employees with respect to whom a question of collective bargaining representation is pending before the State Labor Relations Commission, including uniformed police.

(d) Certain professional employees in Department of Health and Hospitals who were recently upgraded and whose salaries must be brought into line with the rates for comparable jobs in other departments to avoid "inequities."

$1.1 Million Child Care Building Improvement

Construction of a new emergency floor at Boston City Hospital's Children's Building will get under way next month. A $1.1 million contract for the structure and for complete renovation of the entire building has been signed by the S. Volpe Construction Company.

The project will be financed in part by a $450,000 federal grant.

The renovation work will include construction of four private rooms, two with private baths, on each of the patient care floors.

The pediatrics staff budget will go up nearly $150,000 annually once the new building is completed. This will provide more nurses, technicians, X-ray personnel, secretaries, and physicians. Pediatrics, including the new emergency room, will become a "round-the-clock" operation able to meet any situation.

The ground floor of the new building will provide 24-hour-a-day emergency care, including eight examining rooms, laboratory facilities, a minor surgery room, overnight ward, staff rooms, and facilities for social workers and psychiatrists.

The second floor will be devoted to out-patient clinics conducted by appointment. Pediatric out-patient care will be removed from the first floor of the existing Out-Patient Building.

A Department of Pediatric Radiology also will be located on the second floor. Dr. John O'Connor, the full-time pediatric radiologist, will build his department around this new resource.

With the new X-Ray Department specializing in the care of children, screaming babies and injured children will no longer be lined up waiting for X-rays on the main emergency floor.

The third to seventh floors will be wards with private rooms, play rooms, clinical laboratories, treatment rooms for special equipment, and facilities where parents will be encouraged to stay overnight with their sick children.

The eighth and ninth floors will be devoted to new research facilities.

The Life You Save - May Be Your Own

Nation's Mayors Convene Here For Annual Congress, July 28 — August 2

More than 3,000 mayors, selectmen, and city managers from throughout the United States gathered in Boston July 28-August 2 for the 44th National League of Cities Congress.

The Congress got under way on Friday, July 28. Highlight of the week-long activities is expected to be an address on July 31 by Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey. Other speakers include Mayors Harold Tollefson, Tacoma, Washington, President of the NLC; James H. J. Tate of Philadelphia, NLC vice-president; John V. Lindsay of New York, and host Mayor John F. Collins of Boston.

The Congress, which is the biggest gathering of municipal officials annually, will feature seminars on such governmental subjects as collective bargaining, revenue and finance, transportation and communication, and intergovernmental relations.

In addition to learning the most modern methods of municipal operations, delegates and their families will be given ample opportunity to see and sample Boston and New England old-fashioned hospitality.

A treat of the convention for the women is expected to be a trip to Filene's famous Bargain Basement. Filene's incidently, was high on the list of the things NLC women most wanted to see when they came to Boston.

Other social events scheduled are: A Boston baked beans and ham supper on Friday, July 28; a Cape Cod cookout featuring a tour of Mayflower II, Plymouth Rock, Plimoth Plantation, and the Edaville Museum; tour of Lexington-Concord and Harvard-M.I.T.; an inspection of Boston's new City Hall, Boston Red Sox-Minnesota Twins baseball; visits to the U.S.S. "Constitution," ladies tour of the Museum of Fine Arts, and the Freedom Trail.

The social calendar ends on the evening of Tuesday, August 1, with the NLC annual banquet. The banquet will feature big name entertainment and a parade of state flags under the direction of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery and with the Concord Minutemen Corps playing colonial music.

Children of the NLC delegates also will have a full social schedule. Among the events planned for them are swan boat and surrey rides and a private showing of a major motion picture film supplied by Boston's Ben Sack; a barbecue and beach party at historic Castle Island, a teenage dance featuring several bands, sailing on the Charles River, and a tour of the Museum of Science.

Dr. Hamilton To BCH

Dr. William Roy Hamilton, Jr., former fiscal adviser to Mayor Collins, has been named deputy commissioner for administrative services for the Department of Health and Hospitals.

Dr. Hamilton will direct the installation of a computerized data processing system at City Hospital as well as assuming responsibility for the fiscal affairs of the Department of Health and Hospitals.

In his previous position he was responsible for policy review of major city departments and for liaison with federal agencies.

UCS Names Davis

United Community Services staff member Arthur L. Davis has been named assistant director of the Boston Planning Department, according to a recent announcement by C. Raymond Chase, UCS executive director.

Mr. Davis, formerly the assistant director of the Recreation-Group Work Division, assumed his new post on June 1.

Planning for settlements and camps occupied the major part of Davis's time while he was associated with the Recreation-Group Work Division. In his new post he will still be engaged in social planning, though on a broader scope, according to Boston Planning Department Director Campbell G. Murphy.

His planning efforts will now extend beyond the framework of recreation-group work agencies to a broader range of social services existing or needed within the city.

"Essentially he will be engaged in planning for better city-wide coordination and delivery of social services," Mr. Murphy stated.

Mr. Davis echoed this definition of his new assignment, saying "There has been lots of duplication in the planning and delivery of social services in the past; now we need to pool our efforts."

Information Center

This building is a replica of the historic John Ward House built in Salem in 1684.

Tourism is rated as the second greatest industry in Massachusetts.

In recognition of the importance of tourism, the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority erected this Tourist Information Center on the east-bound lane of the Massachusetts Turnpike, at the 80-mile marker, in the town of Charlton.

The Information Center is staffed by the Massachusetts Division of Tourism.

CBD Plans Dynamic

Perhaps the most dramatic element of the proposed change in Boston's downtown is the transformation of existing vehicular ways to pedestrian malls. The Washington Street mall, although scheduled for the later stages of development, is a highlight of the pedestrian improvements planned for the retail district. Circulation or street improvement proposals, notably the realignment and widening of Chauncy-Arch street, make the pedestrian malls possible.

A parking plan to add some 10,250 new ramp-type garage spaces at strategically located places on the periphery of the retail core and three separate tunnel complex providing underground truck servicing are key factors in providing greater accessibility in the Central Business District.

A basic objective of the CBD renewal plan is also to obtain a mixture of business activities with other urban functions, according to architect Victor Gruen. These functions would include apartments, entertainment, government, cultural, and social institutions. That area of the CBD which is tragically known today as the "Combat Zone" has been identified in the CBD plan as the area which will be transformed into sites for development of commercial, residential, and cultural activities. This so-called hinge block bounded by lower Washington and Tremont streets would constitute a strengthening and focal point in Boston's entertainment district.

Another major key in the Central Business District renewal plan will involve the small retail store and specialty shop area bounded by Tremont, Washington, Bromfield, and West streets. Again, major improvements will take the form of an underground truck servicing system and the creation of miniature mall areas in the Winter Street area. Boston Redevelopment Authority studies indicate that this particular four-block area has declined some $23 million in assessed values in the last fifteen years.

VIII. HIGH COMMENDATION

On Saturday, June 3, 1967, at 10:15 P.M., the department responded to an alarm from Box 2141 which turned out to be false.

As the companies were preparing to leave the scene, a sudden burst of gunfire was heard, and Fire Lieutenant Joseph J. Donovan of Ladder Company 4, who was about to board the ladder truck, was struck by a bullet and fell to the ground. Fire Fighter John J. Gaddis of Ladder Company 4, who was on the ladder truck, immediately went to the assistance of Fire Lieutenant Donovan and dragged him around the front of the truck to the opposite side where he was met by Fire Fighters Walter G. Austin and William E. Pero. The three of them carried Fire Lieutenant Donovan to the chief's car, placed him in the rear seat and he was taken to the Boston City Hospital.

These three fire fighters, with complete disregard for their own safety, and while still under fire, went to the aid of Fire Lieutenant Donovan, rather than seek protective cover.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend them highly, and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Y.E.A. Award Finalist

Mayor John F. Collins, founder of Youth Educational Assistance, Inc., announced that YEA has just been named a finalist in the Lane Bryant Annual Awards competition and has been honored with a citation in recognition of outstanding community service in 1966.

Mayor Collins congratulated Attorney William Wolf, chairman of YEA and members of their Board of Directors, for "their selfless and dedicated work in helping to salvage school dropouts and hard to reach youth by providing a second chance through educational assistance."

The Youth Educational Assistance program was nominated for this award by Reverend L. B. Washington, pastor of the New Life United Presbyterian Church of Roxbury.

The citation is a commendation of the nominee's outstanding achievement and means that Youth Educational Assistance is being actively considered for one of two awards of $1,000 given annually to encourage volunteer work designed to benefit the American community. One award is made to an individual, and one to a group. "To achieve the status of citationist is in itself an honor," Jerome E. Klein, director of the Awards Committee pointed out. "Fewer than 20 percent of those nominated survive the rigid preliminary screening performed by the New York University Graduate School of Social Work to become so designated."

Nationally, the activities of the finalist reflect a continued concern on the part of the American public for its health—both mental and physical. Over 40 percent of those nominated fall into this category. However, a larger percentage of nominations were made in the areas of work with youth, race relations, and particularly poverty, indicating an apparent growing concern with these problems among those making nominations. Other general categories include civic and/or community services, community betterment, education, and work with the aged.

Final selection for the awards will be made by a distinguished panel of five judges. They are: Everett McKinley Dirksen, Minority Leader of the United States Senate; Martha Graham, Dancer and Choreographer; Reverend Theodore M. Hesburgh, C. S. C., President of the University of Notre Dame; Arthur Judson, Impresario, and Robert C. Weaver, Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The late Henry R. Luce, editorial chairman of Time, Inc., had also been named to serve on the committee.

The awards will be presented on November 30 at the Plaza Hotel in New York City at a luncheon given in honor of the winners.

Members of the YEA Board are James A. Travers, Secretary-Treasurer; Paul Cifrino, Dr. Ray Johns, Rubin Epstein, Henry Leen, John Cotter, David S. Nelson, Laura Stromdzhl, Julian Gouse, Thomas Heffernan, Edward Counihan, III, Herbert Connolly, and John Calkins.

Governors, Private Sectors Have Failed To Aid Mayors In Big Urban Crises

(Following are the opening remarks of Boston Mayor John F. Collins, Past President of the National League of Cities and Chairman of the Committee on Community Development, at the Congress of the NLC):

In my eight years as Mayor of Boston I have been actively involved at the national level working with other mayors and with interested national groups in trying to devise more effective ways of dealing with our urban crises.

Eight years ago the urban problem was given very little priority by our national government.

Under the administrations of President Kennedy and President Johnson we have seen a much broader based and more humanized urban renewal program, a much more flexible housing program for moderate and low-income families, and the beginning of more effective federal assistance for health, education, and welfare.

Despite the great increase in federal involvement, I think it will be clear to every city official attending this national Congress that in a time of mounting inflation, rapidly increasing welfare costs, and continuing migration of low-income families to the cities and relatively well-to-do families to the suburbs, there is a serious and continuing revenue gap which denies the cities the resources they need to serve their citizens.

None of us mayors like to go to Washington with our hands out begging. However both the nation as a whole and our national government have been very slow to recognize the importance of the revenue gap which keeps our cities from providing the level of public services which the citizens can justifiably demand.

Unmet Needs

There is increasing feeling not only among us mayors but also among political analysts and other students of public affairs, that our national government's budget must be reexamined.

At the last Congress of the National League of Cities there was serious concern about the national priorities being given budget-wise to the space program against urban needs. This discussion in my judgment must proceed on a much more intensive basis and involving many more of our nation's leaders if we are to make genuine progress towards meeting the urban crises which so dominate our headlines today.

The President and the Congress recognized the enormity of this problem and chartered a program for its solution but we must agree the final test is the amount of money which is recommended and provided. Here the federal government has entirely failed to meet the need.

Mayors Have Been Working

Recent events have focused a great deal of attention on the office of Mayor as a focal point of the attempts to cope with civil disorder.

These same events created an unfortunate impression across America that our modern-day mayors have not been paying adequate attention to the more troubled sections of our cities.

Nothing can be further from the truth!

Jerome Cavanagh as Mayor of Detroit certainly gave and is giving high priority and great personal attention to improving conditions in the ghetto community.

Mayor John Lindsay of New York similarly has spent a great deal of his own personal attention and given high priority in his ambitious over-all program for New York to the huge ghettos of that city.

Mayor Richard Daly of Chicago, Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta, Mayor James Tate of Philadelphia, and many, many others all have given great priority to dealing with these critical problems.

$200 Million Spent Here

Here in Boston, for example, in close and continuing consultation with the leaders of the Boston Negro community we have either committed or already spent in our so-called ghetto areas more than $200,000,000 of public and private funds to renew neighborhoods in ways which have won widespread support from the neighborhoods involved.

Governors . . .

(I note parenthetically that this is the largest amount of money any city in the nation has spent or committed in its ghetto areas.)

While no mayor is seeking to avoid his responsibility I think the American people must realize there is a serious limit to what we can do.

Irresolute Governors

As a retiring mayor I should like to speak out bluntly about two elements in our society that are not doing their share.

First is the state level of government. No governors conference has been held without a resolution, usually unanimously adopted, which demands that the federal government channel its aid to cities through the Governor's office.

The governors wonder why we mayors oppose this. I think the reason is simple.

Not a single governor to date has proposed an all-out program to cope with the ghetto problems of his state. So far as I am aware, across the length and breadth of this nation, no governor has led a task force into a ghetto to see what contributions the state government might bestir itself to make.

We have plenty of well-intentioned state commissions and we have always the last state resort of calling out the National Guard. But in the quiet times between the active troubles, governors, almost without exception, are neither seen nor heard from on the problems of the ghettos.

The whole question of the relationship of the center cities and their surrounding suburban communities and the related questions of metropolitan approaches to both housing and educational policy are largely left undiscussed.

I intend to urge this convention to call upon the Governors of America to face up to their responsibilities, to come forth with solutions, to take advantage of the broader base of state resources and the broader geographic area which they represent to help the cities solve the problems which the cities clearly cannot solve by themselves.

However, I think we all must acknowledge that in our private enterprise society we cannot expect that the various levels of government can solve this problem independent of the private enterprise system.

Private Sector Stands By

In all candor I think we must say that the private sector has, by and large, stood by, clucking in sympathy but taking remarkably little initiative at other than token hiring.

The basic solution to the problem of alienation and poverty in the urban ghettos lies in training unskilled ghetto residents to work in private enterprise jobs where they can hold their own, support their families, and join the mainstream of American society.

It will be a sad day for America if we ever decide that a system of guaranteed income without work, or guaranteed public employment, is to be the sole solution of this problem. Our private enterprise system must be encouraged in every conceivable way to take on and take up an active responsibility for bringing the ghetto residents into the mainstream.

We should not expect the private sector to do this on a charitable basis. It will be necessary for the national government to give tax incentives to companies which are willing to reach out and make investments in training, and plant in ghetto areas.

We have heard much too little from the private sector about ways in which they can make meaningful contributions. We have heard much too little from the private sector about what the federal government must do to make a larger response to this pressing national problem.

In the term private sector I would like to make clear I include not only private enterprise run for profit but our great academic and medical institutions and very definitely our labor unions. When it comes to encouraging the training and employment of unskilled ghetto residents very few enterprises, whether they be for profit, institutional, or labor unions, can hold their head high.

We mayors will continue to do our part. We will continue to be in the eye of the storm. But if the American way of life is to have meaning for all Americans, then we must get all levels of government and all parts of our society at work on the solution of these problems.

Tenant Education

Charles G. Moerdler, former New York City Building Commissioner, stated recently that tenants must be educated in "basic standards of decency" if housing code enforcement is to succeed in bringing about better homes and cities.

Mr. Moerdler said that education should be through tenant clinics run by grass-roots block organizations. The major and primary program needed is one aimed at teaching people "basic house-keeping techniques." A meaningful tenant education program coupled with effective apartment inspection and code enforcement will help win the battle against city blight, he believes.

First National Bank Unveils Plans for 37-Story Skyscraper in Downtown's Financial District

The First National Bank on July 25 unveiled plans for a 37-story skyscraper reaching 591 feet into the skyline and changing the congested downtown land use to an open, landscaped plaza.

Though not as tall as Prudential Tower the total area of 1,463,046 square feet of space makes it the largest building and dramatic in appearance with an enlarged eight-story section from the sixth through the thirteenth floors, a portion which extends 30 feet on all four sides beyond the otherwise vertical lines.

The lower tapered floors accentuate the open plaza roughly half of the almost two-acre site bounded by Franklin, Congress, and Matthews streets in the heart of the financial district.

First National President Richard D. Hill, of Marblehead Neck, who is also chairman of its Building Committee, said the building would cost in the vicinity of $30 a square foot or more than $43 millions, a substantial economic boost to the valuation of any tax burden city trying to maintain its central business district.

Mr. Hill said he hoped to see wreckers start demolition work at 80 Federal street, November 1. Construction to start next spring and completion by the end of 1970. By the end of October all tenants are expected to be out of the old Chamber of Commerce Building.

Although the building will be the tallest downtown, Mr. Hill said the design objective was to secure maximum large floor areas and space to expand through the use of short-term leases for several decades.

He acknowledged a feeling of responsibility for enhancing the physical appearance of what is now a crowded area with buildings using their total land area and indicated that the massive look combined with the open setbacks fulfilled this goal. He said it was customary to retain New York architects for such big ventures but he discovered there was comparable design talent here and credited the architectural firm of Campbell, Aldrich and Nulty with providing the functional quarters needed by the bank and "breathing space needed downtown."

He introduced Mayor Collins at the press briefing as the man who made this investment climate possible and Redevelopment Administrator Edward Logue as the man who had set high standards for developers to follow.

Of the 1,000,000 feet of rentable space, the bank will occupy approximately half with 500,000 for tenant use. Mr. Hill said that Thomas M. Horan, president of Meredith & Grew, had verbally committed more than half of this space with the probability that all leasing would be complete by the end of this year, a remarkable feat considering the amount of new space in the city.

Mr. Hill said if any one person should be credited with getting the skyscraper off the ground, it was Mr. Horan who assembled the site after the bank had given up all hope of securing the block from numerous ownerships.

The structure will have three basements, the upper two extending under virtually all the site and the third conforming to the street level dimensions of the building. Parking for 200 cars is provided in the second basement with entrances at the Matthews and Federal Streets sides.

When the First moves into the building, it will signal start of another vast enterprise, a new headquarters for the National Shawmut Bank which has purchased the First's present Milk Street property.

No Housing Bar

A recent survey by the Massachusetts Committee Against Discrimination indicates there are no major social obstacles to neighborhood integration.

The study examined complaints of housing discrimination from 45 nonwhite Bay State residents—38 in Boston and 7 in Springfield—whom the MCAD had helped move into white neighborhoods.

The report claims to dispel "myths promulgated by the National Association of Real Estate Boards that open occupancy causes property depreciation, racial strife, panic selling, and rapid, drastic, change in population composition.

According to the survey there was "not a single case of antagonism. There has been widespread acceptance of the nonwhite occupants, with only 15 percent accepting with reservations."

114 Years Old

Aspirin was discovered in 1853 but it wasn't until 1898 that it was generally recognized as an agent which could relieve pain. Then it was believed to have possibilities not alone in easing the pangs of rheumatism and arthritis but of curing the maladies as well.

Unemployment List Cut

One hundred and eighty-five labor areas were removed in June from persistent unemployment classifications or from the list of areas which meet unemployment criteria under Title I of the Public Works and Economic Development Act.

Off the persistent-unemployment list are three major manpower centers. Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton, as well as the city of Miami.

Atlantic City, Charleston (West Virginia), Lawrence-Haverhill, San Diego, San Jose, and Wheeling are being dropped from the Title I list (areas eligible for public works assistance on the basis of unemployment).

"Voice of the Cities" Cry is for Help

(Following are the welcoming remarks of Mayor John F. Collins of Boston, Past President of the National League of Cities, at its opening general session of the 44th Annual Congress):

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to Boston and to the 44th Annual Congress of Cities of the National League of Cities.

During the past few days I know that each of you has had an opportunity to enjoy yourself, to meet old friends, and to make new ones in Boston. The comments you have made are heartwarming and sincerely appreciated and all the citizens of Boston thank you.

But lest any observer think that this has been a convention consisting only of visits to our excellent restaurants, to our fine shops, to the swan boats, to Plymouth Rock, to the Freedom Trail, to Faneuil Hall, or the New City Hall, let me say that this has not only been one of the busiest Congress ever held, but also the most important.

Yes, we hope that this has been an enjoyable session, a busy session, and an important session, but it also has been a session marked by an urgency unparalleled since the League began.

Wherever one goes, to whomever one speaks, one plea can be heard.

It is the voice of the cities. The cry is for help.

And so my welcome to you is blended with both admiration, and sympathy, for it is you, the Mayors of America, who must guide our cities through the most perilous storms in our nation's history.

It is you, the Mayors of America, who are on the firing line, caught in the crossfire, in this time of crisis, time of upheaval, in all of our cities.

Throughout our country people of good will offered their prayers for the restoration of peace and the resolution of justice.

And as we, the Mayors of America, bow our heads in prayer, we pray that our national government recognizes that the cities of the United States are in grave crisis and great efforts by our government must be mounted on many fronts.

We pray that the Federal Bureau of Investigation probe at once the possibility that sedition and insurrection and not a casual, happenstance pattern of riots exist.

We pray that we must not wait until March, 1968, for the President's Task Force to tell us the reasons for riots when many people want to know not only the reasons but the remedies now.

We pray the House Appropriations Committee will realize that the action recommended by its Committee several months ago in cutting urban programs was not in the best interests of the cities, or the nation.

We pray that those who would practice partisan politics realize the error of their ways at this moment when fear grips the heart of every woman and most men in America.

We pray that Governors and State Legislatures will assert their full leadership potential and discharge their responsibilities to the people of the cities of our nation.

We pray that reason will replace riots and that every man, everywhere, may walk the streets in safety.

We pray that the American dream will not become a nightmare.

We pray that the Vice-President while he is here in Boston, attending this convention will tell the President that the Cities of America no longer can be treated as mendicants seeking aspirin when major surgery is required.

And finally we pray that our prayers will be heard, for prayer without action is futility.

President Johnson has labored to lighten our load but Congress continues to slumber, unaware or unwilling to note that where last year there was smoke there now is fire in our cities.

State governments continue to live in sleepy hollow content to let the cities fight their battle. And the battle will be lost if federal and state governments continue to doze as cities become battlegrounds.

From earliest times man's cities have been considered his most significant accomplishment. Will Congress and the nation's Governors allow them to die?

Cities have stood as living monuments to man's ingenuity for centuries. Will Congress and the nation's Governors allow them to topple overnight?

It was in the cities that man developed the arts, the laws, the politics, and the technology directed toward enabling him to live the good life envisioned by the philosophers. Will Congress and the Governors permit this vision to blur?

Through the years it has been the cities that have been the magnets for progress and culture, drawing the young, the creative and the productive from the countryside. Will Congress and the Governors now slam that door?

It was in the Cities of America that the poor and the outcasts of many lands found a new life and a new hope from Beacon Hill to Nob Hill. Will Congress and the Governors now tell them there is no hope?

The Cities of America cry out for help.

The agony that was Detroit, and Newark, and New York, and that of countless other cities can be the tragedy that strikes all cities.

The eyes of the world are on Boston as America's Mayors meet.

The hopes of the world are in Washington and in the state capitals of this nation.

If the United States is to survive, her cities must be rescued NOW!

Welfare Delegates

Deputy Director Doris L. Burke, Social Services, will represent the Public Welfare Department at the Northeast Regional Institute on the Separation of Aid and Services to be held by the Technical Assistance Project of the American Public Welfare Association in Newport, Rhode Island, August 7-10.

Retirement Hikes Ready Soon For 5,000

More than 5,000 city retirees, their widows, or beneficiaries will be receiving their first cost of living increase checks around the middle of August.

Paul Carty, secretary and executive officer of the Boston Retirement Board, has had his staff of 20 working overtime since the enactment of chapter 408, Acts of 1967, a month ago.

Although the first checks were supposed to be paid July 1 under the act, Paul Carty said it was an "impossibility" because of the paper work involved. As it is, the overtime will cost the city probably $5,000.

Depending on the individuals circumstances, the amount of the checks will go as high as $250. A second check for similar amounts will be mailed out near the end of December.

There is a group of "over 1,000," according to Paul Carty, who will not benefit. This is because the new state-wide law excludes persons receiving retirement allowances effective after December 31, 1964, allowances in excess of $6,000 per year, and increases already greater than the cost of living hike.

Those retiring after January 1, 1965, will not benefit until January 1, 1970.

Mr. Carty will meet paymasters representing 1,500 eligibles not under his jurisdiction to aid them in working out the new amounts. These are mainly in the Fire, Police, and School Departments. He predicts that their cost of living checks will be in the mail approximately the same time as the others.

Mr. Carty estimates the cost to the city for the increases this year at $400,000, for next year at $800,000, and at $1,000,000 thereafter.

One million dollars represents 68 cents on the tax rate.

Food Market Plans

Plans for a multimillion dollar wholesale meat and poultry distribution center in South Boston were presented recently to the Boston Redevelopment Authority by a group of Faneuil Hall area wholesalers who are scheduled to be relocated.

Attorney Harold Widett, representing 32 wholesalers, asked the BRA to allow the dealers certain tax arrangements.

The Board took the application action under advisement.

Attorney Widett told the BRA that the dealers have formed the New Boston Food Market Corporation and would construct a center comprising eight buildings. The site is the former New Haven Railroad land off the "loop-track" area.

It is not far from the Expressway's Massachusetts avenue cut-off and the Newmarket wholesale meat area built when North End wholesalers were displaced by the Fitzgerald Expressway.

Attorney Widett said seven of the eight buildings would be occupied by single tenants. The eight structures would be occupied by 25 wholesalers in 22 separate bays. Total area for the market building use would be 266,000 square feet.

Ecumenical Center

The Roxbury Ecumenical Center has been given a $1,027,000 federal grant to provide community services for Washington Park residents and to help construct its new facilities at Crawford street and Humboldt avenue.

The Center plans to use the grant to set up the following activities: A full-day care service pre-school education program, including a hot breakfast and noon-day meal, will be offered children from 2½ to 5 years old.

For six to twelve year olds, there will be a tutorial program. A block recreation program on six different residential blocks will provide group supervision for two to three hundred children each afternoon after school.

Teenagers will have a lounge and coffee shop to go to each afternoon and evening. It will be equipped with a snack bar and game tables, there will also be a place for dancing and presenting plays. Help in job placement plus college and scholarship information will also be offered.

For adults there will be offered courses with college credit and leadership classes. For senior citizens there will be lounges, special activities and possibly a hot meal program.

The Ecumenical Center will also host religious programs, action groups for community problems, and a counseling service. Hopefully, it plans to provide space for a pre-school children's clinic to be run by the Beth Israel Hospital, and a Community Mental Health Center as well as other community service organizations.

The Center is now operating at 75 Crawford street. It is conducted by the following religious groups: Roman Catholic Church, United Presbyterian Church, Protestant Episcopal Diocese, United Church of Christ, Methodist Church, and the Boston Baptist Bethel City Missionary Society.

Six-Town Plan

A multimillion dollar regional incinerator may solve the trash disposal problem of six west of Boston suburbs within five years.

As provided in state law, the West Suburban Regional Refuse Disposal Planning Board was created with the approval of the town meetings and City Council in Waltham, Weston, Bedford, Lexington, Lincoln, and Concord.

Eight-Hour Parade To Feature Boston's Third American Legion Convention

The 49th Annual National Convention of the American Legion will be held in Boston August 25-31.

It will be the third Legion conclave in Boston. The Department of Massachusetts was national host in 1930 and 1940.

Close to 50,000 Legionnaires, their families, and guests are expected to attend the weeklong events.

Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey has accepted an invitation to represent President Lyndon B. Johnson and make the keynote address at 1.15 P.M., August 29, in War Memorial Auditorium, where the Legion will be in session August 29-31.

His recent global travels have enabled the Vice-President to view at first hand the many international complications confronting the Western nations and because of his trips to Vietnam, the Far East, and Europe, he is expected to bring to the American Legion delegates a review, in depth, of the current world situation.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO will make a principal address on August 31. Long a friend of American Legionnaires he has addressed all of the organization's national conventions since 1952, save for the few times his duties in the field of International Labor took him out of the country.

Featured Speakers

Donald M. Kendall, president and chief executive officer of Pepsi Company, Inc., New York, New York, will also be a featured speaker on August 31. A decorated World War II naval aviator, active in many national and international organizations, is a member of the U. S. Naval Air Advisory Council, a director of Alaskan Airway, Daytonia International Speedway Corporation and Sinclair Oil Corporation, and an officer in various groups such as the Boy Scouts and Freedoms Foundation.

Administrator William J. Driver of the U. S. Veterans Administration will be among six heads or representatives bringing the greetings of their organizations to the convention.

Others will include:

Lieut. Gen. William D. Eckert, USAF-Ret., Commissioner of Baseball;

Thomas Allsopp, senior vice-president in charge of Northeastern Operations, Prudential Insurance Company of America, Boston; representing Boy Scouts of America;

James L. Boyle of Waterville, Maine, president-elect of the Society of American Legion Founders;

Mrs. A. J. Ryan, Sr., of Dania, Florida, National President of the American Legion Auxiliary; and Braulio Alonso of Tampa, Florida, the newly elected President of the National Education Association.

Retired Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark will be the recipient of the Legion's highest award, the Distinguished Service Medal, on August 29.

Selection of Justice Clark as the 1967 recipient was made by the Legion's National Executive Committee, and the resolution placing his name in nomination read in part as follows:

"It is in keeping with the principles, purposes, and traditions of this award that it be bestowed upon a distinguished American who has served our nation with dignity and with honor in both the Executive and Judicial Branches of Government."

Attorney General Ramsey Clark will accept the award on behalf of his father, who will be out of the country at the time.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat will receive the Legion's Fourth Estate Award on August 30 for "an editorial policy supporting the fundamental basics of American freedoms." This stand has been particularly emphasized and expanded since 1955, when Richard H. Amberg, became publisher. Amberg, an active Legionnaire since 1950, currently Chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the Department of Missouri, has received numerous Legion awards. He was recently appointed to the board of directors of the Associated Press. He will attend the convention as a distinguished guest and receive the award on behalf of the newspaper's staff.

Service At Old North

The traditional American Legion Memorial Service will be conducted at Boston's historic Old North Church (Christ Church) on Sunday, August 27, at 4.30 P.M., by Rev. Anthony J. O'Driscoll, O.F.M., of St. Anthony's Monastery, Butler, New Jersey, the National Chaplain. The historic midnight ride of Paul Revere on the night of April 18, 1775, will be symbolized by James R. Reynolds, II, a descendant of Paul Revere, carrying the original lanterns, lighted by National Commander John E. Davis. The National Champion Color Guard from Post 985, Chicago, will advance the colors and at the end of the service hold the Taps and Firing Salute ceremony.

The Invocation will be given by Rabbi Joseph S. Shubow and Benediction by Rev. Howard P. Kellett, Vicar of Christ Church for many years.

The memorial service will be conducted jointly by the American Legion, its Auxiliary, and the Eight and Forty, an organization of Legion Auxiliary members.

The Drum and Bugle Corps Contest and Parade of Champions will be held at Fenway Park on August 27, at 7 P.M. Seven Junior and five Senior groups will compete in the final competition to determine the nation's best Senior and Junior Drum and Bugle Corps.

The preliminaries and the other contests are scheduled as follows:

White Stadium, Jamaica Plain—Junior Drum and Bugle Corps.

East Boston Memorial Stadium (at Logan Airport)—Senior Drum and Bugle Corps.

Hatch Memorial Shell and Charlesbank at Charles Street—Junior and Senior Bands.

Boston Common Baseball Field (Charles street corner Boylston)—Junior and Senior Color Guard.

Squantum Air Base—Motorcycle Drill Team.

Parade Starts At 10

The mammoth eight-hour parade will start at 10 A.M. on Monday, August 28, at Beacon and Arlington streets. It will proceed on Arlington, turn left to Boylston and take another left to Charles. From Charles it will turn right on Beacon and head toward the State House. From there it will turn right on Park and proceed to Tremont. Turning right, it will proceed down Tremont and on to the disbanding area at Broadway. The reviewing stand will be located on Tremont street near Boylston.

Hawaii, the 50th state, will be the first department in the parade. The Aloha Department earned the pole position by posting the highest rate of increase in membership over its average for the past four years, the determining factor in the selection of the order of march for the 50 states and the departments of the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. The Hawaiian Legionnaires will follow the nearly hour-long participation by the military services and the foreign departments of the Legion, Canada, France, Italy, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, and the Philippines.

As host state, the Massachusetts Department will march last.

The three-day business sessions, August 29, 30, and 31, will be held at the War Memorial Auditorium.

Military, civic, and commercial exhibits will be set up in the display area of the Auditorium during the business sessions.

The National Commander's Dinner for Distinguished Guests will be in the ballroom of the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, Tuesday, August 29, at 7.30 P.M.

Mayor Questions School Budget Hike

Mayor Collins made the following statement on August 8 at a City Hall press conference.

"I have today received a communication from the School Committee for a meeting to discuss a request for additional funds amounting to $331,900 for salary increases for 1/3 of the year. Over a full year, this would amount to $995,700.

"My immediate reaction is that the School Committee has taken no action to reduce the A & R budget by $574,587.76 which has been determined to be surplus funds. If allowed this will force the taxpayers to raise these funds unnecessarily. I submit that this reduction should be taken at once by the School Committee as responsible elected officials of the city.

"It has been indicated by the School Committee that the additional $331,900 is needed to meet collective bargaining agreements. It is my intention to review this matter to determine if this is correct.

"I will be in communication with the School Committee at a later date."

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 17

To All Department Heads and County Officers.

GENTLEMEN:

1967's Mayor's Charity Festival will be held at Fenway Park this year on Tuesday, September 5 (next day, if it rains), and we expect capacity crowds. As in the past, top-notch entertainers will be on hand for a fine adult and teen show. Prizes will consist of three automobiles (Chevrolet, Ford, and Buick). A trip for two to Hawaii will also be available along with many other prizes.

Tickets will be available at $1 (an unreserved grandstand); $2 (a reserved grandstand); $3 (reserved roof boxes).

We ask that each department head and county officer name one employee within his department to be responsible for the handling of all details pertaining to the Mayor's Charity Festival. The name of this person should be forwarded immediately to Mr. Frank Kennedy of the Mayor's Office.

The returns for tickets sold should be made to Mr. Dennis H. Gallagher in the Treasurer's Office, preferably by check made payable to "the Mayor's Charity Fund." Because time is extremely short this year, your fullest cooperation is requested for the success of this most worthy cause.

Ex.-Gov. Davis Presides

National Commander John E. Davis, a former Republican Governor of North Dakota, will preside over the American Legion convention. A 54-year-old banker and cattleman, he is also a former Mayor of McClusky, North Dakota. A native of Minnesota, he has served in the State Senate of North Dakota. A World War II Infantry Battalion Commander, he won four battle stars, the Silver Star, Bronze Star, and was awarded the Purple Heart. He has been active in the Legion for 20 years.

Service Parade Units

The U. S. Air Force is the coordinating service for the Boston convention of the American Legion.

The Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard, and National Guard will provide marching units for the parade. In addition, they will provide logistical support and mobile indoor exhibits at the War Memorial Auditorium during the three days of business sessions.

Let's make this Mayor's Charity Festival the finest we've ever had!

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.
JOHN TIERNEY, General Chairman.

Vietnam Vets

A new generation of veterans—those who have served during the action in Vietnam—will be attending an American Legion National Convention for the first time, August 25-31. The eligibility period for their American Legion admission began on August 5, 1964, the date of the first retaliatory military action through the attack in the Gulf of Tonkin.

These Legionnaires with the veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean War now total 2,600,000 making the American Legion larger than all other veterans' organizations combined.

A representative group of Legionnaires who are veterans of the Vietnam era will meet during the convention to advise the Legion on how they can be most helpful to their fellow servicemen.

The "Viet Vet Advisory Group" will be composed of 52 Legionnaires—one from each of the 50 states and the Departments of the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Plans call for this group to meet on Sunday, August 27, participate as a unit in the distinguished guests section at the very beginning of the convention parade on Monday and be seated on the convention platform at the time its report is presented to the delegates in the War Memorial Auditorium.

Legion Headquarters

The Sheraton-Boston Hotel will be the convention headquarters for the American Legion. Most of the organization's committee meetings will be held there.

The American Legion's National Security Commission meetings will be held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel.

Approximately 600 resolutions will be discussed at these meetings, which will be held between August 25-28.

The Contest Committee will have its headquarters and meetings at the Parker House.

Convention headquarters for the Auxiliary will be at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Mayor Directs City Departments to Aid in Huge City-Wide Job Training Plan

Mayor John F. Collins announced August 8, the appointment of Daniel J. Finn, Commissioner of Housing Inspection, as Manpower Administrator for the City of Boston.

"Mr. Finn will begin immediately to organize the facilities of the city to provide training of men and women for a wide variety of skills to fit them for acceptance in worthwhile jobs in the labor market. He will work with Action for Boston Community Development and particularly with ABCD's now well-established manpower division. He will coordinate the various city departments in providing the facilities and the know-how of the various municipal departments.

"A city such as Boston in its daily operations uses the services of men and women skilled in many diverse jobs from heavy machine operation to the most scientific demands of the modern laboratory; from simple office clerical work to the most sophisticated use of the computer.

"Through the facilities of our various departments Mr. Finn will seek out training spots not alone for youth but for potential wage earners in every classification with a view toward preparing them for the demands of the present labor market.

"I am confident that with the fine start made by ABCD in the manpower field—with its present strong development of neighborhood employment centers—Boston will be able to establish one of the best if not the nation's best records for training and employment for those of our citizens who are in need of dignified, worthwhile employment.

"I believe this is the first city in the nation to introduce such a job program.

"Mr. Finn will serve without honorarium in this position. He and Mr. George Bennett, executive director of ABCD, will begin immediately to implement the program."

General Order No. 29

RIOT OPERATIONS PROCEDURE

Effective immediately, this order rescinds and supersedes General Order No. 32 (1965) and Special Order—urgent, dated June 3, 1967, and the supplements thereto dated June 4, 5, 1967.

Emergency Signal 10-18 is established within this department and shall be carried on the Instruction Cards as an emergency signal for "Riot Conditions."

This signal shall be struck on orders of the chief of department or acting chief, or if either is unavailable, the deputy fire chief in the area where the incident has occurred. When this signal is received over Fire Department tapper, it indicates that a "Riot Condition" exists. A "Riot Condition" is defined as, "Three or more persons assembled together in doing some lawful or unlawful act in a violent or tumultuous manner causing great terror to the public."

With the striking of Signal 10-18, the department shall be governed by the following procedure:

A. The area within which an incident occurs within the definition of a "Riot Condition" shall be bound as rapidly as possible by the deputy fire chief on duty in this area and this information furnished Fire Alarm for transmission to the department.

B. Command Post No 1 shall be established at Fire Department Headquarters under the direction of the chief of department and/or senior officer present.

C. Command Post No. 2 shall be established at a fire station of this department located on the opposite side of the trouble area as determined by the deputy fire chief on duty in the division. The location of Command Post No. 2 shall be transmitted by the fire alarm radio to department stations. Its location is subject to change as conditions may require. Ordinarily the senior deputy chief present shall exercise command and shall maintain close liaison with Command Post No. 1.

D. Upon the bounding of the critical area, all fire companies located within the defined area will evacuate their stations and report to the Command Post as designated herein. Any other companies in the critical area will report to Command Post No. 2, if in Division 2; or Command Post No. 1, if in Division 1. Fire stations should be securely locked prior to departure.

E. The following chief officers and fire companies shall report to the indicated Command Post for assignment to the Task Force and thereafter shall operate as a Task Force:

1. The Task Forces assigned to Command Post No. 1 are designated by the odd numbers: 1-3-5-7-9.

2. Additional Task Forces will be made up from other companies in the department, as necessary, to handle conditions. Fire Alarm will request Mutual Aid companies to cover stations outside of the critical area only. Only fire companies of this department will be expected to operate within the defined critical area.

3. Lighting Plant 2 will proceed to Ladder Company 26's quarters and will respond from there as needed.

F. The Fire Alarm Office will handle all alarms or calls outside of the defined trouble area in a normal manner. All boxes or calls within the defined area will be relayed to Command Post No. 1 or Command Post No. 2, whichever is closer to the reported incident, and to the Boston Police Turret. Dispatching of apparatus into the defined area will be strictly controlled by the Command Post.

G. Upon notification of a box alarm from the Fire Alarm Office, the Command Post will assign one of the Task Force chiefs to proceed to the location. Two police officers will ride in the chief's car and accompany him to the scene. The chief will report conditions back to the Command Post via radio. If necessary, he shall call for his Task Force to handle the situation. In those cases where only a chief is sent to check a location, the Task Force personnel assigned to him shall be alert and stand by apparatus so that there will be no delay in response. The Task Force consisting of the assigned two engine companies and one ladder company when dispatched into a defined trouble area will respond, operate and return as one unit to the Command Post, except as herein noted. In every case, the Task Force chief will report via radio when it leaves a location.

Upon receipt of Still Alarms from the police or civilians that a building fire exists, the entire Task Force will respond with the chief.

Multiple alarms will not be struck in the defined area. The Task Force chief will order additional Task Forces from the Command Posts as needed.

The Arson Squad (K-4) and the Department Photographer (K-6) will be accompanied by police officers when responding into the critical defined area.

When a chief officer is assigned to duty with a Task Force, in the event of a fire in the absent chief's district, the Fire Alarm Office will dispatch a district chief from the next adjacent district.

H. Communications: All communications will be via Channel 2 as much as possible. In those instances where this channel is not available, Channel 1 will be utilized. There is no restriction on the use of telephone, if necessary, and/or more convenient.

I. Precautions. All personnel and fire companies assigned to report for Task Force duty will be governed by the following precautions:

(a) Remove axes or secure under seats.

(b) Remove all other exposed tools, fittings and equipment and place in compartment or other safe places.

(c) Conceal anything which is removable under canvas in order not to provide unwittingly missiles to rioters.

(d) All fire chiefs will wear black rubber coats and fire hats. All personnel assigned to Task Forces shall affix the protective life rings to their fire helmets.

(e) When operating in the critical defined area, red lights on roofs of chiefs' cars and emergency warning lights on apparatus should not be utilized unless absolutely necessary for they provide targets for snipers.

(f) When operating in a critical area, sirens should not be sounded unless absolutely necessary, for in many cases this sound increases the excitement in the area and gives perpetrators the results they desire from sounding an alarm of fire.

J. When Emergency Signal 10-18 is in effect, the department personnel should be alert to the possibility that the recall signal may be sounded.

Mayor Collins Announces Free Concert Featuring Judy Garland, Aug. 31

Judy Garland, in person, will give a free concert in Boston on Thursday, August 31. The time, 8.30 P.M. The place, the Boston Common, adjacent to Charles street. In case of rain, the concert will be given at 8.30 P.M. on Friday, September 1.

Announcement of this unprecedented event was made, Tuesday, August 15, by Mayor Collins. With the Mayor were Parks Commissioner John J. Tierney, who pioneered in bringing this event to Boston; Malcolm Sandler, manager of New England Operations; Robert Davis, Boston Manager for Knickerbocker Beer, the company which is underwriting the cost of the concert; and Ron Delsener, who is producing it.

The concert represents a felicitous meeting of the minds among the Boston administrators involved and the Knickerbocker policy makers. Commissioner Tierney and the company's heads agreed that this gift to the people of Boston, in the form of a concert in the park by the inimitable Judy, was very much in order at this time.

The concert, the principals indicated, has a threefold reason behind it. First, it celebrates the "new Boston," and introduces a new creative use of expanded park facilities for the greater benefit of all segments of the public. Second, it marks the 100th anniversary of Knickerbocker Beer. Third, it highlights the modernization of the brewing company's plant in New Bedford. When completed, this will be one of the company's major manufacturing complexes, of great importance to the Massachusetts business community.

Judy Garland will come to Boston directly from her triumph at New York's Palace Theatre. The petite entertainer is currently playing to sold-out houses there, and won the season's most enthusiastic set of notices from the traditionally "tough" New York critics for her singing and showmanship. Her Boston concert, a one-woman show, will be her first appearance following her closing at the Palace.

Boston, through Parks Commissioner Tierney, was quick to see the cultural desirability of bringing its music-loving citizens a major star in a park concert absolutely free of charge. This new concept of public service, in which a commercial firm shoulders the great expense of such a concert for the benefit of the public of its home area, was triumphantly demonstrated earlier this summer in New York, with a concert produced by Ron Delsener, in cooperation with Parks Commissioner August Heckscher, and starring Barbra Streisand.

In this free concert, held at the Sheep Meadow in Central Park, Miss Streisand attracted an audience of unprecedented size, estimated at 135,000. This Sunday, August 20, in that same Sheep Meadow, Knickerbocker Beer's New York affiliate, Commissioner Heckscher and Delsener will combine to bring New Yorkers another super star, Herb Alpert and his Tijuana Brass.

Commissioner Tierney indicated his hope that the Judy Garland concert will be the auspicious beginning to a long-range cultural program for Boston's city parks, in which the business community of greater Boston will take an active and continuing part.

Mayor Requests Appropriation of $24 Million for Urban Plan

A resolution sent by Mayor John F. Collins to the Boston City Council, requesting speedy approval from the Council for an appropriation of $24 million for municipal improvements within the $400 million central business district urban renewal plan, was referred to the Committee on Urban Renewal.

Councillor Patrick F. McDonough, chairman of the committee, said he would schedule public hearings on the request as soon as possible, probably within the next two weeks. He would not comment on how many hearings would be necessary.

The $24 million appropriation (with the state assuming a portion of the cost) will be for new streets, utilities, and other improvements, such as the Washington Street shopping mall.

Concerning the over-all $400 million project, designed to rebuild downtown Boston into a business, shopping and commercial center, former Boston Redevelopment Administration head Edward J. Logue said it would generate over $300 million in private investments. The project also called for $96.3 million in federal funds for its completion.

As unveiled on May 19 of this year, the business district plan—which Mayor Collins has said would revitalize downtown Boston—calls for the conversion of Washington street, from Water street to a point near Bedford street, to a landscaped shopping mall.

Volunteers Sought

The Boston State Hospital recently received a $101,000 grant for a three year period from the National Institute of Mental Health to train specialized citizen volunteers and volunteer leaders. This is an experimental program which will train the volunteer associate leaders to supervise groups of volunteers working with patients. The volunteer will also work closely with the hospital's staff in an effort to aid the patient's recovery and return to the community.

PFC Announces List Of School Architects

Another positive step toward the initiation of construction of Boston's new schools was taken August 8 by the Public Facilities Commission. Upon recommendations by their Director, the Commission approved the appointment of the following architects:

1. Whitney, Atwood and Norcross Associates for design of a new 1,000 pupil elementary school to replace the existing John Marshall School in North Dorchester.

2. John Carr Associates for design of a new 1,000 pupil elementary school to replace the existing Gibson and Atherton Schools in North Dorchester.

3. Isidor Richmond and Carney Goldberg for design of a new 1,100 pupil elementary school to replace the existing Champlain, Whittier and Nightingale Schools in North Dorchester, and

4. The PARD TEAM for design of a new 1,000 pupil elementary school to replace the existing Jefferson and Bulfinch Schools in Jamaica Plain.

Sites for all four schools have already been selected by the Public Facilities Commission and approved by the Superintendent of Schools.

Design of these schools will be based on Statements of Design Requirements prepared by a Harvard University Task Force under contract to the PFC. Harvard's work, in turn, was based on educational specifications written by the Office of Program Development of the Boston School Department.

Construction of these four schools, along with ten other projects, was authorized by the recent agreement between the Boston School Committee and the State Board of Education.

Groundbreaking is scheduled for late spring or early summer of next year with opening in the fall of 1970 at the latest.

Other elementary schools will shortly be under design for Roxbury, Charlestown and South Boston. These are also scheduled for opening in 1970.

Groundbreaking for Roxbury's long-awaited elementary school on Humboldt avenue is presently scheduled for the twenty-third of this month.

Dr. Berger Selected

Dr. S. Michael Berger, Assistant in Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Harvard Medical School, Boston Hospital for Women, and Clinical Consultant in the Steroid Hormone Research Unit of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Boston City Hospital, has been selected for a Macy Faculty Fellowship in Academic Obstetrics and Gynecology, effective July 1.

The award was made by the Isaiah Macy, Jr., Foundation of New York.

This grant will enable Dr. Berger continue his studies of high-risk pregnancies. His major research interest is the detection and assessment of any abnormality in mental function and fetal growth. He hoped that a combination of clinical and laboratory data will provide a basis for the care and management of the individual high-pregnancy.

Infant Killer

These defects are this nation's greatest destroyer of life, claiming approximately half a million unborn babies each year and killing 60,000 of our children and adults. More than 250,000 American babies are born every year with a defect and an estimated 15 million persons have one or more defects that affect their daily lives," he said.

C of C Praises Vote

The Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce has commended the U. S. House of Representatives for its overwhelming support of a bill to prevent the proposed consolidation of the First and Third Naval Districts with headquarters in New York.

The measure, H. R. 11722, the Military Construction Authorization Bill, passed the House by a vote of 394 to 2. Title 10 of the bill sets geographical limits for naval districts and provides that district commandants shall have ranks not below rear admiral. It, in effect, blocks the Navy's planned consolidation which would have transferred headquarters of the First Naval District in Boston to New York.

Chamber President Bernard J. O'Keefe said the Congressmen "should be congratulated for recognizing that the Navy's consolidation plan was not only unnecessary but unwise from an economic standpoint."

The bill was a bipartisan effort introduced jointly by Representative L. Mendel Rivers (D.-S. C.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and Representative William H. Bates (R.-Mass.) ranking minority member. It now goes to the Senate Armed Services Committee headed by Senator Richard D. Russell (D.-Ga.).

CLAIMS APPROVED

Mayor Collins has approved the following votes of the City Council Committee on Claims on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel:

William J. O'Brien, 153 Temple street, West Roxbury, to be reimbursed as the result of an accident on March 22, 1967, while in the performance of his duty as an employee of the Fire Department, attached to Ladder Company 26, he was operating a city-owned vehicle on Boswell street, Boston, when he struck a parked car, belonging to Dean H. Carlson, causing damage to said car, by payment of $25.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

July 27.

General Order No. 31

I. FIRE DUTY AND EMERGENCY OPERATIONS

The following rules shall be added to the Rules and Regulations of the Boston Fire Department and shall become standard operating procedure immediately:

"Rule 28. 61. Single Unit Engine Company Operations.

(a) In every case of a fire in a building in which the first arriving engine company is a single unit, the pumper shall be supplied with water in accordance with the provisions of either of the following subparagraphs (b), (c) or (d).

(b) When the hydrant is in close proximity to the fire, the 5-inch soft suction or the 4½-inch hard suction shall be used to connect pumper to hydrant.

(c) When the hydrant is not in close proximity to the fire, a feeder line shall be run from the nearest hydrant to the fire and connected to 4½-inch outlet.

(d) When the distance from the hydrant to the fire exceeds 300 feet, or when considerable fire or smoke is showing, a second feeder line shall be run.

(e) On third or greater alarms, the pumper shall connect to the nearest available hydrant, utilizing the 5-inch soft suction or the 4½-inch hard suction, unless otherwise ordered by the officer in command.

(f) Engine companies arriving at a fire on the first alarm shall not connect to the same hydrant. Note: Rule 28. 8 (f) shall be amended to conform to the above by deleting the words, "The first and second due."

(g) If a single unit is the first engine company to arrive at a fire, a 1½-inch line of hose from this company will immediately operate on the fire, unless the fire is of such magnitude as to render it of no value. In the latter case, a 2½-inch line of hose or deck gun will be put into operation, depending on the volume and extent of fire. When the initial line of hose put into operation on a building fire is 1½-inch, it shall always be backed up by a 2½-inch line of hose, and by the personnel from the same company.

(h) Single unit pumpers shall carry 500 feet of 1½-inch hose; 300 feet shall be preconnected for initial operations, and the remaining 200 feet not pre-connected.

(i) Single unit pumpers shall be provided with split hose bodies, one side of which shall be packed with not less than 600 feet of hose, 300 feet of which shall be of 2½-inch, and the last 300 feet of 3-inch, with a 2½-inch by 4½-inch connection attached thereto for use when serving as a feeder line. The other side of the hose body shall be provided with not less than 600 feet of 2½-inch hose. In every case the female coupling shall be facing out for immediate connection to the water supply.

(j) Every single unit pumper shall carry on the deck, easily available, 200 feet of 2½-inch hose with playpipe attached to the male coupling.

(k) Every single unit pumper shall carry on the deck, easily available, two 50-foot lengths of rolled 2½-inch hose for use on fires in building equipped with standpipes. Each length shall be bound with a strap to facilitate carrying.

(l) Hose clamps shall be carried on pumpers, and the officer on single unit engine companies shall immediately dispatch a man to obtain same when its use is warranted."

"Rule 28. 62. Two-Piece Unit Engine Company Operations.

(a) In every case of a fire in a building, the pumper shall connect to the nearest available hydrant, the 5-inch soft suction or 4½-inch hard suction shall be used.

(b) If a two-piece unit is the first engine company to arrive at a fire, a ¾-inch booster line of hose shall immediately operate on the fire, unless the fire is of such magnitude as to render it of no value. In the latter case, a 2½-inch line of hose or deck gun will be put into operation, depending on the volume and extent of the fire. When the initial line of hose put into operation on a building fire is ¾-inch, it shall always be backed up by a line of 2½-inch hose, and by the personnel from the same company.

(c) Hose wagons shall be provided with split bodies. Engine companies located within the high pressure area shall have one side packed with not less than 500 feet of 3-inch hose, and the other side packed with not less than 500 feet of 2½-inch hose. The female coupling of both 3-inch and 2½-inch hose shall be facing out for immediate connection to the water supply.

(d) Hose wagons of companies not located in the high pressure area shall carry a minimum of 400 feet of 2½-inch hose and 100 feet of 3-inch hose on each side of the hose body. The hose shall be so packed in the body that the first 100 feet to be taken off will be 3 inches and with the female coupling out for immediate connection to the water supply.

(e) All hose wagons shall carry on the deck, easily available, two 50-foot lengths of rolled 2½-inch hose for use on fires in buildings equipped with standpipes. Each length shall be bound with a strap to facilitate carrying.

(f) Pumpers shall carry 500 feet of 2½-inch hose packed on each side of hose body. One of these lines of hose shall be a reverse line with male coupling facing out and nozzle attached thereto.

(g) Hose clamps shall be carried on hose wagons, and the officer on two-piece engine companies shall immediately dispatch a man to obtain same when use is warranted."

Rules Applicable to Both Single Unit and Two-Piece Unit Operations.

"Rule 28.63. Pumpers shall maintain radio contact at all times while engaged in fire fighting operations."

"Rule 28.64. When any engine company runs an additional line of hose from a discharge outlet of a single unit pumper, that company shall also run a feeder line to an inlet of the pumper."

"Rule 28.65. Solid stream nozzles shall be used in every instance where large volumes of fire are showing upon arrival except where flammable liquids are involved."

"Rule 28.66. All deck guns and portable guns shall have permanently attached thereto 1½-inch solid stream nozzles as standard equipment. In all cases a minimum of two lines of hose shall be run into deck guns and portable guns in order to insure an adequate supply of water to these appliances."

"Rule 28.67. The Special Service Unit District Fire Chief shall respond to all multiple alarms in the city and act as 'Water Officer.' His duties, upon arrival and after reporting to the chief in charge, will be to check on pumpers operating to assure himself that they are performing their assigned work efficiently, also to note any deficiency in water supplies and to correct same. He shall accomplish all duties in connection with water supplies and pump operations before reporting back to the chief in charge of the fire for any additional duties, informing such chief in each case as to the condition of water supplies and pumpers."

"Rule 28.68. The Motor Squad members, upon arrival at multiple alarms, shall report to the 'Water Officer' and assist him in the work as required."

"Rule 28.69. When the 'Water Officer' chief is engaged at a multiple alarm fire, a district fire chief of an adjacent fire district shall be dispatched to subsequent fires or incidents requiring the response of a chief officer in the district where the multiple alarm fire is in progress."

The provisions of "Standardization of Hose Loads," Special Order 8, January 29, 1963, are hereby rescinded.

This order shall be incorporated as part of Company Drills daily, and all officers and personnel shall be thoroughly familiar with these procedures.

Proceedings of City Council

Monday, June 12, 1967.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 P.M., President HYNES in the chair, and all the members present.

The Right Reverend Christopher P. Griffin, chaplain of the City Council, was escorted to the rostrum.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Heavenly Father, we beseech Thee to instill in our hearts a deeper longing for peace and good will among the divided classes and embittered members of the human family. In order for us in this high public office to direct effectively the affairs of our city we must be masters of ourselves, over every insurgent impulse, every inordinate desire, and every self-indulgent habit. As colleagues, and coworkers we enter upon a new week of work challenged by tasks which demand the consecration of our noblest efforts. We firmly believe that no hope is given to us which is too high or too holy to be fulfilled by Thy divine goodness and power.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

APPROPRIATION FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 6, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

On March 27, 1967, the School Committee voted a General School Purposes budget for 1967 amounting to $56,821,947 and an Alterations and Repairs budget of $2,474,586.76 for a total of $59,296,533.76. This request represents an increase over 1966 expenditures of $9,021,993.61.

Because of my concern with the sharp rise in school costs, I felt it incumbent upon me, as Mayor, to take certain action to determine if the requested funds were, in fact, a valid assessment of the monetary needs of our school system for the year 1967. Consequently, on April 5, 1967, I appointed a five-man committee to review and make recommendations on the school budget.

A report from this committee was presented after hearings were held with members of the School Department, on May 9, 1967. The recommendations were discussed with the members of the School Committee at a subsequent meeting with me at which time arguments were presented by the School Committee in support of the original budget request.

After careful review of the committee's proposed reductions totaling $2,487,508 I felt that I should reaffirm my position of not interfering with collective bargaining negotiations. To this end I have not accepted the reduction of $266,000 in academic salaries which would, in effect, eliminate teachers from reaching maximum salaries in ten (10) years and also the $170,000 for nonacademic salaries for a total of $436,000.

I am therefore presenting herewith an appropriation order of $3,245,458 for General School Purposes above the 1967 statutory allowance of $51,524,981 which allows an overall appropriation in this account of $54,770,439 for an increase over 1966 expenditures of 12.98 percent for the same purpose. In addition, the statutory amount for Alterations and Repairs of $2,474,586.76 has been voted by the School Committee.

It should be noted that the reviewing committee recommended that a reduction in the Alterations and Repairs budget of $674,586 could be made, by vote of the School Committee, which would not impair the planned program for this department in 1967. After discussion, it was determined that $574,586 would be a more realistic reduction. I have strongly urged the School Committee to take the necessary action to realize this savings for the taxpayers of Boston.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of money specified herein be, and hereby is, appropriated for General School Purposes in addition to appropriations previously voted by the School Committee; said sum to be raised by taxation on the estates in the City of Boston; and that all orders heretofore or hereafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes, and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for, $3,245,458.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

TITLE TO CERTAIN LANDS AT CAMPUS HIGH SCHOOL

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 9, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

In 1941, as more fully appears from Suffolk Deeds, Book 5942, page 146, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston without money consideration conveyed to the City of Boston for park and playground purposes the land shown as lots 5 and 6, on H. H. Moses plan, dated May 15, 1879, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1476, page 210, also the land shown on Garbett and Wood plan, dated April 2, 1890, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1935, page 484. These lands constitute a parcel adjacent to the site of the Cabot Street Municipal Building, which much earlier had been acquired by the City of Boston through annexation of the Town of Roxbury in 1867. St. 1867, c. 359, s. 2.

All of these lands are a part of the Campus High School Urban Renewal Project area and will ultimately become part of the school site. To assure a title free of any easement in the public for park purposes legislation substantially in the form of 1967 House No. 4164 is needed. Under the Home Rule Amendment, before such legislation can be enacted, the petition therefor must first be approved by your Honorable Body. To facilitate construction of the Campus High School, I accordingly recommend immediate adoption of the accompanying order approving 1967 House No. 4164. Since your Honorable Body has already approved the Boston Redevelopment Authority's acquisition of these lands, adoption of the accompanying order is essentially nothing but a confirmation of your prior action.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the petition of Franklin Holgate to the General Court accompanied by a bill (1967 House No. 4164) for a special law authorizing the City of Boston to convey to the Boston Redevelopment Authority for urban renewal or land assembly and redevelopment project purposes the land shown as lots 5 and 6, on H. H. Moses plan, dated May 15, 1879, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1476, page 210, also the land shown on Garbett and Wood plan, dated April 2, 1890, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1935, page 484, and in addition the land with building thereon known as the Cabot Street Municipal Building, all in the Roxbury district of the City of Boston, be, and hereby is, approved, irrespective of whether said lands or any thereof is park land.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RETIREMENT OF CERTAIN ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE LICENSES

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 9, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

Currently, section 23B of chapter 138 of the General Laws permits throughout the state the reservation of certain all alcoholic beverage licenses issued for premises subsequently taken by eminent domain; and chapter 804 of the Acts of 1965 enables certain such licenses in the City of Boston to be retired while so reserved. The period of permitted reservation commences with the date of taking and expires four years thereafter. Experience has shown that to start the period with the date of taking works an economic hardship in two ways. On the one hand, the designation of an area for taking long before it is taken may result in such economic deterioration of the area as to dictate to a prudent man cessation of business prior to the actual taking; but under the existing law, if this is done, the benefits of the statutory provisions just cited are lost. On the other hand, the carrying out of a project may be protracted so that actual displacement does not occur until more than four years after the taking. Once again, hardship ensues because existing laws cease to apply.

Section 23B of chapter 138 of the General Laws can be readily amended as a general law applicable throughout the state; but under the Home Rule Amendment chapter 804 of the Acts of 1965 concerning the retirement of all alcoholic beverage licenses in Boston is a special law relating to the City of Boston which cannot be changed without prior approval of your Honorable Body. Justice, I believe, demands that the above-cited reservation and retirement provisions apply to license holders who remove their business incident either to a taking of their premises by public authority or to the designation of such premises for taking in the carrying out of an urban renewal or redevelopment plan, with the four-year reservation period running essentially from the date of removal. I also think it only fair to apply these changes to takings subsequent to January 1, 1961. Accordingly, I recommend adoption by your Honorable Body of the accompanying order approving the petition for 1967 Senate No. 506.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the petition of Patrick A. Tompkins to the General Court accompanied by a bill (1967 Senate No. 506) for a special law which, after a general section amending section 23B of chapter 138 of the General Laws so as to provide for the reservation of alcoholic beverage licenses for four years if deposited with a request for such reservation within thirty days following a removal incident to a taking of the licensed premises by public authority or to the designation of such premises for taking in the carrying out of an urban renewal or redevelopment plan, would (1) revise chapter 804 of the Acts of 1965 providing for the retirement of certain alcoholic beverage licenses in Boston to conform to such change in said section 23B and (2) give rights under said chapter 804 as revised in connection with takings subsequent to January 1, 1961, be, and the same hereby is, approved.

Referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

ACCEPTANCE OF BEQUEST BY HAZEL BERRY GLOVER

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 12, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

It is with deep gratitude that I inform your Honorable Body that Boston's Mounted Police has been honored by a legacy in the will of a public-spirited citizen. Clause (g) of Article Third of the will of Hazel Berry Glover who died on January 25, 1966 (Suffolk Probate No. 439182), gives to the City of Boston a legacy of 5 percent of her residuary estate (including an inter vivos trust over which she had a power of appointment) for the purchase, maintenance, or replacement of a horse for the mounted police as a memorial to her late grandfather Joseph F. To enable this thoughtful legacy to be received by the Collector-Treasurer and applied to the purposes for which it is given, I recommend early adoption by your Honorable Body of the accompanying order accepting this gracious bequest and establishing therewith the Joseph F. Berry Memorial Police Horse Fund with income to be added to principal and with so much of the principal as may from time to time be necessary to be used by the Police Commissioner for the purchase of a horse for the Boston Mounted Police in memory of said Joseph F. Berry and upon the retirement or death of such horse or any replacement thereof, for the purchase of a replacement for such horse.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the legacy (of 5 percent of her residuary estate) given to the City of Boston by Clause (g) of Article Third of the will of Hazel Berry Glover who died on January 25, 1966 (Suffolk Probate No. 439182), for the purchase, maintenance or replacement of a horse for the Boston Mounted Police as a memorial to her late grandfather, Joseph F. Berry, late of Quincy, Mass., be, and the same hereby is, accepted with gratitude, and, until fully depleted by user as hereinafter provided, funded as the Joseph F. Berry Memorial Police Horse Fund with all income therefrom to be added to the principal and with so much of the principal as may from time to time be necessary to be used by the Police Commissioner for the purchase of a horse for the Boston Mounted Police in memory of said Joseph F. Berry and, upon the retirement or death of such horse or any replacement thereof, for the purchase of a replacement for such horse.

Coun. PIEMONTE moved that the City Council accept the bequest, and further, that the City Clerk be, and he hereby is, directed in behalf of the City Council to express the thanks of the City Council, and to accept in behalf of the City of Boston this fine gift, and further, the editor of the "City Record," be, and he is hereby, requested to research regarding the late Joseph F. Berry and Hazel Berry Glover, and with the aid of the press assigned to this Hall insert in an issue of the "City Record" at the earliest possible convenience an appropriate story regarding this bequest of Hazel Berry Glover in memory of the late Joseph F. Berry.

The motion was carried.

The foregoing order was passed under suspension of the rules.

FINANCE COMMISSION REQUEST FOR ACTION ON HOUSE BILL 4150 RE PARKING METER SUPERVISORS

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission,
June 12, 1967.

To the Members of the City Council.

There is currently before the Committee on Legislative Matters of your Honorable Body a subject in which the Finance Commission has had a continuing interest. This is an order, the purpose of which is to request the Massachusetts Legislature to approve a bill (H. 4150) expanding the tagging powers of female parking meter supervisors ("meter maids").

As a pioneer in urging the appointment of "meter maids" to enforce regulations relating to parked cars at meters, first proposed by the Finance Commission in a report issued on November 25, 1963, and as a witness to the success that has attended their efforts in that area, the Finance Commission is anxious to extend their effectiveness to include surveillance over all standing vehicles with respect to parking regulations.

The Commission is convinced that their effectiveness will be just as great in this expanded scope, which is a natural corollary of the present authority, as it has been in the area of parking meter surveillance. A Finance Commission report of January 5, 1967, presented data on the impressive increase in meter receipts during the past one and one-half years, a development in which "meter maids" played a prominent part.

The Commission is also impressed with the possibility of utilizing regular police officers who will be relieved from tagging assignments for more demanding tasks in the area of police protection. It is clear that the City needs all possible manpower in that wide area today.

Such expansion of scope for the "meter maids" should not be attended by any dramatic increase in numbers. The Finance Commission is interested primarily in the principle of adjusting the level of personnel to the job. In this case, the job is tagging cars and does not require the comprehensive police skill, authority or salary level of a regular police officer.

Ideally, these positions should eventually be in the classified Civil Service, with the attendant assurances of standards of qualifications, eligibility, and tenure; and legislation should be sought to achieve that objective.

For the immediate present, however, the proposal to expand the scope of tagging is a first step, and that should be taken while the opportunity is at hand and the need is urgent.

The Finance Commission, therefore, respectfully recommends that the order be acted upon favorably and immediately so that action by the Legislature may be taken on House Bill 4150, which is a special law empowering parking meter supervisors in Boston to enforce regulations controlling the stopping and standing of vehicles generally rather than only at meters.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN LARKIN THOMPSON, Chairman,
ROGER J. ABIZAID, M.D.,
JOSEPH P. McNAMARA,
GEORGE E. BERKLEY,
RUSSELL S. CODMAN, JR.,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

THOMAS J. MURPHY,
Executive Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS

Coun. CRAVEN, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

Report on message of the Mayor and order (referred March 28, 1966) for lease to Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., land at Spectacle Island—recommending rejection of the order without prejudice.

The report was accepted, and the order was rejected without prejudice.

MINORITY REPORT OF COUNCILLOR GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE

The matter before us is on an order submitted to the City Council by his Honor the Mayor and which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to execute and deliver a lease of 31,500 square feet of land in Spectacle Island in Boston Harbor to Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., of 131 State street, Boston, under the terms and conditions as are set forth in proposed lease attached hereto."

Briefly the terms of the lease are as follows:

A period of five years.

One hundred fifty dollars ($150) per month. Restriction against lessee, assigning or subleasing or underletting without prior approval in writing of the commissioner.

Option to terminate lease on sixty (60) days' notice by the city if city desires to sell land or any part during the term of the lease.

The proposed lease as presented by the Mayor is attached to and made a part of this minority report.

The question to be resolved is—Is the Proposed Lease in the Best Interests of the City.

It is my opinion that the proposed lease is not in the best interest of the city for the following reasons:

The city itself may during the term of the lease wish to use the leased premises.

The proposed lease does not contain any provision for termination for this purpose.

Although the lease itself does not reveal the exact nature of the operation to be conducted by those acting under the lease, the hearing revealed that the principal operation is the burning of wood, and other demolition debris in barges that will add to Boston's already grave pollution problem.

Even if these objections were overcome, I would object to the proposed lease on the following grounds:

The disposal of refuse is such a serious and sensitive problem that safeguards should be contained in any lease so that the facilities would be available and at equal and regulated charges to any recognized disposal contractor. Failure to include these safeguards, as is the case in the proposed lease, could very well create a monopoly.

The lessee should be a responsible party. The records of the Commonwealth (Secretary of State) reveal the following:

Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., incorporated, November 13, 1951.

Dissolved, December 29, 1958, by action of Supreme Judicial Court.

Revived, August 5, 1959, Commissioner of Corporation.

Dissolved, November 18, 1964, by action of Supreme Judicial Court.

Revived, April 8, 1966, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

As of this date no certificates of conditions (required to be filed annually) are on public record.

The hearings disclosed that the Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., does not itself operate barges or take any active participation in the operation. This is all done by the Boston Marine Disposal Company, despite the fact that the provisions of the proposed lease and a one-year lease which they are operating under contains the covenant that the lease shall not be assigned, sold, or mortgaged without the prior approval in writing of the Commissioner of Public Works. The Public Works had not given any approval in writing.

Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., is not even listed in the telephone directory.

The hearings disclosed that a one-year lease was first entered into with the Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., on October 1, 1965. This was at a time when, according to the public records on file, the corporation had been dissolved. A serious question therefore arises as to its legality and wholesomeness of the entire arrangement.

The consideration is inadequate.

The lease in its present form is not in the best interest of the city.

I wish at this point to publicly compliment the chairlady of the committee for the orderly and expeditious manner of handling this as well as the other items that have appeared before us this far. There was a division of opinion in the committee, and I offer this just as my statement.

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE,
Member of the Committee on Public Lands.

This Indenture made this _____ day of _____, 1966 by and between the City of Boston, a municipal corporation duly organized and existing by law, acting through its Commissioner of Public Works, hereinafter called the Lessor (which expression shall include its successors and assigns), and the Metropolitan Trading Company, Inc., a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, of 131 State Street, Boston, acting through its President, hereinafter called the Lessee (which expression shall include its successors and assigns).

Witnesseth, that, in consideration of the rents and covenants herein reserved and contained on the part of the Lessee to be paid, performed and observed, the Lessor does hereby demise, lease and let unto the Lessee, land consisting of thirty-one thousand five hundred (31,500) square feet, more or less, on Spectacle Island in Boston Harbor, as shown on a plan, "City of Boston, Spectacle Island, Boston Harbor, dated April 3, 1950, James W. Haley, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department."

Yielding and Paying Therefor at the office of the Collector-Treasurer the rental of one hundred and fifty dollars ($150) per month payable on the first day of each month.

The Lessee covenants not to assign, sell or mortgage this lease, nor underlet or license the leased premises or any portion thereof unless with prior approval in writing from the Commissioner of Public Works.

It is mutually agreed and understood by and between the Lessor and the Lessee that in the event the Lessee shall build and erect a wharf or other facilities that at the end of the term of this lease they shall become the sole property of the Lessor and that this indenture shall be conclusive of the Lessee's sole responsibility to care for and have control and custody over the leased premises and to be liable for all torts, claims, expenses, liabilities and other costs arising from the Lessee's use, care and possession of the premises during the term of this lease.

To Have and To Hold for a period of five (5) years, beginning with the first day of _____, 1966, and terminating with the last day of _____, 1971.

In consideration of this lease and the use of the land the Lessee agrees to undertake the demolition of the shell of the buildings that are standing, clean and tidy up the wharf area of unsightly materials and to do such work as to eliminate the present unsightly conditions before the expiration of this lease.

It is mutually agreed and understood by and between the Lessor and the Lessee that, if at any time during the term of this lease, the Lessor determines to sell all or any part of the land included in this lease, and the Lessor shall so notify the Lessee in writing, this lease shall terminate sixty (60) days thereafter, without any claim for damages or loss by the Lessee and the rent only shall be adjusted.

In the event that the Lessee create a nuisance on the demised premises, or if the Lessee is directed, by public authority with jurisdiction in the premises to cease or otherwise conduct its operations, the Lessor shall so notify the Lessee to abate such nuisance or otherwise conform to such order, and if the Lessee fail to do so, then this lease shall terminate sixty days from receipt of such notice.

INVOCATION BY THE RIGHT REVEREND CHRISTOPHER P. GRIFFIN

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

In this quiet moment we bypass the din and the distractions and pray to Thee, eternal and loving Father. We turn to Thee in common prayer, common yearnings, and common aspirations. We pray for this great land of ours in these days when crisis seems chronic, save us from all self-interest and self-righteousness. Deliver us from ever sharing our melancholy mood that will add even a moment to another's depression or from any show of temper that will take the smile off another face. Set us apart here in this chamber to be builders of a better world, architects of a nobler way of life for the citizens of our city. We direct this prayer to Thee, our God, for Thou art the home of all our dreams and the answer to all our prayers.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

DISAPPROVAL OF LOAN ORDER TO REPAIR POTHoles

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 15, 1967.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, the $500,000 loan order originated by your Honorable Body and passed first on April 3, 1967, and again on June 5, 1967, and presented to me on June 13, 1967.

My objection thereto is that the stated purpose of the loan, to wit, "the repair of damage to the streets commonly described as 'pot holes,'" is not a purpose for which the City of Boston can borrow money either inside or outside the debt limit.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

On motion of Councillor Hines, the communication was laid on the table.

INCREASING PENALTY FOR OBSTRUCTING FIRE FIGHTERS

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, June 21, 1967.

To the Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to an order passed by your Honorable Body on June 5 respecting the penalty for obstructing fire fighters in the discharge of their duties, I have caused to be drafted and transmit herewith an ordinance increasing to $50 the penalty for obstructing fire fighters in the discharge of their duties or for interfering with fire apparatus. This is the greatest penalty which under the City Charter (St. 1854, c. 448, s. 35) can be imposed for the violation of an ordinance.

For the sake of clarity, it may not be inappropriate for me to add that it appears from such cases as Commonwealth v. Wolbarst, 319 Mass. 291, and Homer v. Fall River, 326 Mass. 673, that the prohibition against the obstruction of fire fighters and fire apparatus embodied in Rev. Ord. (1961) c. 29, s. 28, does not govern during the burning of a building or other property. In such case, the applicable law is G. L., c. 266, s. 12, which reads as follows:

"Whoever, during the burning of a building or other property, wilfully and maliciously cuts or removes a bell, rope, or a wire or conduit connected with a fire alarm signal system or injures or disables any fire alarm signal box or any part of such system in the vicinity of such building or property, or otherwise prevents an alarm being given, or whoever cuts, injures or destroys an engine, hose or other fire apparatus, in said vicinity, or otherwise wilfully and maliciously prevents or obstructs the extinction of a fire shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than seven years or in jail for not more than two and one half years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars."

Respectfully,

J. J. SULLIVAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-seven

An Ordinance Increasing the Penalty for Obstructing Fire Fighters in the Discharge of Their Duties and for Interfering with Fire Apparatus

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars for each offense.

PROPOSED B. U. GARAGE ON PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT PROPERTY

The following was received:

Boston Redevelopment Authority,
June 5, 1967.

Coun. Gabriel F. Piemonte,
Chairman, Executive Committee.

Dear Councillor:

Attached is a letter from Dr. Lewis Rohrbach, Director of the Boston University Medical Center, stating that the garage to be constructed on the present site of the City of Boston Public Works Department Albany Streets Yards will be tax-producing.

I hope that this clarification will clear the way for prompt Council action on the loan order for the new Public Works Department Facility.

Sincerely,

EDWARD J. LOGUE.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
June 20, 1967.

Coun. Gabriel F. Piemonte,
Chairman, Executive Committee.

Dear Councillor Piemonte:

I have received a copy of the letter dated June 5, 1967, and addressed to you by Mr. Edward J. Logue, Development Administrator, Boston Redevelopment Authority, transmitting a letter from Dr. Lewis Rohrbach, Director of the Boston University Medical Center, concerning the tax status of a garage which would be erected by Boston University on the existing Public Works Department Albany Street Yards.

I trust that the aforementioned correspondence provides the information that the Executive Committee requested from the BRA at the hearing held on the loan order for four million dollars for structures and facilities for the Public Works Department.

As you know, the existing yard and buildings are entirely inadequate for our needs, make it almost impossible to provide efficient operation and furnish deplorable working conditions for the departmental personnel.

I sincerely hope that your committee can now proceed to expedite passage of this loan order. If further information is required from Public Works, I would be pleased to furnish the same immediately upon request.

Thank you and the other members of the Executive Committee for your always kind consideration.

Very truly yours,
JOHN F. FLAHERTY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston University Medical Center,
June 2, 1967.

Dear Mr. Wylie:

Mr. Preston, following his meeting yesterday with Mr. Logue, and with you and Mr. Tercyak, indicates that you need a clarification of our understanding regarding the tax status of a garage which would be erected on the PWD yards. As you will recall, under our cooperation agreement with the BRA, the BRA undertakes to make this tract available to us.

It is our understanding that a garage erected on this site would be tax revenue producing. You will remember we discussed this from many angles in the last general meeting we had on January 25, 1967, at which eleven representatives of BRA were here to discuss with us again our general plans.

Sincerely,

LEWIS H. ROHRBAUGH, Director.

On motion of Councillor Foley, the communications were referred to the Executive Committee.

Mayor's Charity Festival Features Top TV, Radio, and Sports Stars

Top recording stars will headline the annual Mayor's Charity Festival on Tuesday evening, September 5, at 6.30 p.m., at Fenway Park, according to Parks Commissioner John J. Tierney, Jr., Festival Chairman.

Proceeds from the festival provide eyeglasses, wheelchairs, hospital beds, dentures, artificial limbs, and other aids for needy individuals through the Mayor's Office, Boston City Hospital, Deer Island, Long Island, the Boston Sanatorium, and the Welfare Department. In addition, food certificates are provided for needy citizens at Christmastime and grants are made to small Boston charitable organizations which further the interests of the Mayor's Charity Fund.

Highlight of the evening will be a softball game between the Playboy Bunnies and Radio, TV, and Sports Stars. Master of ceremonies for the gala event will be popular WHDH Radio and TV personality Jess Cain.

Spanky and Our Gang, the exciting pop music group, will present songs ranging from the Roaring 20s to western, folk rock, show tunes, and modern pop. Led by Elaine "Spanky" McFarlane, the group features such unusual effects as an electric jug and electric banana musical instruments and impressions of Stan Laurel, Walter Brennan, and Gene Autry.

The Turtles, six young men featured often on the Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour, combine a unique musical sound with exciting visual appeal. Their lightheartedness pervades their music so thoroughly that one critic noted, "Happiness, it seems, is a private affair that The Turtles have made public."

Assisting Commissioner Tierney in lining up top talent for this gala festival is Gene Perkins, general manager of Playboy of Boston.

Tickets for this bigger-than-ever festival are available at $1 for unreserved grandstand, $2 for reserved box seats, and $3 for sky view box seats at the following locations: Boston City Hall, any fire station, any police station, and Filene's in Boston.

Several door prizes, donated by local businessmen, will be awarded to lucky ticket holders. These include a Buick, a Mustang, a Camero, and a trip to Hawaii.

Weaver Sees Model Cities Program Chief Factor in Slum Solution

Robert C. Weaver, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, said on August 13, slums are where the gravest problems of this nation are concentrated and certainly the place to begin if we are to fulfill for everyone the promise of equal opportunity.

Speaking at the 51st Grand Conclave of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity at the Sheraton Boston, Mr. Weaver said the Model Cities Program offers far greater help for slums and poverty than appears on its surface.

"This is a crucial time in the development of our cities," the secretary said. "The fact that we face a crisis of violence is but a part of the matter. Beneath the surface of the riots lie sick communities where social, economic, and psychological problems have been festering for decades.

"There is talk today, as never before, of giving massive help to our people and communities ravaged by slums and poverty. Many of us have gone beyond the question of whether we must do it. We are asking now how it can be done."

"It can be done by mobilizing every resource we have . . . this is precisely what our Model Cities Program is intended to do. And that is why it is so significant.

"Slums are not the only urban problem. There are many and they touch every region and every urban dweller. Rebuilding slums, in fact, is far from all that this nation will have to do to fulfill for everyone the promise of equal opportunity. But the slums are where the greatest problems are concentrated, and certainly the place to begin."

Mr. Weaver said the Model Cities investment will involve not only the federal money spent, but that of state and local governments and the private sector as well.

He also noted that the Model Cities is in trouble in Congress, by recalling the House slashed the program's fund authorization by two thirds, from $622 million to $257 million for fiscal 1968.

The secretary said the program will act on the reality that the neighborhood's problems are human and they encompass housing, community facilities, education, employment, health, and many other factors.

"Finally, I would point out that the test before us is not only what we do in slums, or in suburbs, but in both," he said. "Similarly, we are tested as a nation today not only on what we do about the unfinished agenda at home, or about our commitments to our armies abroad, but what we do in both."

Mass. Welcomers

Mayor Collins, Governor Volpe, Ernest Henderson, Sr., chairman of the board of the Sheraton Corporation and president and general chairman of the American Legion National Convention of Massachusetts, and Edward J. Norcott, immediate past commander of the Massachusetts A. L., will welcome the American Legion delegates at their first business session. Past Commander Norcott is post participation chairman for the convention.

Mr. Magoon replaces Fire Chief John Clougherty who now heads the 1,700-member Fire Department.

On behalf of the members of the NLC Executive Committee, the Advisory Council, and the NLC staff, we would also like to take this opportunity to thank you and Mary for the wonderful Host City reception and dinner Monday evening, July 31.

All in all, the excellent and cooperative assistance given to us by everyone involved in every activity related to the Congress of Cities was the finest.

Thanks to yours and Mary's leadership, the Boston meeting was wonderful. We feel that the true flavor of Boston, with its magnificent history and its fascinating future, was captured by all of our delegates who, for the first time, were able to really see and enjoy the real Boston. This will be a meeting that will be long remembered.

Sincerely,
PATRICK HEALY,
Executive Director.

New Clinic Offers Free Medical Care for Expectant Mothers

A new clinic, offering comprehensive medical care for expectant mothers, opened on Friday, August 18, at the East Boston Relief Station, 15 Porter street, East Boston.

The clinic will open at 9 A.M. every Friday morning thereafter. It will run by appointment only; mothers may telephone 567-6800 to make appointments to be seen on any Friday morning.

There is no charge for the services offered at the clinic. A complete medical staff, including an obstetrician-gynecologist, maternity nurse, public health nurse, nutritionist, and a medical social worker will be on hand at each clinic session.

In addition, a playroom area for children has been set aside for the convenience of mothers who have to bring their toddlers with them.

The new prenatal and postnatal care clinic is made possible under the Maternal and Infant Care Program through the joint efforts of the federal government's Children's Bureau, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and the Boston Health and Hospitals Department.

"We at the Department of Health and Hospitals feel that the new satellite clinic in East Boston will offer the best in medical nursing and social care to mothers in the area," said Dr. Leon J. Taubenhau, Deputy Commissioner for Community Health Services.

"Initially there will be one clinic session per week, but the number will be increased as the demand grows. At each session 10 women will be scheduled to be seen by the obstetrician in attendance.

"At every visit," explained Dr. Taubenhau, "each patient will be examined and advised by the obstetrician. Her record will be reviewed, and routine laboratory tests will be taken, including blood type, serology, tuberculosis testing, papenicalaou smear, and complete urinalysis. Repeated tests for anemia and serology tests will be carried out at the 28th week, and indicated laboratory determinations will be carried out as needed throughout pregnancy and at the six-week post-partum visit."

Dr. Taubenhau emphasized that if any patient has special needs she will be referred to the appropriate specialty clinic; and intensified appointment schedules, additional home visits, and appropriate treatment in or out of hospital will be given where necessary.

Some time in the future the new East Boston unit will be expanded to provide comprehensive pediatric care to babies born to local mothers.

Concern about the large proportion of low-income pregnant women in Boston who were receiving little or no prenatal care resulted in the development of the Maternal and Infant Care Program, which reaches out through local satellite clinics, to Boston's low-income women and their infants to deliver high quality medical care and preventive health services during and after pregnancy. Special attention is given to the possibility of complications in mother and infant.

On a national level it has been recognized that the large numbers of low-income women who receive poor or no prenatal care have a high incidence of complications in pregnancy, and deliver prematurely two or three times as frequently as the average for the nation as a whole.

Their premature infants are especially vulnerable to brain damage, neurological disability, and mental retardation.

This danger also exists in Boston. The Maternal and Infant Care Program is working to furnish each patient continuous, nonfragmented, comprehensive maternity care.

Don't Bite the Hand

Check with your doctor right away if you suffer from a human bite that breaks the skin—even an accidental bite from a baby. Dr.

Ronald J. Mann of Miami tells of 50 serious infections caused by being bitten by another human being. Bacteria in the mouth can make a human bite as dangerous as that of a dog or snake, he says.

"Billy" Devine Memorial Golf Course Dedicated

Boston's Mayor, John F. Collins dedicated Franklin Park Golf Course on Thursday, August 17 at noon, in honor of his late Secretary and former Parks and Recreation Commissioner, William J. Devine. The golf course, one of the oldest public links in the nation, will henceforth be known as "The William J. Devine Memorial Golf Course."

Presiding at the ceremonies, to which the public was cordially invited, were several of Devine's lifelong friends, including trucking executive, John F. Gurry, General Chairman; Rt. Rev. James J. Scally, Rector of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, who delivered the invocation; Lieut. Robert F. May of the Brookline police; Boston Police Superintendent Herbert F. Mulloney, and Deputy Superintendent Warren A. Blair. Active on the committee were Parks Commissioner John J. Tierney, Jr., who delivered greetings from his division, and Arthur English, Superintendent of Parks Maintenance.

Mayor Collins delivered the principal address on the dedication program.

The late "Billy" Devine, who came from a family prominent in golfing activities, was one of Boston's most popular major officials. He was a star athlete at Jamaica Plain High School, Bridgton Academy and Boston College where he captained the B. C. Freshman football team in 1943. During World War II, Devine served in the U. S. Marines and after returning to civilian life was prominent as a tournament golfer.

Present at the ceremonies were Devine's widow, Sophia, and their two children, Andrea and William, Jr., who have returned from their home in Lauderdale, Florida for the event.

Medicaid Assistance for Eligible

Many people who are eligible for Medicaid are not availing themselves of this service. Medicaid has been a law in Massachusetts since September, 1966, but many parents do not know that their children, and possibly themselves, are eligible. Many of our elderly do not know that Medicaid can supplement their Medicare.

For the elderly, Medicaid will pay—in full—every Medical and Hospital expense not covered by Medicare, A & B:

Medicaid pays the $40 deductible for first 60 days.

The $10 deductible after the first 60 days.

Medicaid pays the $50 deductible and 20 percent deductible under Plan B.

Medicaid pays for all drugs.

In brief, Medicaid pays the whole bill for every conceivable health expense, and "All for free."

Medicaid is a Medical Payment Program financed by your taxes through federal, state, and local government. Benefits include:

Visits to doctors, dental expenses, X rays, glasses, clinic treatments, infant care, immunization, psychiatric services, prescription drugs.

Under comparatively liberal eligibility requirements based on family size, income, and health, Medicaid also assists self-supporting families, far from welfare levels of income, with their children's medical needs. It is also very important to remember that, even though one may not be eligible for total payments of their medical bills, there is a partial payment plan. For instance, this partial plan would work in the following way:

If you make $10 a month more than the amount stipulated, you pay $10 of a monthly bill and then Medicaid will pay the rest.

Thus, even if you own your own house, you may be eligible if you have severe medical bills in a given month.

WELFARE COSTS FOR JUNE

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department for June:

Total June expenditures came to $6,748,307 bringing costs for the first six months of 1967 to $37,058,656, an increase of $5,064,546 above the same period one year ago. A major factor in this increase is the advent of Medicaid. Over 2,900 applications for this program were approved during June, nearly 70 percent of total applications received. Other caseload activity found 320 applications rejected and 1,278 cases closed.

Another point is that the net income is not just after taxes. For Medicaid purposes you may deduct from your total salary all taxes, union dues, Blue Cross or Blue Shield payments, lunches, transportation to the job, compulsory retirement, dues, and work licenses, uniforms, and tools. This then further brings down the net income, making more people eligible for the program.

Applications can be accepted over the telephone or by letter—there is no need to apply in person. The Boston Welfare Department has been selected as the agency to review all applications. The number to call at the Boston Welfare Office, at 170 Hancock street, is 265-0920. (It may be busy, but keep calling!) Then when you call ask for the Medicaid Section and request that the necessary forms be sent to your home. The Medicaid Section is doing a tremendous job and will attempt to help you in any way that they can. After you receive the forms, just fill them out, and send them back; you should hear whether or not you are eligible within thirty days.

If you need any further assistance, please call Mark Atkins, at the South Boston Action Center, at 268-1822. We have, for distribution, forms which explain how much a family or an individual can make in order to be eligible for this program.

City Assumes Part of Medicare Expense

Edward W. Donovan, Director of the City of Boston Health Insurance program, has announced that many city employees, in addition to having Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage, have enrolled themselves and/or their spouses in Medicare effective July 1, 1966. The cost of part "B" of Medicare is $3 per month. The City of Boston considered this expenditure either for the employee or spouse, part of the cost of the employee's health insurance program, and as such would assume 50 percent of the cost per month. This would be refunded to the employee by applying to the Group Insurance office, Room 30A, City Hall, and completing the necessary form. Effective on January 1, 1967, this would apply also to retirees or their spouses, providing they retired after 1962, and are having deductions from their pension checks for B.C. and B.S.

Increase Due for Welfare Recipients

All welfare recipients in Boston, including those on Aid to Dependent Children, Old Age Assistance and General Welfare will receive a 3.4 percent increase in payments starting next month, it was revealed at a meeting on August 21, by the Board of Overseers of the Boston Welfare Department.

This increase did not have to be voted by the Board as it is a cost-of-living raise which is written into the law and applies state-wide. The last increase, a bit over 3 percent, was granted in March of 1966.

Since only four of the 12 members of the Board, along with Welfare Director Daniel I. Cronin and Doris L. Burke, Deputy Director, were present and did not constitute a quorum, business transacted at the meeting will be presented to the full board for ratification later.

Mr. Cronin reported to the Board on the request of the organization called Mothers for Adequate Welfare for special back-to-school clothing allowances for all ADC mothers.

He explained that he informed the group that the Welfare Department has not the authority to approve such payments except as emergency grants on an individual basis. The request would have to be considered by the state advisory board, he said, and the Legislature would have to make changes in the law, which would then apply to all communities in the state.

Can't Sleep?

One common cause of insomnia is exhaustion, simply being "too tired" at night. One remedy, says the Illinois Medical Society, is to take a nap, even for 15 minutes, in the afternoon or early evening. If you can't fall asleep during these periods, at least rest with eyes closed—and with no interference from radio or TV. Hunger may interfere with a good night's sleep, too. The society suggests a snack just before bedtime, such as a piece of hard candy or something else sweet, to help the body maintain a constant sugar level.

Nationwide Exam

Under a new statutory regulation, a continuous nationwide examination for the position of Social Worker will be held soon. All applications must be filed with Civil Service by August 21, 1967 and the blanks may be obtained from the department's Personnel Section. Unless an application to take the examination is filed by all provisional temporary Social Workers or a report forwarded to Civil Service by the department as to why any such workers are not planning to take the examination, their provisional employment must be terminated, according to a mandate received from the Civil Service Division.

IT'S IN THE CAN

Tin cans are the latest in gift packaging at one New York store. The colorful cans come in two sizes: the smaller, 4½ inches deep, is for ties, belts and jewelry; the larger 8½-inch can holds a sweater or shirt, lingerie, glass or silverware. After selecting a gift, the customer takes it to the canning counter. Once the gift is sealed in, nothing but the kitchen can opener can perform the undoing.

CITY OF BOSTON

Proceedings of City Council

Monday, July 10, 1967.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p.m., President HYNES in the chair, and all the members present.

The Reverend T. Raymond Sullivan, of St. James Roman Catholic Church, Harrison avenue, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY REVEREND T. RAYMOND SULLIVAN

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Hear us, O Lord, as we pray to Thee who seems always waiting and willing to send us the resources required for the duties of the day. At best, in normal times, public office is difficult. But in these days the struggle of elected officials to supply human needs, establish lawful civic communities of help and happiness for each other, has become a lonely, heartbreaking, and discouraging burden.

Today there is so much more talk of brotherhood and so much less of it. So much more need for respect for the life of the other man, his dignity and his destiny, and so much hatred, bitterness, and cruelty.

Give to our hands the strength to carry the burden of responsibility. Give to our hearts charity and give to our minds wisdom. With such assistance may we begin our duties. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

BOSTON'S NEW BUSINESS LURES CONSTRUCTION PROPOSALS

The Hub's hotel-motel industry is now faced with a furiously boiling pot of proposed and actual new operations for the city.

Soaring on the wings of new found convention business stemming from both the Auditorium and increased function facilities at intown hostleries, the Hub's lodging field is attracting new proposals like honey attracts flies.

Latest on the scene are proposals for a 300-400 room motor hotel downtown which might be operated by American Motor Inns of Roanoke, Virginia, a Holiday franchisee; a hotel in Copley square and a motor hotel next to the Auditorium.

In addition, Marriott Motor Hotels wants to add 118 rooms to its operation under construction at Newton's Norumbega Park, adjacent to the junction of the Massachusetts Turnpike and Route 128.

This would bring the size of the operation up to 454 rooms and would also increase function and ballroom space.

Just opened on the Southeast Expressway is a six-story, 100-room Howard Johnson motor lodge operated by Mark Hotels. The facility is the chain's 330th nationally and its first in the immediate City of Boston area.

Creating the investment interest is the city's occupancy situation which saw it produce the highest June occupancy in the nation, 83.4 percent, and the second highest national occupancy for the first six months of the year, 77.2 percent.

The latest flurry comes on top of such planned operations as a 400-room Sky Chef hotel in the Government Center, a 308-unit Holiday Inn in the Charles River Park area, the 203-room Cambridge Fenway Motor Hotel which will eventually be expanded to some 400 units and is now under construction, and a 13-story, $5 million motor hotel over the Massachusetts Turnpike at Newton Corner.

In addition, Hotel Corporation of America has already launched and topped off the first phase of a three-phase program which will see the Logan International Hotel at Logan Airport going from 217 to 600 rooms by 1972.

Waiting in the wings are proposed motor hotels for the South Station area, the waterfront, a 350-room motor hotel for the Park Square area proposed by Boston realtor Bertram A. Druker who already has the Midtown Motor Inn and the entry of Camelot Motor Lodge and Inn Corporation which this spring confirmed that it is still very interested in the Boston market.

The latest downtown motor hotel has been proposed by Francis J. Sawyer, who now owns some 30,000 square feet of space in the South

Commissioner Ott Honored

Dr. Robert F. Ott, Commissioner of Public Welfare in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, was cited for special recognition at the Massachusetts Public Welfare Conference held recently at the Belmont Hotel in Harwichport.

The citation reads in part "During the term for which he was appointed to serve in this capacity he demonstrated an administrative ability, a wide knowledge of, and dedication of purpose to, the basic and fundamental objectives of the programs administered by this department, resulting in pursuing with integrity service to the people."

Free Coffee for Turnpike Travelers

Labor Day Weekend homeward bound travelers on the Massachusetts Turnpike are invited to stop at concession plazas for free coffee from 10 p.m., Monday, to 7 a.m., Tuesday.

The invitation is extended by Chairman John T. Driscoll of the Turnpike Authority and Howard B. Johnson whose company operates the restaurant concessions on the Massachusetts Pike.

Free refreshments will be provided from 10 p.m., Monday, September 4, 1967, to 7 a.m., Tuesday, September 5, 1967.

Toll collectors will issue invitations as well as the usual toll tickets to all travelers entering the Turnpike Monday night.

Architectural Honors to Boston for Design and Plan of New City Hall

Boston, Mass.—This prudent city gambled and, to blurt right out with it, won!

Boston's new city hall, though still a year from completion, already stands audaciously revealed as a great work of architecture—most likely, along with Dulles Airport Terminal near Washington, the greatest on the American scene in a decade or two.

This, of course, is a risky statement to make in public print. But the risk is infinitesimal compared to that taken by Boston's city fathers when they ventured to entrust the design of their new city hall to a national competition and stuck with its baffling result even when it turned out that no one had ever heard of the winners.

Not since 1909, when an open competition was held for San Francisco's city hall, have the politicians of this country yielded the design of a major public building to a jury of experts.

Congress, in a fit of absentmindedness, attempted this for the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial in Washington, but hastily closed its mind when it saw the result. In the second go-around the FDR Memorial Commission reverted to the safe and usual method of selecting a distinguished architect on the basis of the popularity of his previous work.

The general result of this method is that we have more and more distinguished architects and less and less distinguished architecture.

The success of the Boston competition is in large measure due to the fact that the city knew what it wanted. It had a firm and excellent plan for the site of the new city hall prepared by Ioh Ming Pei.

Under this plan, which is now emerging, a new and lively Government Center will take the place of the old Scollay square.

Most cities are too timid to make the best of urban renewal and adjust the street pattern to new needs and contexts. Pei, encouraged by Boston's urban renewer, Edward J. Logue, seized the opportunity to give the city a strong new heart that can not only successfully compete with the misconceived Prudential Center but also serve as a fulcrum for the renewal of all of downtown.

Pei reduced 22 existing streets to six and created a marvelous, gently sloping plaza, comparable in size to St. Peter's square in Rome and framed by carefully scaled and proportioned buildings.

In contrast to St. Peter's square, there is a studied but, it seems to me, most effective informality about the plaza that is more medieval than Renaissance, more humanly appealing than institutionally impressive.

The city hall is the focus, the "keystone" of this plaza. It doesn't depend on size to command central attention. But it obviously had to be a very special building, accessible and unmistakably declaring itself for what it is.

To make sure that the competition would yield just that—and not another, more gimmicky office building merely labeled "city hall"—Pei carefully prescribed its dimensions (up to 130 feet high and some 275 feet square). To make sure that the competition would be accepted not only by the jury of outstanding architects (William Wurster, Ralph Rapson, Walter Netsch, and Pietro Belluschi) but also by the community, three leading businessmen were added to it. And to make sure the winning design would actually be executed, the construction funds were appropriated in advance.

The miracle happened. The scheme worked. The eight semifinalists who emerged from the 256 entries, some of them by well-known architects, were all relatively young and as yet obscure. The ultimate winners, Gerhard M. Kallmann, Noel Michael McKinnell and Edward F. Knowles, were design critics at Columbia University at the time. Although all three had worked in various architectural offices, none had done any building under his own name.

Yet the very least that can be said of their city hall is that in every respect, including the very basic one of simple function, it is far superior to the other largely completed buildings at Boston's Government Center which were designed under the same favorable conditions by famous brand-name architects.

But the real miracle is that the Kallmann-McKinnell-Knowles city hall provides precisely what was needed to make Boston's Government Center the greatest triumph of urban design since New York Rockefeller Center was built in the 1930s.

In the first place, its designers understood what a plaza in the city is all about. It is not a park, of which Boston has plenty. Greenery, so often artificially commandeered to hide mistakes of design, will be confined to a grove of hefty trees in one corner.

READY-MADE SCREAMS

"Screams" are on sale in Brisbane, Australia. They come in a handy plastic case resembling a flashlight and cost about four dollars. When a woman is frightened and clutches the case, it emits a spine-chilling scream—enough to scare away the most determined of attackers.

Cove renewal project and is using it as a parking lot.

Mr. Sawyer told the News that "the whole thing is just on paper and that there is an awful lot to be done yet." However, he said that within the next four years or so the motor hotel should be ready for occupancy.

As outlined, the operation would be part of a $10 million, 32-story complex. The ninth through thirtieth floors would comprise the motor hotel. The eighth floor would be the facility's lobby while the second through seventh floors would provide parking for 420 cars.

The proposed hotel in Copley square and the projected motor hotel next to the Auditorium grew out of a development plan proposed by the Back Bay Planning and Development Corporation, a community group. At the moment, details of the projected operations have not been firmed up nor has it been indicated that there are any developers ready to undertake the projects.

Marriott is now proposing an addition to its Norumbega operation because what seemed sufficient when the operation was planned five years ago does not seem sufficient today. During an alderman's hearing in Newton, J. W. Marriott, Jr., president of Marriott-Hot Shoppes said that increasing costs in almost all areas have necessitated the projected addition.

Interestingly enough Marriott officials told the News that they were originally interested in the Boston market because they foresaw the growth which has brought Boston occupancy to its present high point.

They acknowledge that due to legal difficulties in site zoning they are now two years behind schedule but hope to open within the next 14 months.

Annual Outing for Retarded Children

Hundreds of retarded children in the Greater Boston area enjoyed their annual outing at Pleasure Island, Wakefield, recently, as guests of the Management and Publicity, Inc., of Boston. The affair was sponsored by the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children (GBARC) as part of the summer recreation program. The association is currently conducting a fund drive to raise $250,000 to continue its rehabilitation and education programs for 45,000 retarded children in Greater Boston. Highlight of the annual drive will be the dinner-dance at the Sheraton-Boston on December 2.

On-the-Job Training in City Departments

Mayor Collins in a path-making decision turned the services departments of the city government into on-the-job training facilities for underdeveloped and unemployed residents currently in receipt of welfare benefits.

Daniel J. Finn has been appointed Manpower Administrator with the task of assigning applicants to city departments. Mr. Finn will assume this responsibility in addition to his role as Commissioner of Housing Inspections.

Persons accepted will receive salaries from $1.50 per hour up and will be paid from funds administered by ABCD. It is expected that these trainees will continue to receive welfare benefits decreased by a portion of their salaries.

Civil Defense Offers Timely Information

The majority of people believe that a disaster is something that happens to someone else—never to themselves or to their families.

This “delusion of personal invulnerability” to a disaster has been and can be counteracted by vigorous training or by imaginative actions or both.

The awareness of the emotional needs of people and some knowledge of methods to use in meeting these needs in a disaster will increase your ability to care for yourself and others.

Any effort you make to inform yourself and your family will be of the utmost value and importance in any disaster.

Knowledge allays unreasonable fears. Anyone can accumulate level-headed facts about what to do by taking Civil Defense courses. They are free for the asking.

Perhaps as a means to a higher end, Civil Defense should emphasize the idea of preparing for the more psychologically tolerable natural disaster (fire, hurricanes, etc.).

How many families in Chicago, marooned in their homes by blizzards, wished they had stocked up with the Civil Defense's list of survival needs while they waited for trucks to get through with food and other supplies. The Civil Defense program would have been equally valuable in Rhode Island during the hurricane of 1938 or in Worcester after the tornado of 1953.

These should be sufficient reasons for making a thoughtful householder stock a corner of his cellar with nonperishable food and water, first aid supplies, and a transistor radio. Common sense suggests that this same corner would be a good place to store a shovel, an ax, a kerosene lamp, and one's camping gear.

It wouldn't hurt, it would be a start. All of which is a round-about way of saying to all: Get with it! Your Boston Civil Defense Office stands ready and eager to help you.

The time to begin is now. There is no instant Civil Defense. Call your Civil Defense Office at HI 2 - 3020.

Important Fallout Facts

What is Radioactive Fallout?

Radioactive fallout consists of small dust particles, each of which acts like a miniature X-ray generator.

After a nuclear explosion, these dust particles are drawn high into the atmosphere and carried away by upper wind currents to drop, unheard and often unseen, hundreds of miles from the point of explosion. Radioactive rays are generated in each bit of dust.

What Is the Danger?

Radioactive rays are dangerous to human tissue, depending on the amounts absorbed.

Significant Facts

1. The greater the distance—the lesser the amount of fallout—the greater the time to implement your community and family disaster plan.
2. Radioactivity decays rapidly within the first 48 hours and then more gradually.
3. Shielding—The amounts of radioactivity received can be controlled by shielding the body from the rays emitted by the falling dust. Three feet of earth or 15 inches of concrete will provide almost complete protection.

Another Boston First

The Federal Communications Commission has approved a frequency and issued a construction permit for Northeastern University's instructional television system, N.U. President Asa S. Knowles has announced.

Two channels on the recently approved 2,500 megacycle Instructional Television Fixed Service band have been allocated, and Professor Roy J. Johnston, director of instructional television reports that color broadcasting will begin early in 1968. Thus, the university will become the first in the nation to use color transmission of instructional programs on the 2,500 MC band.

Broadcasts on the new channels will be received only by sets equipped with special antennas and converters, Professor Johnston explained. The service will be limited, initially to sets installed in selected classrooms on the N.U. Boston campus and at the university's suburban campus in Burlington.

Long range plans, according to Professor Johnston, include receivers at other Northeastern locations, such as the Warren Center in Ashland, Mass., and its conference center in Weston, Mass., as well as special installations at hospitals, industrial plants and other educational institutions within a 25-mile radius of the Boston campus.

The color broadcasts will consist of films, slides and prerecorded videotapes, while live broadcasting will be in black and white until color cameras are purchased and installed, he added.

Scheduled to operate on a 13-hour per day schedule Mondays through Saturdays, the station, carrying the call letters UYP-23, will broadcast live and videotaped lectures by Northeastern faculty members. Original broadcasts may, in turn, be recorded at the remote reception points for use at convenient class times where necessary or desirable.

“Given our new production and transmission capabilities,” said Professor Johnston, “our faculty can gain both a larger audience and more time to spend in individual instruction."

"In addition," he continued, "there will be close cooperation between the TV system and our Division of Programmed Instruction, and there will be many opportunities for our materials to supplement theirs, and vice versa."

"For example, by inserting certain audio signals in our transmission we can activate automated teaching equipment at remote locations, thus tying together formal classroom-type lectures with programmed materials which have already proven to be valuable tools for student involvement and comprehension," he concludes.

Some 80 percent of the station's programming will consist of films and lectures, while the remaining program time will be devoted to inservice instruction and seminar-type presentations.

N.U. is currently completing the installation of equipment in two studios, a projection room and a large control room in the basement of Robinson Hall, one of the newer buildings on the Boston campus.

Mayor's "Golden Age" Club Picnic Best Ever

More than 1,500 ladies and gentlemen, 65 years of age and over, attended the annual picnic of the "Golden Age" Club at Castle Island, South Boston, Wednesday, August 23, from 12 noon to 3 P.M.

Mayor John F. Collins, John J. Tierney, Parks and Recreation Commissioner, and Acting Director Robert F. Cusick, headed the committee.

The day was perfect with a 70-degree temperature, and a delightful breeze from the ocean, air-conditioned the island.

There was music, dancing, entertainment, and plenty of free refreshments for all. This most successful of all picnics for our senior citizens will long be remembered.

What We Can Do

Remain in a fallout shelter as long as necessary, dependent on the intensity of the radioactivity in your area. Remember you will be advised over the Emergency Broadcasting System when it is safe to come out and for how long.

If you do not have a specially designed shelter, remain in your basement.

Above all, do not remain out of doors until advised to do so.

Hurricane and Tornado Safety Precautions

1. Hurricanes are always accompanied by gale winds, torrential rains, and flying debris. Board up, put on storm shutters, tape or otherwise protect windows.

2. Keep your radio or television on and listen for the latest Weather Bureau warnings and advisories.

3. Get in extra food, especially items which can be eaten without cooking or with very little preparation. Remember that electric power may be lost.

4. Sterilize jugs, bottles, cooking utensils and fill with drinking water, as municipal water service may be interrupted.

5. Have flashlight and/or other emergency lights in working order and keep them immediately available.

6. Don't touch loose or dangling wires. Report such damage to the light and power company, or to the nearest police officer.

7. Report broken sewer or water mains to the Water Department.

8. Unless you are qualified to render valuable emergency assistance, stay away from disaster areas where you may hamper first aid or rescue work.

9. Be alert to prevent fires. Lowered water pressure makes fire fighting difficult after storms.

Know and Heed Your Civil Defense Warning Signal

There will be only one signal sounded on our Warning System (sirens). A 3-5 minute wavering sound.

Suggested Emergency Food

Drinking water in bottles and jars, packed to avoid breakage. Store at least seven gallons for each member of the family. Remember that fruits and vegetables packed in water will also give extra liquid for emergency drinking purposes. Another source is your Hot Water Heater which will supply 30-60 gallons of water depending upon the size of the tank. Drink only water or other liquids that you know are safe.

Fruits and juices	Milk	Baby food
Vegetables	Instantaneous drinks	Raisins and chocolate
Soups	Canned meat and fish	Packaged cereals

Emergency Medical Supplies

The same as you have in your medicine cabinet under normal routine conditions.

Iodine	Petroleum jelly	Aspirin
Band aids	Bandages	Alcohol and whatever else you may feel is necessary.

CENTAUM

Dr. Andrew P. Sackett, Commissioner of Health and Hospitals, has announced that the Committee on Educational Needs of Teen-Age Unwed Mothers (CENTAUM) may open with expanded facilities and staff this fall. "At least 400 girls in Boston could benefit annually," he said.

This year, one hundred and sixty girls were aided by the program. Thirty-four of the girls received high school or junior high diplomas through CENTAUM.

D. H. Goldberg Joins BCH Staff

Donald H. Goldberg has been appointed Assistant Deputy Commissioner for Hospital Services, Department of Health and Hospitals, Dr. Leon R. Lezer, Deputy Commissioner for Hospital Services, announced on August 7.

Mr. Goldberg, 33, will have general administrative responsibility throughout the Hospital Services Division, as well as conducting studies in special areas.

Dr. Lezer, welcoming "the valuable addition of Mr. Goldberg's qualifications and skills to the administrative picture of the Division of Hospital Services," said his appointment is also "significant testimony to recognition on the part of the Commissioner and Trustees that only adequate administrative forces can cope with the complexity of efficient delivery of hospital services."

Before coming to his new position, Mr. Goldberg was a resident in Hospital Administration at the Beth Israel Hospital in Boston for one year. His experience there included the organization and administration of in-patient and out-patient care.

A graduate of Harvard University, he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1956, majoring in Government.

After military service he attended the University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry for graduate training in the basic medical sciences and dentistry (1959-1962).

He holds a Master of Science Degree (1967) from the University of Pittsburgh Graduate School of Public Health's Program in Medical Care and Hospital Administration.

Mr. Goldberg's previous work experience, prior to 1965, includes working for the pharmaceutical industry in marketing research, as a professional sales representative, and in public health campaigns.

He is a member of the American Hospital Association, American Public Health Association, and a student member of the American College of Hospital Administrators. Mr. Goldberg and his wife live in Brookline, Mass.

CENTAUM Director to Review '68 Program

Mrs. Julia Stern, Director of the CENTAUM (Committee on Educational Needs of Teen-Age Unwed Mothers) program, met recently with Dr. Andrew P. Sackett, Commissioner of Health and Hospitals, and members of his staff to review the program and the 1968 budget. They also discussed plans for the coming school year which begins in September.

The program provides medical, social, and educational help for teen-age unwed mothers.

Speaking of the past school year, Dr. Sackett said, "The program gave service to 160 girls, or, more than double the number served in the preceding year. Nevertheless, the total need is far from being met.

"It is estimated," continued Dr. Sackett, "that at least 400 girls in Boston, in a year, could benefit from the CENTAUM program. The goal, therefore, is to expand facilities and personnel to make capability relate more closely to the need."

The Commissioner also announced that a meeting with Mr. William Ohrenberger, Superintendent of Schools, and key members of his staff is planned for the near future. "In the meantime," Dr. Sackett said, "all indications are that the School Department is supportive of the program."

Concluding, Dr. Sackett said, "I wish to stress the importance of getting the message to all referring agencies that the program will be in operation and available. Therefore, all eligible candidates should be referred to the program."

For further information, Mrs. Stern, Director of the Program, may be contacted at the Hyde Park Health Unit, 26 Central avenue, Hyde Park. Telephone: 361-8149.

New East Boston Project Proposed

A new restaurant and floating cocktail lounge complex may be going up on the waterfront in East Boston, if the Boston Board of Appeals okays a zoning variance for the undertaking.

The Boston Redevelopment Authority has recommended the variance, being sought by Alfred Johnston Associates, the firm which two years ago built the "Philadelphia 1700" complex on the Delaware River.

The East Boston project, to be known as "Boston 1800," will be similar in design, featuring a moored replica of an 1851 three-masted clipper-ship as a cocktail lounge. NO. 36

Factors Beyond City's Control Force $117.80 Boston Tax Rate

Mayor John F. Collins on August 31 announced the 1967 tax rate will be $117.80. Last year's rate was $101.

"This year's increase," the Mayor said, "is substantial and unavoidable. However, in many instances the increase is caused by factors which, under our laws, are not within the control of the Mayor of Boston.

"Despite spiraling costs, Boston has been more successful in holding down its tax rate for the last eight years than the cities surrounding it or any other major city in America."

"The new tax rate," Mayor Collins said, "is the result of increased welfare costs, increased school costs, increased transportation costs, and equitable salary increases as a result of collective bargaining, together with other inflationary pressures.

"Although the tax rate is up, it would have gone much higher if this administration had not concentrated on a continuing and coordinated effort to overcome staggering difficulties.

Factors Beyond Control

"With the enactment of the sales tax, the state promised to relieve Boston of the burden of welfare expenses. The state has not yet done so. If it had, the taxpayers of Boston could have saved approximately $17 million this year, or almost $12 on the tax rate.

"The new rate represents the careful municipal fiscal practices which I believe are a reflection of our stewardship. Nevertheless, despite a day-to-day dedication to hold the cost of government down, there have been a number of factors which caused this substantial increase.

"In 1959 when the tax rate was $101.20," Mayor Collins said, "the total cost of city government in Boston was $195,605,684.

"In 1967 costs will total $292,-154,115.

"By way of comparison, in 1959 welfare and veterans costs to the city totaled $27.6 million. Today the cost of these items is $49 million. These are primarily federal and state programs."

"In 1959 the cost of operating the city schools was $34.2 million. Today school costs total $58.1 million.

"Eight years ago Boston's cost for the operation of Suffolk County was $8.1 million. Today, it's over $12 million.

"In the corresponding period pensions to city employees went from $10.7 million to $18 million."

The above items all are beyond the control of the mayor.

The cost of operating the Police and Fire Departments went from $33.8 million to $44 million.

In 1959 the cost of operating the Health and Hospitals Department was $22.5 million. Today these costs total over $34 million.

50 Years of Progress

A 50-year comparison of epidemic diseases in Massachusetts, prepared by the State Department of Public Health, reveals the following:

Measles, 1917, 30,000 cases, 532 deaths; 1966, 835 cases, no deaths.

Polio, 1917, 1,927 cases, 452 deaths; last 3 years, no polio.

Typhoid Fever, 1917, 1,546 cases, 178 deaths; 1966, 165 cases, no deaths.

Pulmonary TB, 1917, 8,365 cases, 4,559 deaths; 1966, 9 cases, no deaths.

Registry Offices

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin on September 5 announced that eight selected offices of the Registry of Motor Vehicles would resume the Saturday morning opening effective September 9.

In addition to the Boston office, counter service will be available in the Brockton, Lowell, Lynn, New Bedford, Pittsfield, Springfield, and Worcester offices from 9 to noon.

"We are pleased to again offer this service as a public convenience which has, in the past, made it possible for motorists to transact Registry business on Saturday rather than on a regular work day," said the Registrar.

NYC Opportunities

Boston's Neighborhood Youth Corps has openings immediately available for young persons 16 to 22 years of age.

To be eligible for the program, the youth must be a school dropout who has been away from school at least three months. The income criteria for the program is:—for a one-person family, $1,600 a year; two-person family, $2,000; three-person family, $2,500, four-person family, $3,200, and a five-person family, $3,800, etc. However, if the youth is a member of a family receiving welfare assistance they are automatically eligible.

NYC enrollees are paid $1.30 or $1.40 an hour and participate in a work experience program which helps to adjust and equip them for future private employment. Also, while training, their academic standards are developed through a remedial education component which is built into the program.

For further information please contact Mr. Jerry Locchi at the Neighborhood Youth Corps Division of the ABCD, 18 Tremont street, telephone 742-5600, extension 549.

Tax Rate . . .

Salary Increases

During this year there have been increases in salaries and fringe benefits for the employees of the City of Boston and likewise expanded public services provided the residents of our city. For the cost of those programs I am most certainly accountable. The need for salary increases and the expansion of public services was justified and all must recognize that the expenditure of tax dollars is required to meet such need.

By working hand and hand your administration and its employees who serve you have held the tax line within reason. If we had not, Boston's tax rate today would be prohibitive.

The new tax rate represents an increase of 16.4 percent over that of 1959 compared with an average increase of 38 percent for 13 other cities in the Greater Boston area whose tax rates already have been announced.

From 1959 to 1967 Boston's tax rate has increased 16.4 percent, Cambridge by 27 percent, Chelsea, 31 percent, Everett, 21 percent, Lynn, 40 percent, Malden, 28 percent, Medford, 57 percent, Melrose, 56 percent, Newton, 39 percent, Quincy, 26 percent, Revere, 20 percent, Somerville, 52 percent, Waltham, 49 percent.

By way of hopeful indications for the future, it should be noted that since 1963 there has been a steady increase in the city's real estate tax base reversing a downward trend which from 1930 to 1963 eroded over $500,000,000 from the city's tax base. The increase from 1963 to date has amounted to more than 85 million dollars.

Obviously, investors recognize the fiscal prudence of this administration and realize the long-term prospects for future growth. The number of new jobs and other indirect benefits to homeowners and rent payers are or should be, obvious to all.

Emergency Loans

The Economic Development Division of ABCD has received a $200,000 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity to provide Family Emergency loans of up to $300 to persons who do not have the financial resources to meet immediate and urgent needs because of some damage or loss which was caused by the recent Roxbury disturbances.

The loans, repayable within a 22-month period, are offered at a modest 2 percent simple annual interest. No collateral is needed.

The income requirement is that a family of four must earn less than $3,750 a year or for the last month or more since the disturbance must have a rate of earnings below this figure.
